

Underdog Lion Eleven Faces Syracuse

Noted Composer To Appear Here At Music Confab

Charles Wakeman Cadman, famous American composer, will appear at the first annual Pennsylvania School Music Association conference to be held here next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Dr. Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, announced yesterday.

Noted for his Indian melodies, Cadman has written songs of every type, including choral music, lutes, chamber music, and grand opera. Some of his most popular songs are "At Dawning," "From the Land of Sky-Blue Water," "Candle Light," "I Hear A Thrush at Eve," and "The Gleden Trail."

Dr. Cadman will assist as pianist at the College Choir and Glee Club concert which will be given in Schwab Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. next Friday as part of the conference program. Students and faculty are invited to attend.

A member of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers, Dr. Cadman has over 500 published works to his credit. As Walter Davenport in a recent article on American music in Collier's Weekly says: "Outside the big cities, Cadman tops them all for popularity."

Continued on page Four

Armistice Day Service To Delay Tuesday Class

That regular 11 o'clock classes on Tuesday will not convene until 11:10 a. m. is the notification that has been received from the various schools have requested to make to their respective staffs, the president's office revealed yesterday afternoon. The ten minute delay will permit observers and participants in the Armistice Day services on front campus to attend regularly scheduled classes at the close of the military drill.

Scabard and Blade, the Pershing Rifles, and the ROTC Band will participate in the observance which will begin at 10:45 a. m.

No More Money In the Bank—

Average Penn State Man Will Face Starvation When Houseparty Ends

Little does Miss Import realize the sacrifices Average Penn State Man makes for her Houseparty Weekend as he faces the curses of coeds and the diminishing balance of his bank book.

Be he independent or fraternity man his expenses will probably average about $26 for two days of fast collegiate life. Careful budgeting may bring the bad news down to the $15 mark but his more expansive brother may well reach the $40 limit.

Last night, when he dreamily waltzed with "her," he had made the following expenditures: Tux cleaned—$1.50; Soph Hop ticket—$3.35; rooming arrangements for date—$2.00; corsage—$1.50; noon meal—$1.00.

Numbed somewhat from her glamorous arrival, APSM basked in the warmth of his import's arms as she showed her around campus. A lock, at the Lion Shrine model cost nothing.

If he is an independent he was then faced with the check of the evening meal which ran about

Frosh To Report Early For Grid Display Cheer

All freshmen are requested to be in the football stands by 1:30 p. m. this afternoon to practice a mid-game display cheer in which colored cards will be used, John W. Dague, Jr. '42, head cheerleader announced.

Raymond F. Leffler '42, Student Tribunal head, said "Tribunal will aid in every way possible to make the afternoon a success."

Dague reported that the card display will be used again if it is successful this afternoon. Letters or designs can be formed in the special cheering section by flashing the cards in a pre-arranged pattern.

Yougel Outlines Student Policy

Recently elected State College Burgess, Albert E. Yougel made the following statement to the College student body, through Ross B. Lehman '42, editor of The Daily Collegian, when asked for the policy he will employ regarding borough-student relations during his coming term.

Dear Sir: Penn State is a nationally famous seat of learning. Why? Because of the determined cooperation of all its departments, in a democratic form, with partiality shown to none, to achieve a common objective. And the students share in this responsibility by managing their own affairs through their student government. You know that the relations between the students and the College departments and officers, and the Borough of State College have greatly benefitted by this system of student government.

In the spirit of fair play, it is now generally recognized that whatever improves the College benefits the borough, and likewise, whatever improves the borough is beneficial to the College. Most students realize that the social interests of these two institutions are best served by recognizing and respecting their interdependence.

As Burgess-elect I shall be happy to

Continued on page Four

The Orange Remember Him—Veteran Bill Smaltz, Lion full-back, may again touch off aerial fireworks against Syracuse today. Last year Smaltz and Captain Len Krouse collaborated on two touchdown passes, one 27 yards and another 48 yards, to knot the score, 13-13.

Probable Football Line-ups

Penn State	Position	Syracuse
Van Lenten	LE	Berthold
Kerns	LT	Kinney (C)
Kratzke	LG	Fellows
Wear	C	Behner
Jaffurs	RG	Weber
Schoonover	RT	Ransom
Potsklan	RE	McPhail
Weaver	QB	Fox
Petrella	LH	Maines
Krouse (C)	RH	Watt
Smaltz	EB	Heald

Officials—Referee, Leo Daley, Boston College; umpire, G. R. Holstrom, Muhlenberg; linesman, G. R. MacDonald, Lehigh; field judge, J. M. Ogden, Swarthmore. Broadcast stations and kilocycles: KDKA, 1020; WENY, 1230; WGY, 810.

Orange To Use New Y Formation

By BOB SCHOOLEY

Facing a Syracuse team which is rated high in the East for its grid strength, the underdog Nittany Lion eleven will attempt to upset the grid dopesters with a victory before an expected near-record crowd of 20,000 on New Beaver Field at 2 p. m. today.

The teams will be battling to break a tie which has existed for the past two seasons. In 1939 the score was knotted 6-6 and last season the final count was 13-13. Today's meeting of old rivals will be the 22nd in a series that has been uninterrupted since 1922. The Orangemen have been victorious ten times and the Lions have taken four decisions. Five games have ended in a tie.

Coach Ossie Solem's squad was beaten once this year by Cornell and has won five games. The Orange pushed the Big Red to the limit and triumphed over Clarkson, Holy Cross, Rutgers, NYU, and Wisconsin.

For the first time fans at today's game will get an opportunity to watch Syracuse's famous Y formation and reversed center in action. So far this season, Orange opponents have thrown various defenses against them, but were

(Continued on Page Three)

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates Ten Journalism Majors

Ten undergraduate journalism students and three professional newspapermen will be formally initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic honorary fraternity, at a meeting and banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn, 4 p. m. tomorrow afternoon.

Hugh Wagon, chief of bureau for Associated Press in Pennsylvania; Floyd Chalfant, editor and publisher of the Waynesboro Record-Herald; and Richard A. Thornburgh, city editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, will become professional members of the fraternity and will deliver short speeches at the banquet.

Student pledges are Joseph T. Reichwein '42; and Gordon L. Coy, Donald W. Davis, Jr., Dominick L. Golab, James D. Olkein, David Samuels, Robert E. Schooley, David M. Thompson, Herbert J. Zukauskas, and Thomas P. North, all juniors.

John A. Baer, president of the local chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, will leave Tuesday for New Orleans, as a delegate to the national convention of the organization.

Snow Predicted For Today—Maybe

If the snow flurries predicted for today fail to materialize, don't blame The Daily Collegian weatherman. Just chalk it up as typical Houseparty weather—extremely erratic and unpredictable.

After all, how can the department of geophysics of the College compete with Mother Nature when she decides to go on a binge every time Penn State has a big weekend?

Whether it's a case of latent sadistic tendencies or "just plain carelessness" on Mother Nature's part, no one can definitely say. But campus tradition has it that bad weather and Penn State Houseparties are synonymous.

Still, students manage to do quite well regardless of the weather, giving hag Nature the well known brush-off. If the Weather's grand, they enjoy themselves. And if the weather's lousy, they can always play gin rummy.

It can be said, therefore, that regardless of the weather, a good time was had by all.

Dr. Clausen To Speak

"Why Don't You Pray?" will be the subject of a sermon by Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, in chapel service tomorrow at 11 a. m. in Schwab auditorium.

Soph Hop Shows $875 Profit

Despite the competition of 25 fraternity houseparty dances last night, Soph Hop went over the top with at least $875 profit, according to latest figures from George W. Donovan, Student Union manager, who reported approximately 800 couples in attendance. An attendance of 550 was necessary to clear expenses.

Speaking for his "Nittany stalwarts who are secluded in their mountain hideaway," Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education, said the football team "will put up a whale of a battle" as he spoke during a KDKA-broadcast pep rally from 10:30 until 11 o'clock at the dance.

President Ralph D. Hetzel sent a message through Dean Schott saying Penn State students, with high spirits, are looking forward to victory in what promises to be a brilliant contest. Confident that "the best team will win" Chancellor Graham of Syracuse University also had a note read for him.

As part of the pep rally program, Dean Richard W. Grant, department of music, led the Glee Club in five selections, one of them "Honey" in which Shirley Ives '45 was soloist. Cheers were led by John W. Dague '42, Charles E. Peck '43, and J. George Peck '43.

Under a setting of painted North Pole icebergs, and a clever play of spotlights behind a huge semi-circular arc to depict the aurora borealis at the West end of Rec Hall, Jan Savitt and his orchestra played at the first successful Soph Hop since two years ago when Hal Kemp helped the present senior class exceed expenses.