The game, which will be played at 2 o'clock, will be the 17th meet-, ing of the two teams in a rivalry dating back to 1922. Navy has won only two of the contests, but in the past three years has held the Lions to one-point margins of victory.

Tall Henry Sweitzer is a bulwark of defense at his goal-tending position.

The brand of soccer that Navy is expected to display is patterned much after that of Jeffrey's team. Middie Coach Tom Taylor is also an admirer of finesse and stresses ball control and short passes as opposed to the power booting and roughing tactics employed by many of the country's soccer teams.

Lion Opponents Grid Grief

While Penn State's 1941 grid machine has stalled on the fields of Colgate and Temple, the remaining Nittany Lion opponents have their own grief.

Mighty Pittsburgh, toast of grid mentors a few years ago, put in an order for crying towels as this football season rolled around. But other Penn State grid opponents -South Carolina, West Virginia, and Syracuse-have managed to hang up better records.

Pitt has yet to snatch a victory, having been turned back by Purdue, Michigan, Minnesota, and Duke. Today the Panthers play Ohio State, another Big Ten trouble-maker.

South Carolina stopped North Carolina, lost to Georgia, tied Wake Forest, and squeezed Clemson, 18-14. West Virginia has won two games, but mighty Navy, Fordham, and Kentucky grabbed victories from the Mountaineers.

Syracuse has been one of the surthe prowess of any opponent, the prise teams of the year. Stronger than advance notices indicated, the dinary measures to squelch the Orange has lost only to Cornell and arrived here this afternoon and Middle threat, and are confident has come out victorious in four
