

Frosh Nominate 10 For WSGA, WRA

Five women were nominated for WSGA sophomore senator, and five for representative to WRA Board when 200 freshman women assembled in 110 Home Economics building last night. Elections will be next week.

Candidates were nominated from the floor and their qualifications given. Dorothy L. Jones '44, WSGA senator, presided over WSGA Senate nominations; Grace E. Judge '44, over WRA nominations. Ruth L. Zang, assistant to the dean of women, stressed the importance of selecting outstanding women to fill the positions.

Those nominated for senator include Barnesley Brown, Ruth Embury, Patricia Diener, Murrel Rewbridge, and Christine Yoke.

WRA Board nominees are Elizabeth Devling, Elizabeth Furst, Leah Learner, Julia McFarland, and Katherine Wright.

Nomination of a freshman representative to WRA Board was inaugurated at the meeting. In previous years only WSGA nominations were carried on, but the growing need for a freshman to act as a medium between her class and WRA Board, merited Board nominations.

Camera Club To Hold First Meeting Tomorrow

The Penn State Camera Club will hold its first meeting of the year in 405 Old Main at 7 o'clock tomorrow night, William T. Clark '42, vice-president, announced last night.

A lecture on photographic portraiture will be given by Robert Brian, of the College photography staff. It is the desire of the club to hold a series of these lectures on various subjects from the basic fundamentals to the more advanced subjects such as color photography.

The Camera Club invites anyone, students, townspeople, or faculty members, to attend the meetings, Clark said.

AAUW Head Speaks

Mrs. C. D. Chaplin, president of the Pennsylvania American Association of University Women, was the main speaker at the Neighborhood Conference held Saturday at the Fort Stanwix Hotel, Johnstown. Her topic was "The Division, the Branches, and the World of National Defense." Other State College representatives were Mrs. A. W. Gauger and Mrs. C. O. Cromer, local president.

WOMEN IN SPORTS

Frosh Win Again!

For the first time in intramural hockey history, upperclass women are worried about the strength of freshman stickwomen. Not content with defeating juniors, 1-0, Monday, freshmen beat sophomores, 3-2, yesterday.

P. Alloe and C. Spangler scored for the sophs, and V. Elder and P. Gregory for frosh in the first half, A. Radle clinched the game by scoring at the beginning of second half.

"White Hall in Action" is the theme of the third annual open house for students, faculty members and townspeople planned for 7 to 10 p. m. October 15. Demonstration of activities, and a tour of the building and club exhibits will be directed by Ann T. Drivas '43 and Patricia MacKinney '43, co-chairmen.

Non-swimmers and novices are urged by Mary V. Devling '43, Swimming Club president, to sign in Miss Haidt's office before Saturday noon for the club's "Learn-To-Swim" campaign which will start Monday and continue for two weeks. Coeds must designate which five of the following weekly meetings they will attend: Monday, 7:30 to 9 p. m.; Tuesday, 4 to 5 p. m., and 7:30 to 9 p. m.; Wednesday, 4 to 5 p. m. and 7:30 to 9 p. m.; Friday, 4 to 5 p. m.; and Saturday, 10 to 11 a. m. and 11 a. m. to 12 noon.

Women Candidates For Varsity Debate To Hold Organization Meeting

An organization meeting for sophomore and junior women interested in intercollegiate debate, will be held in 103 Home Economics Building at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

A meeting for prospective freshman debaters in the same room at 7 p. m. next Wednesday also has been announced by Clayton H. Schug, varsity debate coach.

Sara M. Bailey '43, women's debate manager, is conducting negotiations for radio debates with Swarthmore men and University of Pittsburgh women.

Invitations to debate tournaments in Westminster, Grove City, and Shippensburg have been received. In addition, between 35 to 40 intercollegiate debates are being planned.

Forensic Council awards for participation in at least four intercollegiate debates were given last year to Mary I. Greenburg, Lois J. Hunter, Sara R. Lipser, Lois E. Notovitz, Hilma R. Eisen and R. Helen Gordon, all seniors. Juniors Sara M. Bailey and Ruth L. Kiesling also received keys.

We, The Women

Poor Frosh, We're At Them Again

Where, oh where were the verdant freshmen

1. At the Panhel coffee hour Friday night?
2. At the last mass meeting?

It is commonly believed that the blase fad has expired. According to reports from senior sponsors, freshmen seem to think it is still popular.

You have been here almost three weeks. During two of these, upperclass women as well as faculty members, have been observing you. Frankly, they are not overjoyed by their first impressions.

We hope a word to the wise will take its general course.

P. S. Club Meets

Football movies will be the feature of the Penn State Club meeting scheduled in the Home Economics Auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight according to Arthur F. Peskoe '42, president. The executive committee will meet in the club rooms at 7:15 p. m. today.

CA Forum Groups To Elect Heads

One hundred and twenty freshman women have signed up for six PSCA forum committees. Members of the sophomore advisory group arranged last Saturday for committee organization.

Sophomore women will supervise election of committee chairmen and secretaries at meetings in 304 Old Main. Tentative schedules for meetings of sophomore advisers include: project, 4:15 o'clock today, Dora E. Colver, Betty L. Schaeffer and Alberta M. Spudis; publicity, 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, F. Doris Stevenson and Phyllis R. Watkins; social, 4:15 p. m. Thursday, Kathryn R. Brong and Joan V. Somers; program, 6:30 p. m. Monday, Ann Sheffield and Jean E. Stover; music, time undecided, Dorothy J. Jennings and Patricia A. Middleton. The worship committee met yesterday.

Each group will plan picnic suppers to be held at the PSCA cabin next week.

Mortar Board Plans Vocational Conferences

To present vocational pointers to interested coeds, Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, is planning a spring vocational guidance conference.

Outside speakers experienced in special vocations will be invited to speak, announced Alice M. Murray '42, president.

Two years ago Miss Genevieve E. Poole, dean of women and head of personnel department of Lock Haven State Teachers College, spoke on "Choosing A Vocation With A Purpose." Other subjects were physical education, home economics and education.

Sloan Officials Inspect Ed School Research

Harold S. Sloan, director of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, and Harold F. Clark, professor of education at Columbia University, will visit the campus tonight and tomorrow morning.

They will inspect the results of a study by the School of Education to determine whether teaching students how to purchase clothing has any effect on the parents' buying habits. The School of Education received a $5,000 grant from the Sloan Foundation for this work.

Students may attend a movie tonight in 119 New Physics on a similar study made in Kentucky on nutrition.
