

Cwens To Give Scholarships

Four $50 scholarships taken from dance proceeds will be awarded to sophomore women at the annual WSGA Christmas dinner in MacAllister Hall, announced Dorothy K. Brunner, dance chairman, last night.

Awards will be given on the basis of need, scholarship, Cwen ideals, and limited amount of activities held by each coed.

Cwens took in $256.51 profits from this year's formal. From last year dance profits of $233.90, three scholarships were awarded.

Town Coeds To File Activity Points

All coeds living in town, either at home or in dormitories, must file officer and membership points for the WSGA point system at Student Union from Monday through Saturday, announced Natalie A. Siebert, WSGA Junior Service Board chairman, last night.

Coeds living on campus who have failed to file activities cards should also register at Student Union. Transfers and freshmen will file cards next semester. Seniors are excluded.

Honorary Plans Confab

Members of Omicron Nu, senior home economics honorary, discussed plans yesterday for the second annual vocational guidance conference to be held in April.

Kappa Delta Grants Charter To Charitides

Will Be Known As Beta Theta Chapter

Another national sorority appeared on campus yesterday when Charitides, former local sorority, was granted a charter from Kappa Delta national headquarters.

Installation and initiation will be held November 21 to 23, Doris A. Anders '43, acting president, stated. The chapter will be called Beta Theta of Epsilon Province of Kappa Delta.

Six national council members, actives and alumnae from Bucknell and the University of Pennsylvania, will be present at the group installation. Former Charitides alumnae will return to be initiated with actives. An installation banquet will be given at the Hotel State College Saturday, November 22.

Application for a petition was begun the first of the year and final summary reports for a charter were submitted October 20. Kappa Delta pins will replace Charitides pins which were designed by Robert E. Dengler, professor of classical languages, three years ago.

Six women students originated Charitides in October 1938 as a local sorority. It was accepted by the Student Welfare Board March 27, 1939, and as a member of the Panhellenic Council a year later.

The group adopted as its colors green and gold. Kappa Delta colors are green and white.

Charitides officers who will serve as Kappa Delta officers are Marjorie A. Geer '42, president; Doria A. Anders '43, vice-president; Elizabeth J. Billet '43, recording secretary; Helen E. Wilde '43, corresponding secretary; Martha J. Olson '42, treasurer; and Betty J. Haupt '43, historian.

Town patronesses are Mrs. H. W. Loman and Mrs. Nelson Taylor.

We, The Women Far-Seeing Coeds Rewarded By Charter

Mid all this hullabaloo about mixed drinking and mismanaged organizations, it gives us immense pride and pleasure to congratulate the 21 members of Charitides upon their acceptance into the national fraternity, Kappa Delta.

For a small group of women to organize as a local and face the long upward climb through campus and Panhellenic recognition to a national charter requires a maximum of courage and patience.

Just due must also be awarded those graduates who had foresight enough to build up their club by rushing neck to neck with the more powerful sororities, knowing that what they were aiming for would never be reached while they were in College.

The 11 national campus sororities will welcome this newcomer to Panhellenic Council as a full-fledged member, realizing that this achievement marks another forward step in the constant growth and importance of women here. We join with them and the rest of the campus in giving credit to a job well done.
