

CA To Repair Schoolhouses

"The little red schoolhouse is in for a new coat of paint and a new deal," Kenneth F. Moist '43, chairman of the PSCA Community Service Committee, stated today.

This Committee is sponsoring a series of excursions to one-room schoolhouses in Sellers, Wattle, and Stony Point. Cooperating with the PSCA group in this project are the Junior Service Board, supervised by Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women, and the Arts and Education Group, under Miss Amy G. Gardner, associate professor of art education and home economics.

The three organizations will make their first business visit to the schools this afternoon. Smaller groups have gone out during the week.

The purpose of the trips is to repair and clean up the schools and direct games and make gifts for the children. Plans for school Christmas parties on December 19 are now under way.

Faculty Extends Holiday Bids

Students remaining at the College during Christmas holidays this year will enjoy all the pleasures of Christmas at home, including a home-cooked dinner.

Faculty members and townspeople have invited remaining students to visit their homes during the holidays.

Students wishing invitations to homes should call the PSCA office in Old Main. They will be assigned to a faculty member or town family, whose home they will reside in during the holidays.

Ninety Foreign-Born Students On Campus; List Includes Many Activities Leaders

Among 90 foreign born students from 22 European countries and 3 United States territorial possessions are found some outstanding campus leaders.

They include BMOC Jimmy McAdam '42, Campus Owls' leader, who hails from Glasgow, Scotland; A. Pat Nagelberg '42, Collegian sports editor, born in Austria; Les Hetenyi '42, opera authority, and Andy Szekely '42, active in PSCA and accomplished pianist, both from Budapest, Hungary.

The Lee twins, Pearl '42 and Ruby '43, left China before the war. William Fabian Slevin '45 claims Belfast, Ireland, as his home, while Mary Matry '44 was born in far-off Syria. Remzi Gurcay '44, also from the Near East, calls Turkey his birthplace. Sydney Rivenburg '44, tribunal president at Keystone Junior College last year, travelled from India where her father was a medical officer.

Army Rations To Be Exhibited

As the last in a series of nutrition exhibits open to the public, United States Army garrison rations will be displayed in 209 Home Economics from 3 to 5 p. m. Monday and from 8 a. m. to 12 Tuesday.

Daily individual rations used by the 1917-18 army will be compared with better balanced army rations today. Also on display will be army field-rations used when away from camps.

The War Department furnished information on amounts of foods to be displayed. Each soldier consumes approximately five pounds of food daily or about a ton a year. Nutritive value of the new army's food is higher than food of 65 per cent of the country's population.

DG's, Wiley Win Sports Events

Delta Gamma's beat out a 2-1 table tennis victory over Miles Street Dorm and Wiley Dorm defeated the Miles' bowlers, 442-429 yesterday.

"Henry" Hack and Margaret Capers played ping pong for the DG's and Mary Ellen Sheaffer and Alice Shenk represented Miles' coeds.

Marguerite Chamblrey from Wiley Dorm ranked first in the bowling contest with a score of 126. Teams included Erma Carter, Mary Galletti, Jean Martin, Pauline Masiko, and Laura Weaver, Miles' Dorm; Carol Barbour, Marguerite Chamblrey, Veronica Mazur, Jeannette Parker, and Lucille Wassink, Wiley Dorm.

Coeds To Hold Dorm Parties

Plans for Christmas festivities are forming in several downtown dormitories and will take shape in seasonal parties, dances, and dinners.

Miles street dormitory will hold an informal dance at 9 p. m. December 12. Committees are Jean E. Martin '44, and Helen M. Chaapel '43, refreshments; Erma R. Cater '43, Mary A. Galletti '42, Martha J. Haverstick '43, Alice Miller '44, and Hannah L. Peebles '44, decorations.

Nittany Co-op has made tentative plans for a Christmas dinner followed by dancing, distribution of gifts, and games. Mary H. Steele '44 and Irvin Kline '43 are planning the party.

A scavenger hunt is part of the entertainment planned by McCormick's dormitory, which is holding a dance at 7:30 p. m. December 12, according to Marie E. Scialabba '45, social chairman.

A grab bag holds the spotlight at the Frazier street dormitory, which will give a party from 10 to 12 p. m., December 17, Rosanne Brooks '45 announced.

Wiley dorm's annual dinner is being held December 11. Dean Charlotte E. Ray and Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women, will be the guests. Marguerite H. Chamblrey '43 is in charge of the event.

Locust Lane is also having a dinner party according to Carolyn H. Fisher '45, social chairman.

Other dormitories, which expect to hold similar parties, include Miss Parker's, Allen Co-op, and Bart's dormitory.

Army Men Located

(Continued from Page One) pointed out, if students and alumni cooperate by sending to the Alumni Office any knowledge they may have concerning the whereabouts of College servicemen. Fraternities could be of especial aid, and coeds could provide a valuable grapevine through their correspondence.

In addition to compiling the card file, the committee is engaged in other projects to promote desired unity. If found possible, Penn State clubs may be formed in the various camps. College publications are being sent to camp reading tables. Penn State football movies will soon be shown at the New Cumberland induction center, and possibly at other camps later.

Chi Omega To Initiate

Chi Omega will initiate Dorothy H. Fields '42, Ruth M. Saylor '43, Francis M. Burke '44, Janet E. Graham '44, Mary Ann Krall '44, Patricia A. Middleton '44, A. Jane Minnich '44, and Margaret L. Trump '44 today.

We The Women

A Big Thought Plus A Little Action May Prevent Regret

"Today the tendency of government in the United States is toward state socialism." With that remark a professor ended his discussion.

Students closed their books and left the classroom. Not one so much as blinked. They have probably forgotten it by now.

Whether this particular statement is true or not, lack of reaction to matters directly affecting them is typical not only of the student body but also of the general public. It is a clear indication of Mr. General Public's apathy toward situations affecting his life.

After tendencies become realities, people might feel antagonistic toward them. But will they voice objections? Probably not.

The time to change the course of the ship is before it lands on the rocks. This applies to all situations. We are all too prone to sit back and let things become realities without trying to alter them.

When things are in the formative process, people have little to say about them. Once these things become definite, the public reacts violently for a short time.

Ath Hall Food Plant As Well As Dorm

Atherton Hall may be just another women's dormitory to hundreds of Penn State coeds, but in addition it is a food plant which manufactures meals for 500 dormitory women, 32 waiters, and kitchen help.

The building has its own basement butcher shop. A butcher is employed to make all scrapple and sausages and to cut all meats.

The waiters' dining room is also in the basement with provisions for cafeteria meals. Huge store-rooms, a freezing plant, and several refrigerators for fruits, vegetables, and dairy products are nearby.

All food is prepared long before meal time in the basement and sent to the kitchen where it is cooked. Baking of bread and pastries is carried on in ovens below the post office. In the morning the kitchen is used as a cafeteria.

Meals are planned a month ahead of time with emphasis on banquet-style for weekends. Dieticians try not to repeat any meat or special dish more than once a week.

Philotes Plans Party

Philotes, independent women's association, will entertain women interested in joining the organization at a Christmas party in White Hall playroom at 7:30 p. m. Monday, December 8. Helen S. Zable '43, Shirley M. Tietz '42, Jane E. Booth '43, and Flora Van Buskirk '43 are in charge.

Then all relax and accept the situation.

What we need is additional thought about how matters will affect our lives and what they will mean to future generations as well as to ours.

We need to perk up, take notice, ponder situations, reach definite conclusions, and then voice them before definite action occurs.

This can be applied to campus situations, local, state, and national affairs, family and other social contacts—it applies to all phases of our lives.

Each individual can help direct affairs in the direction he desires. True, there is unity in groups. But it takes individuals to make these groups.

Each of us has an integral part in what happens, when and why it happens, and where. Instead of waiting until things happen, we can make them happen. That is if we care to.
