

'Defense Week' To Start With 'Save Light Day'

Coeds To Observe Five-Day Program

In keeping with Eastern War Time, coeds will observe "Save Light Day" Monday as initial step in "Defense Week." The project is sponsored by WSGA House of Representatives and designed to encourage coeds to economize for National Defense.

"Defense Week presents an opportunity for all women to help in the present emergency," said Margaret K. Sherman, speaker, last night. Coeds are asked to turn out all lights not in use, especially after leaving for classes and during dinner.

Tuesday will be "Save Paper Day." Main objects of this plan are to save newspapers and magazines for collection, and to write on both sides of scrap paper. For the benefit of British War Relief, "Save Tinfoil Day" will be in effect Wednesday. Tinfoil from candy and cigarettes will be taken by House members.

Afghans for British War Relief will be made from yarn scraps to be gathered Thursday, "Save Yarn Day." Coeds are asked to let their eyes be no larger than their stomachs in observance of "Save Food Day" next Friday.

Claire Bernstein '42, Vivian M. Keast '42, and Pearl E. Koplovitz '44 were appointed by Miss Sherman as drive directors.

Rats Have Role In Food Exhibit

Albino rats, used for experimental study by juniors in nutrition, may be observed along with nutrition exhibits in 209 Home Economics from 3 to 5 p. m. Mondays and from 8 a. m. to noon Tuesdays. Mrs. Emma G. Welch, instructor, stated yesterday.

Six rats will be placed on deficient diets and developments will be tabulated for a 12-week period. Three other rats will be subject to "Natural Foods," "Good American," and "Poor American" diets.

Proteins and fats, weekly nutrition exhibit, will be displayed in 100 calorie portions.

C'Mon Worm,
Let's Wiggle!

I'm telling you! I'm hep on how to be a tricky icky. No more sour riffs for me. I took her to a show last night and got the dope right outa Cupid's mouth. Bounce one off her bean. She falls solid and pays off. I tell you, brother, you go see.

THE TAMING OF THE SHREW

The Penn State Players

55c (tax included)
Schwab Aud. Feb. 13-14

We, The Women Defense Work Needs Coed Cooperation

Beginning Monday coeds may demonstrate their desire to help the country through WSGA House of Representatives' "Defense Week" to promote national conservation.

Thus far coeds have contributed to the several defense enterprises half-heartedly, begrudgingly. And although women's organizations have wanted to help, they have been hindered by individual sluggishness.

An example of inertia has been shown in the call for coed blood donations which netted practically a nil response. The campaign's success depends upon 500 volunteers to bring a Red Cross unit to the campus. Most of us can afford to part with one-half pint which may mean salvation to hundreds of soldiers.

Bigger and better proposals for further coed defense work were suggested at the recent meeting of the coed coordinating committee on defense. Donating corsage money to the country, promoting engineering courses for Liberal Arts women, sending magazines to Pennsylvania army camps evolved from the maze of new ideas to put Penn State coeds back on their defense feet.

But these suggestions must be studied, examined in all lights before adoption by women leaders. The possibilities of such propositions are limitless. However, coed cooperation in present defense work, and campus-wide enthusiasm must prevail first before new work is undertaken.

—E. L. S.

Treating Blood Donations Through A Lighter Vein

By HEP GORDON '42
History's wrong! The Bloodless Revolution did not occur in England. It's happening on Penn State campus.

Maybe all this talk of blood just needs publicity of a lighter vein. After all, what's there to taking a little shot on the arm, having it "flow through here and come out there" to make a new man of some bomb-dodger or poor draftee on KP who loses his blood, and so forth at the sight of Friday fish.

Just how should one prepare for a donation? The Red Cross tells us to drink orange juice and munch plain crackers, but that doesn't get at the heart of the problem.

Our idea is to take a long swig of tomato juice, cause after all, there's a lot of coloration that'll

Ath Hall To Hold Tea In SE Unit

Atherton Hall will hold a tea in southeast lounge from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. today. There will be a musical program and refreshments.

Sara M. Bailey '43, unit social chairman, is in charge. Margaret L. Campsey '44 and Ann M. Reidy '44 will pour. Committee members are Florence P. Campanelli '43, Ruth E. Krocher '43 and Mary E. Sprecher '43.

Silent Period Eases Rushing

Relieving rushing tension for one day will be a strict silent period extending from 5 p. m. today until 1 p. m. Monday.

During this time there will be no contact between rushees and sorority women. No conversing before and after meals or association on campus is allowed.

Invitations for second group of informal parties should be taken to Panhellenic Post Office before 9 a. m. Monday. Invitations will be delivered to dormitory coeds, while town rushees will be notified to call for invitations at Student Union.

Rushees should answer by telephone before 3 p. m. Monday. Freshmen unable to call before should notify house later.

Expenditures for the second group of parties are included in the $20 budget. Expenditure sheets are due at Student Union the day after each party. Sheets for Saturday parties will be accepted Monday.

Lithographs On Display

A collection of black and white lithographs by contemporary artists will be on display in second floor Home Economics for two weeks. The collection was compiled by Miss Amy G. Gardner, associate professor of home economics and art education.

115 Coeds Heed Warning Of 'White Hall Watch Bird'

Badminton Most Popular Activity

The "White Hall Watch Bird's" poster efforts were rewarded last night when about 115 coeds participated in the new White Hall program organized by 60 physical education majors last week.

With instruction from majors, badminton was the most popular activity. Coeds waited in line for use of three courts in both gymnasium and Body Mechanics Room.

Almost everyone swam, and many participated in volleyball, basketball shooting practice, and bowling. Four ping pong and two bridge tables were in use, with social dancing to victrola music in the lobby.

Most coeds took advantage of coffee and doughnuts offered for five cents. Some went to White Hall before dates.

To increase use of White Hall during the week, physical education majors will post hours for swimming, badminton, and ping pong in all dormitories next week.

In addition, the dance club is considering organization of a folk dance group, open to all coeds as a chance to learn new steps.

Tryouts for intercollegiate post-

Women To Drive Public Vehicles

With trolley conductor, bus driver, and airplane pilot positions gradually being vacated by draftees, women are becoming ever more important in National Defense.

Investigators on the shortage of male labor problem are certain that in the future women operators will be needed to carry on local transportation.

Jacqueline Cochran, the first woman to pilot a bombing plane across the Atlantic, is sponsoring a women's ferry service, in connection with the RAF, to fly military planes from factories to bases.

Ruess Replaces Beljan

Jeanne E. Ruess '43 was recently elected recording secretary of Iota Sigma Pi, national women's chemistry honorary, to replace Josephine H. Beljan who graduated.

Going to an eight o'clock? Turn off your lights.

al bowling meets are now in progress. All women are eligible. To qualify, each coed must bowl no less than two games per time. At least six scores will be recorded.

STATE COLLEGE GOES NUTS!

State

BUY DEFENSE BONDS & STAMPS TODAY - MON. - TUES.

Broadway's craziest fun festival... comes the screener's wackies!

PLUS Donald Duck Cartoon

Donald does his part for National Defense in a parody on the income tax problems "THE NEW SPIRIT" TIME MAGAZINE SAYS... anesthetic blessing of laughter and great good humor... most effective job!

Next Saturday "DUMBO"

An Announcement

A readjustment in room rates has become necessary because of increasing operating cost.

On and after February 8th, 1942 our rates will be increased 10% for all transient guests. We feel certain that our patrons will understand.

The Nittany Lion Inn
Hotel State College

CLASSIFIED SECTION

PENN STATE'S famous Dry Dock Night Club will be open this Saturday, February 7. Make your reservation now at Student Union. Dry Dock will not be open again until March 7 and 14.
4tch 4, 5, 6, 7 G.

FIRST CLASS ROOM available in men's dorm $40 for rest of semester. Call treasurer, Phi Sigma Kappa 3331. Feb. 5-12 6tch RDS

FOR RENT — Desirable room for remainder of semester. $25. Call 2571. 3tch 5,6,7-JDO

DID YOU GO to Victory Ball, Drydock, or study in the library recently? If so, our rambling photographer snapped you. Stop at Collegian office between 5 and 6 o'clock for reprints at 25 cents each. 3 tcomp 6,7,10M

Middleton Names Style Show Heads

Margaret M. Rizza '43 and Ellen O. Head '43 were named co-chairmen of the Home Economics Club style show to be held in the Home Economics building Hospitality Day, April 11, announced Margaret E. Middleton '42, president.

Miss Middleton also appointed Dorothy I. Bodine '43 chairman of Talent Night, to be held at a regular club meeting February 13.

FOR SALE or FOR RENT—Hart, Schaeffner, Marx full dress suit, call 3437, Gibson's. Size 36. 1tch 7 M. B. D.

FOR SALE—Few Spalding stock Sweaters with numerals removed for $2.50 each. Apply 107 Old Main. 1tch 7 D. W.