

Yougel Holds Slight Lead, Incomplete Returns Indicate

UNCHAPERONED MIXED DRINKING BANNED

Hutchinson Ahead In Two Precincts

Incomplete returns this morning showed Albert E. Yougel, Republican candidate for burgess, to be almost certain of victory in the race for burgess although he was 34 votes behind Kenneth D. Hutchinson, associate professor of economics and "sticker" candidate.

There was little doubt, however, that Yougel would gain about 50 votes from straight Republican ballots still uncouneted. Returns were complete in the east and north precincts but only about three-fourths of the ballots in the west precinct—the largest of the three—had been counted at 2 o'clock this morning.

Totals at that time were Hutchinson—607; Yougel—573; and Eugene H. Lederer (D)—527.

Hutchinson polled 238 votes in the north precinct; Lederer had 95; and Yougel 93. In the east precinct, Hutchinson gained 187 votes, while Lederer and Yougel had 262 and 271 respectively.

Totals in the two precincts where the vote count was complete were: Hutchinson—425, Yougel—362, and Lederer—357.

Paul A. Mitten (R), with 743 votes in two precincts, was the leading candidate in the race for three borough council positions. Virtually tied for second place were H. O. Smith (R) with 553, Charles Schlow (R) with 552, and L. A. Doggett, "sticker" candidate.

Broadcast Set For Soph Hop

Penn State's annual Fall broadcast over Station KDKA, which many students thought had failed to materialize this year, became a reality yesterday with the announcement that a half-hour program would be broadcast from Rec Hall during Soph Hop Friday night.

According to Ridge Riley of Public Information, the program will be under the direction of "Bill" Sutherland, senior announcer at KDKA. Although the time of the broadcast has not been definitely set, Sutherland said it would probably be held from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

Assisting Sutherland with program will be Jack Barry, WHEC announcer, who will also give the play-by-play description of the Penn State-Syracuse game on New Beaver Field Saturday afternoon.

Tentative program arrangements are as follows: three numbers by the Glee Club, including the song "Honey," which will be dedicated to all Houseparty Queens; group singing by those present, at the dance; transcribed talks by both Penn State and Syracuse grid captains and several numbers by Jan Savitt and His Top Hatters.

Following is the letter regarding the broadcast, which Riley received from Sutherland:

Dear Ridge:
It is my pleasant duty to advise you that KDKA has again set aside a half-hour for your use in bringing the spirit of Penn State to millions of listeners in the tri-state district through the medium of radio. We have come to look forward to this opportunity each Fall which brings us to the campus to

Cabinet Approves Accounting Plan

Definite action to curb unchaperoned mixed drinking among students, where coeds are involved, was taken by All-College Cabinet last night. The legislation will go into effect immediately, so as to apply to violations that may arise during Houseparty this weekend.

Cabinet, in another important move, approved the constitutional amendment that will require auditing of all student activity accounts by the Associated Student Activities Office. PSCA co-president A. John Currier '42, in polling the only negative vote, said, "It will put us to an inconvenience and hamper our program."

Following is the complete report on the drinking problem as drawn up by Robert D. Baird '42, All-College president, and accepted by Cabinet with only one dissenting vote:

"We, the All-College Student Cabinet of the College, do hereby legislate that:

1. All cases of unchaperoned mixed drinking, where coeds are parties, shall be prohibited, and that the students participating in such cases should be prosecuted.

2. All cases pertaining to mixed drinking shall be investigated by Cabinet.

3. If necessary, Cabinet will set up a judicial body of its own to prosecute cases involving unchaperoned mixed drinking.

"We hereby request that the following organizations cooperate in enforcing the above action. They are IFC, IMA, WSGA, Philotes, PSCA, Panhel, Mortar Board, Cwens, the various student councils, and the hat societies."

Fred Allen May Unveil Nittany Talent

Lurking in the bushes of Penn State's campus or loafing in an Ath Hall lounge may be a star of tomorrow. At least that is the belief of Fred Allen, radio comedian, who in search of young talent, has managed to penetrate the vale of Old Mt. Nittany.

An opportunity to win $200 in cash and to appear on a coast-to-coast network under professional conditions is therefore being made available to any undergraduate student who thinks he or she has the ability to arouse a few guffaws or sighs of admiration.

Competition in the search is limited to individual performers. Teams and group acts are ineligible to compete for the monetary plum, and the expense-free journey to

New York for a nation-wide broadcast.

Warblers, impersonators, hams, and instrumentalists are permitted to make entries but must conform to certain restrictions on material. For example, excerpts from plays requiring royalty are not permitted.

To ease the duties of the local committee which will hear the general auditions, vocal selections have been limited to two minutes each. This board will be composed of students and faculty members and will be named next to make arrangements for the tryouts.

Three finalists will be chosen by the board to appear in a half-hour broadcast over station WHP, Harrisburg, on December 5 or 6. A general election will then be held on campus Monday, December 8, when students will vote for one of the three. The winner will be announced on the Fred Allen show, Wednesday, December 31.

When he makes his appearance on the show Wednesday, January 7, the local champion will be interviewed and presented as a radio performer in his own right.

Fred Allen was once a college boy but won't reveal what institution he attended since he says he promised to keep it a secret if the university did the same. It is for this reason that out of the goodness of his heart he is promoting the search for talent—with the hope that he may attract new listeners through the presentation of college performers.
