VOL. 38—No. 47

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 25, STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE THREE CENTS

An inspired young Penn State football team, lifted to its greatest performance of the year by three seniors, spotted an up and coming Pitt eleven one touchdown in the first period and then turned on the full power of its long stored vengeance to run roughshod over the Panthers, 31 to 7, in the Pitt Stadium Saturday. More than 33,000 spectators saw the Lions upset all pre-game predictions, which established Pitt at a 2 to 1 favorite, to score their first win in Pittsburgh since 1919.

Movies of the Penn State-Pitt game, originally scheduled for this evening, have been cancelled because of the extension of the Thanksgiving vacation. As yet, no substitute date has been set for the showing of the movies.

with a startling 43-yard touchdown jaunt midway in the first period, the keyed-up State eleven caught fire in the second quarter and kept up its touchdown parade for the remainder of the game to run up its largest total against Pitt since the 38-0 count in 1912. Faced by Pepper Petrella, Bill Smaltz and Captain Len Krouse, the Lions scored twice in the second quarter, added another touchdown and field goal in the third, and put the finishing touches on the well-skinned Panther with a fourth tally in the final period. Only an offside penalty in the closing minutes of the battle prevented the Nittany men from scoring their fifth touchdown. Smaltz made good all four extra point conversions.

Sidetracked by injuries for the last two games, Petrella came back to surpass any of his previous performances by tallying State's first three touchdowns and in general running the opposition ragged. His first six-pointer came in the latter part of the second quarter on a short plunge off left tackle after a pass from Smaltz

Deer Hunters Seek Cut Fine Exemption After Thanksgiving

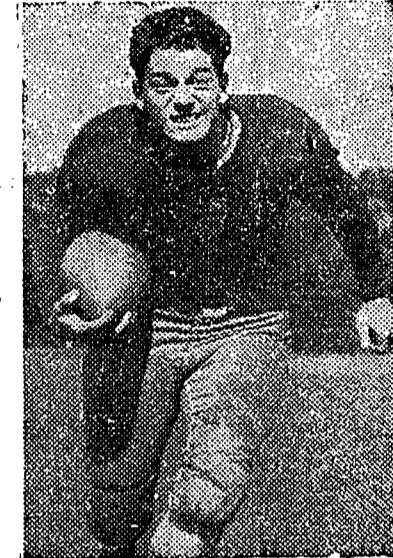

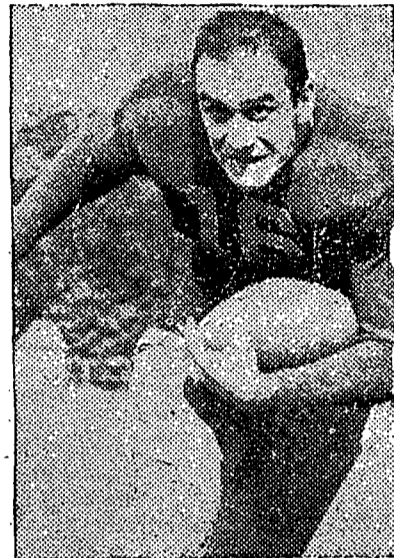

A tentative plan to exempt deer hunters from the $5 class-cut fine following the Thanksgiving vacation will be considered by the Senate Committee on Rules this afternoon.

Provisions of the plan call for hunters to report to Student Union with their matriculation card and hunting license between 8 and 10:30 p. m. Sunday for exemption from the fine.

This plan was brought before All-College Cabinet by Robert A. Wasser '42 at last Tuesday's meeting. Cabinet approved the plan and forwarded it to the Senate Committee on Rules for its consideration.

Hunters had difficulty in getting exempt from the cut fine last year partly because they did not report to College before going hunting and also because there had been no official notification of their exemption from the fine. It was not until several weeks after the Thanksgiving vacation that the hunters finally were exempt.

Holiday Climaxes Grid Upset

NITTANY TRIUMPHATE—Not for 29 years have the Pitt Panthers been beaten by the Nittany Lion eleven as badly as they were Saturday. In 1912 the Lions carried off a 38-0 victory. And the above seniors, Bill Smaltz, Captain Len Krouse, and Pepper Petrella (left to right) wrapped themselves in grid glory by thumping Pitt. Smaltz was brilliant with his passes and plunging, and Krouse lived up to his reputation as the finest pass receiver in the East. Petrella realized his biggest grid ambition as he ran through the Pitt line at will, reaping three touchdowns.

Thanksgiving Recess Begins At 5 P. M. Today

Fired by a history-making victory over Pitt, student rooters, burning with jubilation, observed a 24-hour celebration which was climaxed yesterday morning by President Ralph D. Hetzel's announcement of a half-holiday tomorrow.

Opening of the Thanksgiving recess is automatically advanced to 5 p. m. today by the action of the Council on Administration which complied with student requests in the form of a 150-foot petition bearing the names of 3,900 students.

Classes will convene Monday morning at 8 p. m. at the official close of the Thanksgiving holiday.

The Council calls attention to the 48-hour ruling applying to absences before and after vacations and requests student cooperation in observing the special ruling. The $5 cut-fine period began at noon yesterday and will continue until 5 p. m. Tuesday, December 2.

Surpassing demonstrations resulting from the 10-0 victory over the Golden Panthers in 1939, sporadic outbursts of student enthusiasm developed last weekend into three organized rallies.

The first celebration which began at 1 a. m. was broken up by firehoses and extinguishers in the men's dormitories. More orderly were the gatherings of 2500 students who besieged President Hetzel's home at 1:30 and 10:15 p. m. Sunday.

Appeals for a football holiday to celebrate the 31-7 drubbing given to Pitt were met by the President with the suggestion that a student petition be presented Monday morning. Under the direction of cheerleader Charles E. Peck '43, volunteers collected individual petitions from organized groups until 3 a. m. yesterday and presented them to the President at 9 a. m.

Late News

CAIRO, Egypt — British troops have penetrated to the south of Tobruk and are threatening the Germans from the besieged city and with a column from Egypt. The British say that the tank losses on both sides have been so large that the infantry has had to do all the fighting by themselves.

ROME, Italy — An official Italian communique admitted that a British column had penetrated 200 miles into the interior of Libya. This column movement clearly indicated an attempt by the British to drive straight to the coast across the desert.

WASHINGTON — All exportation licenses to German-held territory in Africa, including the French possessions, have been revoked. Observers in the capital say that this is merely one more way that the American government is trying to help the British. They say that this should aid the British in their present drive in North Africa.

Frosh Cliques Nominate Officers

In the initial political venture of the freshman class, tentative candidate line-ups were released last night with Robert D. Weitzel (Independent) and M. Clifford St. Clair (Campus) heading the slates as nominees for the class presidency to be decided election day, Wednesday, December 10.

Although both cliques claim new and startling innovations in their platforms, public announcement of these party planks will not be released until the freshman political mass meeting next Tuesday, which will officially usher in the week long campaign lasting from December 3 to December 10.

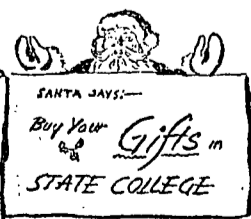

Other candidates, which were announced last night by the freshman cliques, are as follows: vice-president, Harry Mitchell (Independent) and Robert E. Becker (Campus); secretary, Ione H. Trovaioli (Independent) and Ruth A. Embury (Campus); treasurer, John T. Nolan (Independent) and William C. Masseth (Campus); historian, Patricia E. Diener (Independent) and Robert Thompson (Campus).

Nominations will not be official until petitions are filed Monday with Jerome H. Blakeslee '43, Frosh Elections Committee chairman. These petitions must contain the signatures of at least 75 male freshmen and 25 frosh coeds.

Also due at the same time are platform statements and pictures of all candidates. The Freshman Elections Committee must approve the platforms, and also reserves the right to censor any provisions that may seem ridiculous.

Blakeslee has warned against any campaigning before the official opening of campaign week at the political mass meeting next Tuesday. Under the new '45 elections code penalties for violations of the code are left to the discretion of the committee but are not to exceed 50 votes.
