Modern Mary Gets Her Ram

"It's a good business, especially now, when the price of wool is going up-and, anyway, I have always liked sheep," commented Dorothy M. Boring '44, as she told how she paid half the expenses of her freshman year in College by raising sheep.

The whole thing started when Dorothy was a junior in Alexandria-Porter High School and president of the local 4-H Club. Because not enough members were raising sheep to meet national requirements, she talked her father into allowing her to purchase

Twice she has entered pens of lambs in the State Farm Show and placed fifth. Her pen of lambs was judged best in Huntingdon. County last year, and the sheriff awarded her "Billy," a registered Hampshire ram.

She is like Mary of nursery rhyme fame in that her lambs follow her about. But since going to home economics classes escorted by a ram would be rather difficult to explain, "Billy" is spending the winter on the farm of a friend and patiently waiting for Dorothy to come home next spring to shear him.
