

Harriers Face Unbeaten NYU Runners Today

By JACK OLKEIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—Penn State's cross-country forces arrived here late this evening in preparation for their first dual meet with New York University at Van Cortlandt Park at 4 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

Both the Nittany Lions and the Violets are undefeated so far this year. NYU has come out triumphant over Syracuse and Yale, while State has taken the measure of Manhattan and also Syracuse. Indicative of a close meet tomorrow is the same 25-30 score rolled up by both colleges in defeating Syracuse on successive Saturdays.

The Blue and White contingent consists of Captain Alex Bourgerie, Herm Goffberg, Norm Gordon, Curt Stone, Mac Smith, and Bob Faloon.

Mainstay of the Violets is Captain Leslie MacMitchell, holder of the IC4-A crown for the past two years. The Lions will also have to contend with Dixon, Bruce, Hulise, and Linneken, a quartet of good runners.

Although both colleges were matched in a triangular meet with Lehigh 12 years ago, which State won, there has never been a dual meet between NYU and Penn State on a hill-and-dale course.

Frosh Cross-Country Meet Postponed

The Penn State freshman cross-country meet with the Cornell yearlings, originally scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, has been postponed one week, according to Coach Bob Grieve.

An error in the Cornell schedule has caused the postponement. The Lions' opponent had previously booked a meet with Syracuse for tomorrow, and since this encounter was scheduled before the one with Penn State, it was decided that the Penn State meet would be postponed.

Entries Due Tonight

The deadline for entries in the Daily Collegian football contest is 8 o'clock tonight, according to James E. McCaughey '42, Collegian business manager. Entries postmarked before the deadline will be accepted.

One Down And Two To Go—Chuck Raysor, Nittany center pictured at the left, is the only Lion griddler who has a lasting injury and who did not make the trip to New York City. He sprained his ankle in the Temple encounter and it has been slow to respond to treatment. John Jaffurs, guard pictured in the center, and Bernie Brosky, tackle, will return to the Penn State starting line-up tonight. Jaffurs has recovered from a separated shoulder received in the Bucknell game and will start at his regular post. Brosky, right, has been hampered by an injured knee since the battle with Colgate four weeks ago. His return will strengthen the Lion defense. Both Jaffurs and Brosky, although sophomores, have improved on the forward wall and are reliable players.

4 Games Played In Football League

Competition in intramural football and horseshoes was resumed yesterday with independent league play in football, and second and third round play in horseshoes.

In football competition last night, four independent teams advanced to the second round of the tournament. In the first game, Billett Roomers won from the Nittany Co-op by first downs, 3-0. Commendable passing and fast-breaking end runs featured a Jordan Hall victory over Irvin Hall. The winners tallied six first downs to the losers two.

Hank Lipsky's pass interceptions and fine running led Penn Haven in their 13 to 6 victory over the Lions Club.

In the final game the Watts Hall Blues swamped Fairmont Hall by a lopsided 21 to 0 count. The feature of the game was an intercepted pass in which five Watts Hall men handled the ball and ran 65 yards for the last score.

Second round play in the horseshoes tournament are as follows: Delta Upsilon No. 5 defeated Phi Delta Theta No. 3 and Phi Delta Theta No. 4 won from Tau Kappa Epsilon.

In third round play, Delta Chi No. 3 conquered Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon No. 1 stopped Kappa Delta Rho, and Sigma Chi No. 1 defeated Phi Sigma Kappa No. 1.

Seibold Leads Maxwell In Golf Tournament

Chuck Seibold, golf captain, is leading Scotty Maxwell, defending All-College Golf champ, 1-up at the end of the first 18 holes of finals play in the annual All-College tourney.

The next eighteen holes will be played at 1 p. m. Tuesday afternoon on the college links.

Booters Boast Balanced Team

By DOM GOLDS

Confident of repelling tomorrow's invasion of New Beaver Field by the hell-bent-on-victory Navy booters is an undefeated Nittany Lion soccer team boasting a fine balance of fitness, speed, and power.

Coach Bill Jeffrey's squad this year lacks an individual star, for the Nittanymen have 11 outstanding ball hawks who forego personal glory to perform together beautifully as one unit.

Behind a fast, deceptive, accurately-booting forward line is a backfield adept at spoiling enemy plays and feeding the forwards, and an agile, quick-thinking goalie. This combination is expected to be too much for Navy.

Under Jeffrey's system, center forward Don Megrail is entrusted with the bulk of the goal-shooting. An opportunist with a deadly aim, he has come through in spectacular fashion to score 10 of the Lions' 11 goals in the past two games.

Although also exceptional shots, Captain Woody King and Gringo Galindo, brilliant inside forwards, are content with their roles as "team players." Playing as auxiliary halfbacks, the ball-control artists shamelessly steal the ball from the opposition to set up Nittany goals.

In Smiley Williams and Ned Corman the Lions have two wing-men who dribble and pass at high speed and feed accurately.

A trio of experts at checking opposing forwards and starting Penn State's offense rolling composes the halfback line. Speedy Sammy Schnure is a clever diagnostician of enemy plays, while the ruggedness of Charley Arnold and Johnny Dufford makes them excellent "spoilers."

On the few occasions that Nap Freeman and Alan Heck, hard-charging fullbacks, fail to boot the ball away from dangerous territory, Johnny Struck, rangy sophomore goalie, can be depended on to avert the enemy score.

Despite this array of imposing talent, a newcomer may crash tomorrow's starting lineup. Declared eligible for varsity competition only last week, Jose Lombana, diminutive sophomore from Colombia, South America, has been displaying the brand of soccer Jeffrey likes and may get the nod over Dufford at right halfback.

Lion Frosh Eleven Will Face Cornell

Two undefeated freshman elevens will clash when Penn State's yearlings tackle Cornell's first-year gridders in Ithaca, New York at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Cornell has chalked up victories against Kiski, 32-2; and Syracuse, 13-6. The Little Red team will be a heavy and rangy aggregation who will attempt to dash the Nittany Lions from atop the victory pedestal.

Penn State's grid team holds the scalps of Bucknell, Colgate, and Syracuse in its hands and boasts of a well-rounded squad which will attempt to claw the Little Red.

Starting for the Lion yearlings will be Durkota and Boyd, ends; Smith and Blasiole, tackles; Nobile and Kreuter, guards; and Cackovic at center. The backfield will include Ulinski, quarterback; Dave and Harry Alston, halfbacks and Weitzel, fullback.

Four Sophomores To Start On Line For Nittany Eleven

Higgins has warned his team that NYU has a powerful running attack. Perhaps tonight's Blue and White strategy will favor an aerial game because Penn State's squad has been concentrating on passes in this week's practice.

To add weight to the backfield, Coach Higgins has indicated that he intends to start Bill Debler at the tailback post in favor of the elusive Pepper Petrella. The 195-pound Debler is 35 pounds heavier than Petrella and may be more effective against a heavy NYU team.

In the past two seasons Petrella has turned in his best performances as a climax runner. He was not given a starting assignment until this season. Coach Higgins believes he will be more effective for scoring punch if he is sent in for spot plays.

Paul Weaver, sporting a broken hand, may be hampered by the cast he must wear. Therefore, Aldo Cenci, 225-pound sophomore, will replace him. Captain Len Krouse will start at right halfback and triple-threat Bill Smaltz at fullback.

Four sophomores will get opening assignments on the line. Bernie Brosky will handle a tackle post and John Jaffurs will pair with Jim Bonham at the guard positions. Jaffurs has completely recovered from a shoulder injury. John Poleskan, another sophomore, will play at right end.

Ken Schoonover and Wilbur Van Lenten, both juniors, will fill left tackle and end. Bob Wear, senior, will be center.

Center Chuck Raysor will be the only Lion out of uniform. Nursing an injured ankle, Raysor did not make the trip to New York City.

Broadcast of the game may be heard over stations WWSW and WMRP, both at 1490 kilocycles.

Swimmers Default

Last night's swimming intramurals resulted in two forfeits. Kappa Sigma defaulted to Alpha Chi Sigma and Theta Chi defaulted to Phi Delta Theta.
