

Red, White and Blue Fashions Are Out—But Patriotism Stays

Taps are sounding on the fashion field for red, white and blue insignias and other do-dads affecting a military appearance.

Fashion experts predict a military funeral for tiny eagles, gold stars and brass buttons, followed by the birth of subtle covert twills, army khakis and navy blues. These more subtle military additions to college women's wardrobes will carry the patriotic influence through the fall.

College women's clothes, the last word in style, will emphasize plaids again this year and basic silk or crepe de chine dresses. The masculinity of last season, characterized by army and navy accessories, will be absent.

For coeds who would appear smart, there is the Home Economics Clinic, composed of dress experts to straighten out clothing problems.

These experts suggest glamorizing hair-dos and becoming make-up and color combinations for the would-be glamor girl. All women are urged to take clothing problems to the Clinic.

Senate Suggests 10 Coeds For Hall Presidencies

HEADS ELECTIONS—Margaret K. Sherman '43, above, WSGA vice-president, is in charge of WSGA hall elections.

Additional Nominations May Be Made Monday

Ten nominations for hall presidents of upperclass women's dormitories were made by WSGA Senate Wednesday night, according to Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA vice-president, in charge of elections. Coeds may nominate additional women in house meetings at 10 p. m. Monday.

A 1.5 scholastic average is required of all presidential nominees and a 1.2 for other offices.

Names were suggested for each Atherton Hall unit and Grange Dormitory. Nominations for other offices will also be conducted in Monday house meetings. Elections in town dormitories will be next week.

Women nominated include Reba M. Hough '42, and Geraldine A. Custer '43, northeast Atherton; Esther M. Hall '43, and Virginia F. Reilly '43, southeast Atherton; Marjorie A. Kronich '42, Helen P. Broderick '44, northwest Atherton; I. Jacqueline Shafer '43, southwest Atherton; Dorothy L. Jones '44, Grange; Jean Babcock '42, Wylie dormitory; E. (Continued from Page One) the ride, or a beating—but to win. As for talking, we plan to do all of it on the gridiron on Saturday."

Gerald F. Doherty '42, All-College President, introduced President Hetzel, Higgins, and other student leaders. Dan DeMarino, assistant football coach, also spoke.

After the bonfire had died down, the Blue Band, followed by the 5,000 students, marched down Shortlidge road, College ave., Frazier st., Beaver ave., and Allen st., where they stopped at Co-op corner, sang the Alma Mater, and dispersed.

The pep rally was sponsored by campus hat societies, with Charles F. Mattern '42, as chairman. Other committee members were Doherty, Finn, William Murphy '43, William O. Meyers '42, George Pittinger '44, Ross B. Lehman '42, Elden T. Shaut '42 and Harold L. Zimmerman '44.

WRA Co-Rec-Day Boasts 5 Sports

We, The Women So All Coeds May Become Acquainted

Another opportunity for fraternity women, freshman and transfer coeds to become better acquainted comes with Panhel's annual coffee hour tonight.

During the past two weeks of free association many have already gotten to know one another, but it has been impossible for both new and old college generations to meet every one they have wanted to.

Supplementing these are pop-in nights when both non-Greek and fraternity women may meet all '45 coeds.

Necessity of such get-togethers and the advisability of taking advantage of all opportunities is apparent. They are the only ways in which these women meet in social groups. Otherwise their associations, in many instances, would be purely on class or business basis. Individual invitations are not issued to any of these affairs. General announcements are made to include all coeds. It is wise to take advantage of them.

Churches To Receive

Student receptions which freshman women may attend, will be sponsored by local churches from 8 to 10 o'clock tonight. They include University Baptist, St. Andrew's Episcopal, Faith Evangelical and Reformed, Friends Meeting, Grace Lutheran, St. Paul's Methodist, and Presbyterian.

Weiner Roast Planned

All women hockey players are invited to a WRA-sponsored weiner roast on Jordan Fertility Plots at 5:30 p. m. Monday, announced Pauline Crossman '43, chairman.
