

Between The Lions

With PAT NAGELBERG

Dear Dad:

I've been so busy since coming to Penn State five weeks ago that I haven't had much time to write home to you folks. Imagine my surprise, then, when someone told me that we're having Dad's Day here tomorrow. They do things fast at State, I guess they had to shove Father's Day up eight months ahead of schedule to keep pace with the calendar.

I know you won't mind this last minute notice because you're always anxious to see your old cronies on the campus and tell me how much better the Lions were back in the good old days. So I'll be expecting you up at the house by lunch time, even if you can only stay for the day.

The college has quite a few events lined up for you. The main event, of course, is the football game with Lehigh and for once we shouldn't worry too much about winning. If our boys don't take pity on the Engineers, we should run up a big score.

Bill Jeffrey's soccer team is playing Syracuse and will try to keep an eight year record of never having lost. Of course, that's not very important, otherwise the game wouldn't be played at the same time as the football game. Or maybe you can sit at the top of the east stands and see both at the same time.

We frosh are very proud of our own freshman team and if you get here early enough, you'll get a chance to see them in action against Syracuse. Providing, of course, we have a team left by that time. Our better players are being grabbed by other colleges so fast, it looks like they're doing their scouting after the boys get here instead of in the high schools.

But to get back to our big team, it really isn't as bad as some would have you believe. The players have had some tough breaks and while they have lost two games so far, I think they'll do all right from here in, (I hope.)

I have to rush into the shower before all the hot water is gone, so I'll sign off. See you.

Your son,
Joe Frosh.

Today's Games

A batting average of .714 (20 wins, eight losses and two ties) takes us into the fourth week of picking football winners. Here's the way we see our season's opponents and other in today's battles:

West Virginia over Kentucky; Duke over Pitt; Cornell over Colgate; Holy Cross over NYU; Syracuse over Rutgers; Minnesota over Michigan (we have to pick one tough one); Vanderbilt over Princeton; Columbia over Army; Boston College over Georgetown; and of course Penn State over Lehigh.

Claude Kurtz, reserve center for Lehigh, won recognition as all-conference center in the Wyoming Valley League in his senior year at Berwick High School.

Nittany Eleven Favored Over Engineers

Ventresco, Yoho Back In Action

Mundwiler, sophomore tackle, has shown improvement during the week and will probably win a post. Lou Palazzi, center, will start his first game. Last week he played 46 minutes against Temple and turned in some fine defensive play. At the right guard position Bob Perugini will draw the assignment.

Lehigh will use two dangerous men in its backfield. Stan Szymakowski big blocking fullback, has raised trouble for many opponents' secondary defense with his plunges. However, Don Brownlee, right halfback, has built himself a name on the Brown and White squad for his running ability.

Favored to trounce the Engineers who have been having a bad season, the Lions will probably get an opportunity to try out several running and passing combinations. The closest game the two teams have played was in 1936 when Lehigh upset a favored Nittany eleven; 7-6.

Only one Penn State player, Guard John Jaffurs, will sit on the sidelines with a serious injury. Jaffurs injured his shoulder in the Bucknell game and will not see action. It is doubtful whether Center Chuck Raysor will be able to play. Raysor has been suffering with an ankle injury. Red Yoho, guard, who was injured in the Bucknell game, will be ready for today's clash.

Coach Glenn Harneson has been drilling his Engineers in the fundamentals of football in an effort to improve their season's record. So far this season the ground attack has been Lehigh's only weapon. If the Brown and White strategy should be suddenly changed to the air, the Nittany men have little cause to worry. Coach Higgins has been stressing pass defense repeatedly.

Ralph Ventresco, tailback who injured his knee near the close of last week, will be ready for service today. Ventresco has not had a chance to display his wares, but he is a passer and a fleet back.

Frosh Gridders Face Syracuse Eleven Today

Coach Marty McAndrews will send an undefeated freshman eleven team against a strong Syracuse yearling squad on New Beaver Field at 12:30 p. m. today.

At the end positions George Durkota and Bob Hart will start. Tackles will be Clarence Smith and Joe Blasiolo; guards, Leo Noble and Fred Kreuter; and center Joe Cackovic.

Syracuse's first-year men may give the Lion cubs quite a battle. They held Cornell down for a while, but finally were over-powered, 13-6. Cornell has plenty of material and may easily be one of the best freshman teams in the east.

Guard Jim Bonham

Booters Favored To Peel Orange

An Orange that on November 5, 1932 gave the Lion its last case of indigestion again threatens the health of the Penn State soccer team as the Nittany booters open their home season against Syracuse on New Beaver Field at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

That memorable 2-1 victory was the only one the Syracusans have scored over the Lions in their 22-year series. The Jeffrey men have defeated the Orangemen 17 times, tied them 4 times, and in the past four years have held them scoreless.

Although the brilliant Nittany men are favored to annex their 64th straight game without defeat, Syracuse must not be sold short. Although lacking the finesse of the Blue and White booters, they have a rugged, hard-fighting team which always makes the Penn State game a knock-em-down-and-drag-out affair.

The coaching systems of Penn State and Syracuse are radically different. The Orangemen use power and roughing tactics, while the Jeffrey men stress strategy, short kicks, and clever passing. A rough game may be expected, for this year's Lion team has more ruggedness than usual.

According to Coach Bill Jeffrey, the Lions' starting lineup will again consist of Johnny Struck, goalie; Alan Heck and Hap Freeman, fullbacks; Johnny Dufford, Charley Arnold, and Sammy Schure, halfbacks; Smiley Williams and Ned Corman, outside forwards; Captain Woody King and Gringo Galindo, inside forwards and Don Megrail, center forward.

Cub Soccer Team Meets Mont Alto Here Today

A powerful Penn State freshman soccer team will open its home season with the Mont Alto booters on the golf course soccer field at 12:30 p. m. today.

After playing a fine brand of ball to tie the Navy plebes Wednesday, the Lion cubs are favored to defeat the foresters despite Mont Alto's annual habit of coming up with several star players who cause plenty of trouble.

Probable Nittany starters are Edson, goalie; Snedecar and Dietrich, fullbacks; Hartman, Salon, and Atherton, halfbacks; McGuire and Gehrett, outside forwards; Moorshead and McKenna, inside forwards, and Klase, center forward.

Betts To Speak

Dr. E. A. Betts, research professor of Elementary Education and in charge of the reading clinic at the College, will speak before the Delaware County Teachers Institute at Media, Pa., today.

Tom "Hap" Golden, Lehigh reserve guard, is also one of Engineers' better grunt and groan men.

Lions Head For The Hills To Enjoy The Quiet Before The Storm

'Doc' Higgins Uses Rest As A Tonic

When last seen last night the Nittany Lion football team was heading for the hills.

The Lions had no hysterical fear on their faces. They weren't worried about the game today. All they wanted to do was spend a quiet evening in a hunting lodge. Before every home game the gridmen get the urge to be alone. In fact, Coach Bob Higgins, the squad's morale doctor, prescribes quiet and relaxation as the best tonic before a grid encounter.

For such an occasion one would expect fancy things to eat, but Lion appetites must be satisfied with apples. The most violent kind of exercise in store last night was a card game.

Strangely lacking on the scene was the smoke-laden air, cigar butts on the floor, and broken bottles crunching under their feet. Their only diversion was the awful truth placed before their eyes. They saw pictures of the Temple game.

"You can't beat this 'rest cure'," Coach Higgins beamed. "We've got the best fraternity on earth."

This morning the Lions were fed. They were allowed to devour as much as they wanted as long as they could still manage to walk to their bus.

ROTC Parades Scheduled

The ROTC Infantry units will parade next Monday evening at 4:10, and the Engineers will parade over the golf course at the same hour Wednesday, according to Colonel E. R. Ardery, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Van Allen Hartman, high scoring forward on Bill Jeffrey's soccer squad last year, and captain of the Lions track team, is now serving as head soccer, track, and swimming coach at Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa.

Intramurals

HORSESHOES

First round matches in the intramural horseshoes tournament were completed yesterday afternoon at the Rec Hall pits when eleven matches were played. Second round matches will start next week.

The results of yesterday's play were Alpha Zeta No. 1 defeated Phi Gamma Delta No. 3, Phi Delta Theta No. 1 won by forfeit from Sigma Nu, Kappa Delta Rho defeated Phi Kappa Psi No. 3, Delta Chi No. 2 won by forfeit from Theta Xi, Delta Tau Delta No. 2 defeated Delta Upsilon No. 2, Alpha Zeta No. 2 defeated Phi Delta Theta No. 8, Phi Sigma Kappa No. 2 defeated Theta Chi No. 3, Sigma Chi No. 1 defeated Phi Delta Theta No. 5, Phi Gamma Delta No. 1 defeated Phi Kappa Psi No. 5, Delta Tau Delta No. 1 defeated Phi Delta Theta No. 6, and Phi Sigma Kappa No. 1 defeated Delta Upsilon No. 3.

FOOTBALL

The second round of the intramural football tournament will get under way Monday night when four games are scheduled to be played. Monday's schedule follows: Lambda Chi Alpha plays Alpha Zeta at 7 p. m.; Gamma Sigma Phi plays Phi Kappa at 7:40 p. m.; Theta Kappa Phi plays Delta Chi at 8:20 p. m.; and Kappa Sigma plays Delta Tau Delta at 9 p. m.

SWIMMING

Phi Gamma Delta earned a close victory over Phi Epsilon Pi in the first meet Thursday evening by a score of 30 to 27. Phi Kappa Tau lost by default to Theta Kappa Phi in the other scheduled event. The schedule will be resumed Monday evening at 5 o'clock with Sigma Phi Epsilon meeting Alpha Zeta, and Phi Kappa Sigma contesting Alpha Gamma Rho.
