

Council Reverses Veto; Approves New Bus Stops

Four locations for downtown State College bus stops and a loading zone were approved at a special meeting last night, when by a five to one vote, Borough Council overrode Burgess Wilbur F. Leitzell's veto of this ordinance, previously passed by the Council September 15.

Two of the newly approved terminals are slated for the north and south sides of E. College ave. directly in back of Francis Atherton Hall. The southwest side of Co-op corner has been sanctioned as location for both a bus stop and a loading zone. The fourth terminal site is located on the north side of College ave., at Frazier st.

Councilman H. L. Stuart moved for reconsideration and adoption of the vetoed bus stop ordinance which was then passed five to one with Councilman O. W. Houltz polling the only dissenting vote. Council President Russel E. Clark was not present at the meeting, at which Councilman Leonard A. Doggett presided.

In his veto message Leitzell had not disapproved of the loading zone provision, but stated that the bus stop sections of the ordinance were inconsistent with his previous stand on the subject that bus stops on College ave. were too great a hindrance to traffic.

The new terminal sites will be officially ready for use after a ten day period for advertising the new ordinance.

Late News

HANKOW — Neutral sources here reported that Chinese troops are driving the Japanese back in this city from important points in the outer defenses.

BERLIN—In the face of their new offensive, the Germans claim that the war with Russia has already been won. They report that despite fierce resistance by both civilians and the regular army, the Nazi troops are advancing on all fronts.

BUENOS AIRES — Authorities here announced that the reciprocal trade treaty between the United States and Argentina recently drawn up will be signed October 14. This treaty provides for a reduction of tariffs on important defense materials.

NORFOLK—The Navy Department announced tonight that the new aircraft carrier, the Hornet, will be ready for service next week.

PANAMA—United States authorities recognize Ricardo Adolpho de Laugudia as the legal ruler of Panama. De Laugudia was recently placed in this office as a result of a bloodless revolution.

Labor Conference Meets Here Nov. 1

High ranking officials of the U. S. Department of Labor, the A. F. of L., and the CIO, will meet at the College November 1 and 2 for a conference dealing with labor problems and the national defense.

Prominent representatives of labor, industry, and the government will discuss "adjusting industrial disputes under defense conditions."

No 'Collegian' Tickets To Be Sold At Door

Daily Collegian dance passes issued with subscriptions to the paper are needed to gain admission to the Collegian Dance after the pep rally tonight, James E. McCaughey '42, business manager, announced last night. No tickets will be sold at the door.

The dance will be held in Rec Hall from 9 p. m. until 12 midnight with the music supplied by Jimmy McAdam's Campus Owls. One couple will be admitted for each dance stub.

Freshman men students are granted exemptions from customs while attending the first All-College dance of the year. Coeds have been granted one o'clocks by WSCA.

Igler To Explain '45 Campus Life

When the first annual independent freshman men's banquet is held at the Nittany Lion Inn at 5:45 p. m. Sunday, non-fraternity men will have their position in campus life explained to them by Dr. Frederick Igler, secretary of the University of Pennsylvania Christian Association.

Arthur Peskoe '42, Penn State Club president; A. John Currier '42, PSCA co-president; William T. Shaut, IMA president; and Dan A. DeMarino, assistant freshman football coach, will also speak.

Gerald F. Doherty '42, All-College president, will act as toastmaster while Chaplain John H. Frizzell, head of the department of public speaking, will offer the invocation.

Honor guests will include President Ralph D. Hetzel; A. R. Warnock, dean of men; Russell E. Clark, bursar; Harry P. Seamans, PSCA secretary; John W. Dague '42, head cheerleader; and Ross B. Lehman '42, editor of The Daily Collegian.

R. Tracy Eddinger '42, is in charge of the entertainment. James McAdam '42, will lead the singing and render several piano selections.

Tickets to the affair may be purchased at Student Union until noon today, Peskoe, chairman of the ticket committee, announced last night.

Police Catch Nine In Town Speed Trap

A speed trap on State College streets has caused seven motorists to be apprehended for speeding and two others for improper passing, Police Chief John R. Juba, reported yesterday.

Further traps will be carried on as conditions warrant, Chief Juba said.

Lingnan Students Continue Work Despite War Worries, Says Groff

Lingnan campus may be deserted but Lingnan students continue academic life despite the rigors imposed by the invasion of their homeland, Professor G. W. "Daddy" Groff '07, Penn State's representative of good-will in China, asserted yesterday.

"China is very much awake to the necessity of a democratic form of world order," he declared. "The Chinese-American Foundation for Lingnan University here in the United States is trying to promote that action by urging Western educational promotion."

At present there are no facilities to take care of American students

Students Named For CPT Course

Ten students, who successfully completed the physical requirements yesterday, have been selected to take the College-sponsored Civilian Pilot Training course this semester, Co-ordinator R. O. Wickersham, professor of aeronautical engineering, revealed last night.

Two auditors were also named to replace any trainees who are disqualified. Students accepted Lyle A. Baker '42, John W. Cole '43, Robert L. Galley '44, Jay S. Hammond '44, John I. Hoffer '42; Leo J. Horvath '44, William S. Ivans Jr. '43, Herbert C. Jennings '43, John L. Kierman '43, and William C. Serjak '44.

Frank R. Dawson '44 and Joseph Edelstein '43 were named as the two auditors. In case the disqualification occurs among flight trainees, the auditor will not begin training until the course is repeated.

The course consists of 35 hours of flight training at the State College Air Depot, and 72 hours of ground school, which will be given on the campus. Those who complete the course will receive a private pilot's license, which allows the bearer to carry passengers and fly any place in the United States.

PS Club To Sponsor Informal Social Affair

An informal dance for Penn State Club members will be held in the Old Main clubroom from 9 p. m. to midnight tomorrow, Arthur Peskoe '42, club president, announced last night.

At Wednesday's meeting, plans were completed for a dorm dance for club members to be held at the Women's Building October 18. Club members wishing to attend will sign up at the clubroom.

Irving Kochel '45 was elected club historian at the meeting, and officers were introduced to the new members. Business discussion consisted of intramural sports, and moving pictures of the Colgate-Penn State game and last year's Temple game were shown.

Davis To Attend Confab In Atlantic City

Prof. Arthur F. Davis, of the School of Physical Education, will attend the National Public Health convention in Atlantic City next week, at which problems of national defense will be discussed.

Friday, October 17, Mr. Davis will lecture to the health section of the Dauphin County Teachers Institute to be held in Harrisburg.

Council To Meet

Chem-Physics Student Council will meet in 318 Old Main at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Robert B. Jeffrey '42, president of the council, announced yesterday.

Alumni Weekend Begins; Rally In Rec Hall Tonight

Higgins To Speak In Behalf Of Team

Five thousand students and alumni are expected to mass in Rec Hall at 8 o'clock tonight to rally Penn State's football enthusiasm into shape for tomorrow's grid opener with the Bucknell Bison.

Coach Bob Higgins, Captain Len Krouse, and William F. Finn '42, manager, will speak in behalf of the Lion squad, which will not be present due to previous training plans. Antics by the Nittany Lion and selections by the Blue Band will also highlight the one-hour program.

Gerald F. Doherty '42, All-College president and master of ceremonies, will introduce the following speakers: Earl E. Hewitt, president of the Alumni Association; William Hollenbach, Lion grid coach in 1912; and Eugene E. Miller '14, and James L. Mauthe '13, both members of the 1911 and 1912 football squads, which are holding reunions this weekend.

Compulsory attendance at the rally is required of all freshmen, according to Raymond F. Leffler '42, chairman of Student Tribunal. However, customs will be lifted for all freshman men who attend the Daily Collegian dance in Rec Hall immediately following the rally.

The rally is sponsored by the Athletic Association, the Alumni Association, and student government groups. The general committee includes: Edward K. Hibsman, secretary of the Alumni Association; George L. Donovan, manager of Student Union; Doherty and James W. Ritter '42, AA president.

Cups To Be Given For Lawn Displays

Two cups, given jointly by the Interfraternity Council and the Alumni Association, will be given to the fraternity and sorority having the best lawn display over Alumni weekend, Thomas J. L. Henson, president of IFC, announced yesterday.

The displays will be judged by a secret three-man committee from 5 p. m. Friday until noon Saturday. The bronze cups will be awarded on basis of general effectiveness and originality. Fraternities and sororities are asked to keep their lawn decorations intact until the judging has been completed.

The cups will be on display at the alumni registration desk in Old Main throughout the weekend. The winners will be announced in Tuesday's Collegian.

Alpha Sigma Phi and Gamma Phi Beta won the trophies last year in the annual contest with Kappa Sigma and Delta Gamma runners-up.

Second Froth Makes Appearance On Campus

Penn State's hinderance to the national drive for the conservation of paper, namely, the new issue of Froth, made its appearance on campus last night.

Features of the annual Alumni Weekend issue are a fraternity guide for pledges and a two-page spread of campus shots.

The usual line of jokes, stories, and cartoons may be purchased at the Froth desk at Co-op corner or at Student Union for 15 cents.

Grads Register Today, Tomorrow In Old Main

The football season's first "big weekend" hits the campus today with an invasion of alumni, back to celebrate their 21st Homecoming celebration with a round of dinners, meeting, rallies, and athletic events.

Today's schedule begins with all-day alumni registrations in the first-floor lounge of Old Main. The annual Varsity Club dinner will be held at the Centre Hills Country Club at 6:30 p. m., at which time the football team of 1911-12 will be honored. Bill Hollenbach, who coached the team, will speak.

A huge student-alumni mass meeting and pre-Bucknell game pep rally in Rec Hall at 8 o'clock tonight precedes the Daily Collegian Dance, which will feature the Campus Owls and informal dancing from 9 o'clock to midnight.

Tomorrow's festivities start with an alumni golf tournament at 8 a. m., followed by the fall meeting of the Alumni Council in

WEEKEND CALENDAR

Registration in first-floor lounge, Old Main, today and tomorrow.

TODAY

6:30 p. m. Annual Varsity Club Dinner at Centre Hills Country Club.

8 p. m. Student-Alumni mass meeting and rally in Rec Hall.

TOMORROW

9:30 a. m. Fall meeting of Alumni Council in 121 Sparks.

11 a. m. Alumni Council meeting in 121 Sparks to honor G. Weidman "Daddy" Groff.

6:30 p. m. Fraternity alumni dinner and non-fraternity alumni dinner in Old Main Sandwich Shop.

8:30 p. m. Cider party in Armory for alumni, faculty, and senior students.

121 Sparks at 9:30 a. m. The forestry "grads" gather at the New Forestry Building at 9:45 a. m. and the Alumni Council holds a second session at 11 a. m. in 121 Sparks to honor "Daddy" Groff.

Sports enter the spotlight with a freshman football game with Bucknell at 10 a. m. tomorrow, the big grid clash with the varsity Bucknellians at 2 p. m., and a cross-country meet with Manhattan at 3 p. m.

The Penn State Players' production of "The Male Animal" in Schwab Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., and the Cider Party for alumni, faculty, and senior students in the Armory at 8:30 p. m. conclude tomorrow's activity.

Faculty Civilian Defense Course Given Weekly

A special course to train townspeople and faculty members for community civilian defense work began this week at the College. The course, which is being directed by the department of military science and tactics, will meet weekly in the Armory.

The primary purpose of the course is to develop leaders for community defense work during the current rearmament program and in case of war. The teachers of the group are young reserve officers, most of them recent graduates of the college.

Subjects to be covered in the course, which will meet for an indefinite period of time, include rifle marksmanship, the use of machine guns, use of the gas mask, first aid, air raid precautions, organization of the community, and leadership.