Tribute To Henry

As far as we and anyone else who witnessed the Orsen Well's thriller in Rec Hall Saturday night are concerned, Washington and Jefferson can write its own ticket, on any Penn State sport schedule and be more than welcome. Saturday we were fortunate enough to see not only a great basketball game but one of the greatest displays of collegiate sportsmanship.

The author of this display was none other than Pete "Fats" Henry, all-time All-American tackle in his football days at W & J, and now graduate manager of athletics at that institution. Where even some Penn State rooters were willing to concede the Presidents a tie and permit the game to go into an overtime period, Henry admitted that his team's final goal came after the whistle had blown and therefore should not count.

A Real All-American

Unless one was watching for the unexpected, it was extremely difficult to make a decision on the Frank Merriwell finish of the tip and tuck basketball tilt. All readers no doubt know the facts. With a couple of minutes remaining, Coach Lawther's surprising cagers were leading by a safe margin, apparently headed for their first victory over the Presidents in three years.

Then suddenly, the W & J attack caught fire and with scant seconds left, the opponents had dwindled the lead to 31-33. Simultaneously, or so we thought, with the blowing of the final whistle, one of the Presidents let go a long shot from mid-court for what would have been the tying field goal.

Before any heated dispute could arise in this tense situation, "Fats" Henry officially gave the decision that spelt defeat for his team. Our hats off to a real All-American.

Pitt, S. Carolina Films Postponed Again

Because of the heavy demand for the appearance of Coach Bob Higgins at post-season grid functions, the movies of the Pitt and South Carolina football games, originally scheduled to be shown last Tuesday night, have been postponed indefinitely, it was announced yesterday by Elden T. Shaut '42, IMA head.

Coach Higgins has promised to show them at the earliest possible opportunity. Announcement of the date will be made in the Collegian.

This is the first year the IMA has attempted to show movies of Penn State football games.

15 More Boxers In Second Round Of IM Tourney

By DICK STEBBINS

Fifteen more fighters entered the second round of intramural boxing as the tourney resumed action in Rec Hall yesterday afternoon. Three TKO's were registered as several well-matched bouts took the spotlight.

The quickest TKO of the tournament was chalked up by Fred Krug who whipped Ed Ripling, in the independent division. The fight was stopped when Krug subdued Ripling after 27 seconds of the first round had elapsed. Jack Krauss assailed Ralph Ellingsen with a flurry of right hand punches in the second round to score the other TKO in the independent league.

The only technical knockout in the fraternity division came in the second round of the Wilson-Reimer battle, with Bill Reimer getting the nod.

In the 127-pound division, Jesse Hawthorne and Clair Hess fought a close battle with Hawthorne winning by virtue of his infighting.

The tourney will continue in Rec Hall at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Winners in yesterday's bouts were:

INDEPENDENT DIVISION

127-pound: Hawthorne, Penn State Club, decisioned Hess.

135-pound: Eno decisioned Stroud. Rockey decisioned Shoemaker.

145-pound: Krauss TKOed Ellingsen in second round. Krug TKOed Ripling, Watts Halls, in first round.

Lion Quintet Prepares For Bucknell After Defeating W & J, 33 To 31

Prexy Rally Halted By Timer's Whistle

By GORDON COY

Penn State's Nittany cagers, who staved off a desperate last-minute rally to defeat the Washington and Jefferson Prexies, 33-31, Saturday night, will attempt to keep their record unmarred when they battle Mall Musser's Bucknell passers in Rec Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Although they are pointing with confidence toward their third victory in tomorrow's encounter, John Lawther's Lions have not forgotten the matter of a few seconds that enabled them to defeat both W and J and the jinx that the Presidents have held over the Nittany men during the last three years.

Early in the final quarter, the Lions spurred ahead, 27-17, after Herk Baltimore and Larry Gent had tossed in a field goal apiece. Victory appeared almost certain for the Nittany five, just as it did one year ago when the Presidents rallied to overcome Penn State's lead and finally win 31-30 on a couple of foul tosses in the final seconds of the battle.

Again, as in last season's game, W and J rallied in the closing minutes of the fourth period Saturday night. With three minutes left to play, Penn State still enjoyed a 30-24 advantage. The visitors, led by Hartman and Kettlewell, began to whittle away at the Lions' lead; and at the end of the game, Mears tossed in a long shot which the timer said was thrown after the final whistle. Had the goal been good, the Prexies would have knotted the score and sent the game into an overtime period. Baltimore took scoring honors for the night with 15 points, while Hartman paced the Prexies' attack with 14 markers.

Proving themselves superior again, the freshman courtmen topped the junior varsity five, 32-23, in the preliminary tilt by rallying in the third quarter after a see-saw battle.

Cal Clements was high scorer for the '45 cagers with seven points, while Tom Sloan was the big gun for the upperclassmen by contributing eight tallies.

4 Gridmen Earn Unanimous Choice On Nittany All-Opponent Eleven

Four players, Stan Gervelis and Ralph Fife of Pitt, Henry Zajowski of Temple, and Stan Stasica of South Carolina, were the unanimous choice of Penn State's football squad and coaches who selected an all-opponent team yesterday.

Last year Andy Tomasic, Temple's triple-threat back, was the only player to be named on every ballot. In the selections, made yesterday, Tomasic was again named on the first team, but only by several votes over Edgar Jones of Pitt. Fife and Tomasic are the only two players to repeat from the 1940 selections, while Jones of Pitt and Sossaman of South Carolina, who were members of the first team last year, were dropped to second team positions this season.

Three sophomores were honored by the Nittany Lion varsity. Stan Stasica, sensational Gamecock halfback, Leo Benjamin, West Virginia's great defensive center, and Mike Micka, hard-hitting Colgate fullback, were all playing their first year of varsity ball this season.

FIRST TEAM

L.E. Gervelis, Pitt
L.T. Zajowski, Temple
L.G. Fife, Pitt
C. Benjamin, West Virginia
R.G. ... Applegate, South Carolina
R.T. Guenther, Colgate
R.E. Berthold, Syracuse
Q.B. Barnette, West Virginia
L.H. Stasica, South Carolina
R.H. Tomasic, Temple
F.B. Micka, Colgate

SECOND TEAM

Ends, Spelock, West Virginia, and Boroff, NYU; tackles, Kinney, Syracuse, and Carter, South Carolina; guards, Korba, Temple, and Scott, Colgate; center, Sossaman, South Carolina; backs, Wenrick, Bucknell; Jones, Pitt; Courtney, Syracuse; Sutch, Temple.

Honorable mention went to Ambrogio, end, Lehigh; Geyer, back, Colgate; McElwee, back, West Virginia; Drulis, back, Temple; Weber, guard, Syracuse; Kravonak, guard, and Arrowsmith, back, South Carolina.

So You're Saving Money?...

Well, you'll find out! Think how disappointed you are going to be when others tell you how much they have enjoyed Marian Anderson, Ruth Draper, Lauritz Melchior, and the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra!

Of course you may be able to buy single admissions for two or three of these, but you'll pay as much for them then as you will for all four of them now.

What we're trying to say is: Buy your series Artists' Course tickets now and save yourself half the cost of admissions to single numbers. Yes, tickets for Anderson, Draper, and the Orchestra, at $2.75 each. Even a freshman knows that $12.10 is double $6.05, the price at which they are now available!

WHEN? All day Tuesday.

WHERE? The A. A. ticket windows in Old Main.
