CODE ADJUSTER — Jerome H. Blakeslee, junior class president, and Freshman Elections Committee chairman, announced this year's frosh election code, after it was approved last night by All-College cabinet.

Tuesday, December 2, with a Freshman mass meeting. All candidates are required to be in possession of their approved petitions before their campaign may be started.

For each party that has running for a major office, the All-College Cabinet, through the Elections Committee, will supply posters containing the party platform and pictures of the major candidates.

There will be no other expense whatsoever incurred for campaigning.

ARTICLE VI Eligibility

To be eligible to vote, voters must present their AA books and their matriculation cards which will be checked with the dean's list

Two year agriculture students in their first year may vote for the freshman offices.

ARTICLE VII Party Affiliations

Party affiliations, if any, of each candidate will be placed upon the ballot. It is not necessary, however, for each candidate to have a party affiliation.

Art Gallery Will Show Sculpture Exhibition

Bronze, wood, stone and metal art work will be included in the sculpture exhibition to be placed on display in the College Art Gallery, 303 Main Engineering, tomorrow to be on view until November 26.

Originating from the Museum of Modern Art in New York, the show is entitled "Fifteen American Sculptors." Included among the artists whose work is represented are John B. Flannagan, Concetta Scaravaglione, Franc Epping, and Cham Gross.

This is the first sculpture exhibition to be shown on campus since 1937. Francis E. Hyslop, assistant professor of fine arts, calls it the "most important gallery show of the semester."

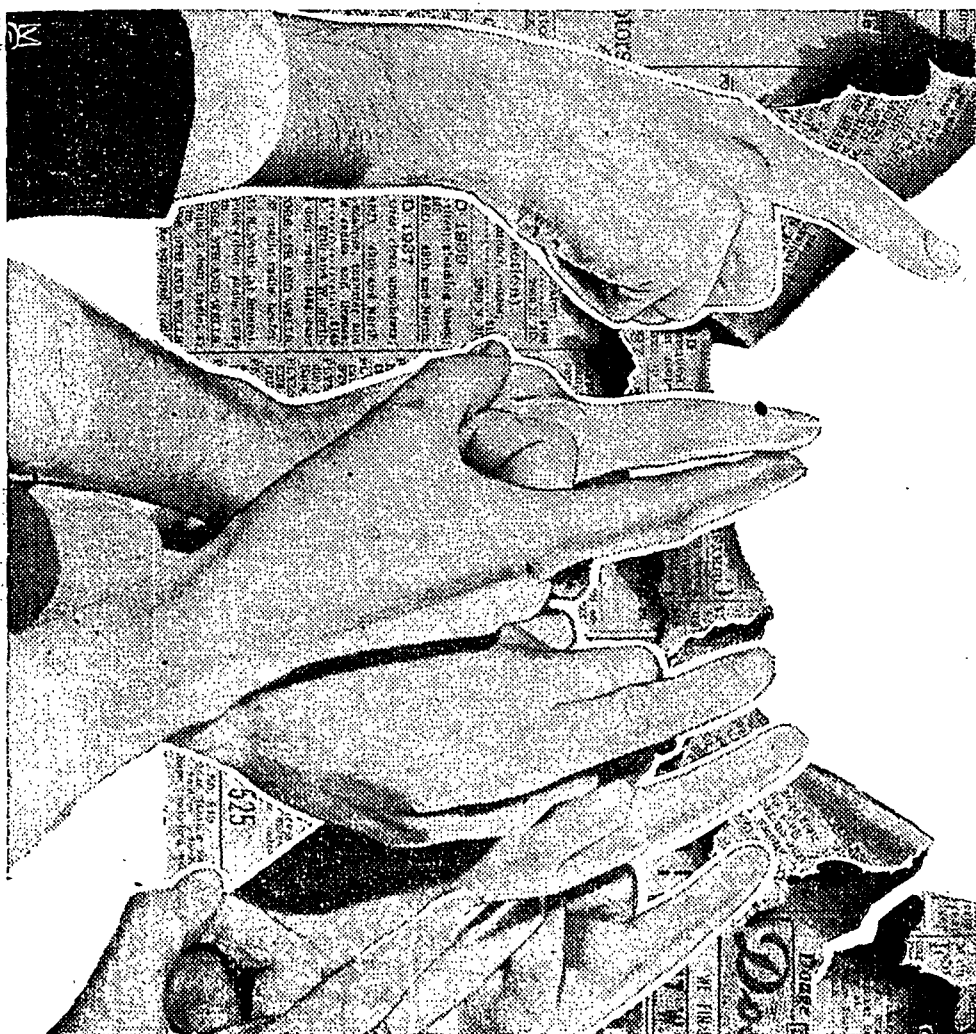

IMA Continues Social Planning

Strange as it may seem, there is a shortage of "dates" for Penn State coeds despite the five to one ratio, according to the girls attending the meeting of independent social chairmen called by Elden T. Shaut, IMA president, last night.

This is just one of the many problems IMA is tackling in its current drive.

At last night's meeting the following committees were appointed to further study the social possibilities of the group: barn dance, Peggy Chambrey '43, and Rozanne Brooke '43; skating party, Marie Scialabba '45, and Ray Major '43; tea dance, Gertrude Lundbom '43, and Murray Schwartz '42.
