Ski Squad Leaves For Colgate Today

Penn State's varsity skiers leave at noon today for Colgate University at Hamilton, N. Y., where they will compete in the Western Intercollegiate Ski Union Championships being held there tomorrow and Saturday.

Coach Max Dercum announced last night that four members of the squad will make the trip. They are Captain Max Peters, John Mendenhall, Charles Fairchild and Harry Funston. Henry Thurston, sophomore, is unable to make the trip because of a knee injury which occurred last week.

Ten major teams will enter the 600-point championship meet which will include a cross-country race, down hill race, jumping contest and slalom event. Other major teams entered are Colgate, Cornell, Syracuse, St. Lawrence and Ohio State.

The cross-country and down-hill races will be held on Friday, and the jumping and slalom events on Saturday. The two winning teams in the intermediate group will be advanced to the senior division, and the two losing teams of the senior division will replace them in the intermediate group.

Coach Dercum announced last night that Cornell, Colgate and Penn State will compete in a quadrangular meet during the Third Annual Pennsylvania Ski Championships scheduled to be held at the Ski Trail on Bald Top Mountain February 21 and 22.

Annual Circus Revue, April 25, To Include Over 300 Students

Penn State's Revue will be presented for the fourth consecutive year on April 25, according to an announcement made by Gene Wettstone last night. This year's show, he said, will be bigger and better than ever with more than 300 students taking part.

Staged and produced entirely by the students, this production will have humor, entertainment, skills and acts displayed against a colorful setting. Special music prepared by Frank Gullo of the music department and by the stringed ensemble will provide a background for the show. Fraternity skits will be called for about April 1.

George Wheeler and his Athletic Ballet are the visiting artists this year. Mr. Wheeler is known as "America's greatest gymnast of all time." He is a science teacher in the Washington, Pa., high school, and has been unapproachable in competition for the last five years, it was said.

In an entirely new setting the outstanding men and women team leaders will be presented along with the outstanding athlete of the year. The queen and her attendants, who represent the schools of the college, will initiate a two-hour program in twelve scenes, whose theme will be "All Penn State"—what the College has done and is doing toward recognizing leadership, talent, and physical fitness.

HERK BALTIMORE

OWL KILLER—Herk Baltimore, pivot ace for the Lion basketball team, personally led the scoring attack against Temple last night with a total of 15 points.

Cavalier Boxers Seek Fifth Win

A tough battle is scheduled for Leo Houck's boxing team when the Virginia Cavaliers invade Rec Hall Saturday night gunning for their fifth straight victory of the season.

All York's punchers rolled up a 5½-2½ win over VPI in their initial tilt and continued to pad their unblemished record by whipping North Carolina 5-3 and Western Maryland 4½-2½. The Virginia squad decided a supposedly tough aggregation from Florida last Saturday by a 5½-2½ count.

The undefeated Virginia lineup is headed by Tommy Thomason in the 121 class, who is in his second year of boxing. Thomason gained a draw at VPI and was TKOed by a North Carolinian but won in the Western Maryland meet. He was decided on at Florida.

Jim McIver, 127 pounder, up from the frosh team last year, has two losses and two draw bouts to his record, but is shifty and can hit if given an opening.

Feature bout of the evening should be the Homer Hoffman-Willie Barnett go in the 135 weight. Hoffman has racked up two second round technical knockouts this season while his opponent received the first two defeats of his entire career against Western Maryland and Florida. Barnett, twice South Atlantic scholastic champ and never defeated in high school or on the frosh team, decided his VPI and North Carolina foes.

In the 145 division, Bill Victor of the Cavaliers, will probably meet Captain Bob Baird or Ernie George who has been pushing Baird hard for the starting berth this week.

Frank Null, 155 pound pugilist who fought on the frosh team last year, should give Bill Richards plenty of trouble when they clash Saturday. Null captured two decisions before the Florida meet in which he coasted to victory over a capable contender.

Probably one of the most skillful boxers on the team, who clouts in the 165 weight, is Captain Ken Rathbun. Rathbun has three decisions to his credit this season.

Ken's 175 pound brother Norman has a commendable record so far with two decisions, one draw, and one loss. In the unlimited class, Cavalier Milton Parlow, tackle on the football team, has made a good showing by racking up three wins.

Nittanymen Score 6th Straight Victory

By GORDON COY

Penn State's Lions roared a decisive warning throughout the Eastern basketball stronghold last night as they routed the visiting Temple Owls in Rec Hall 46-33, to ring up their sixth straight victory.

Capitalizing on a first-half scoring "blitz," the Nittany cagers forged far out in front early in the tilt and then coasted through to their 11th victory in 13 games played this season.

Led by big Herk Baltimore, who took scoring honors with 15 points, the Lions broke a 4-4 deadlock in the opening minutes of the game, and from then on were never headed. It was the Nittany courtmen's first home appearance since midway in December, and they took advantage of the debut by walloping the Owls 29-11 during the first half.

Following the half-time intermission, however, the visitors regained some of the spark that they recently displayed in defeating New York University. With only six minutes left to play, Temple edged to within nine points of the Lions, but Penn State nipped the rally despite the loss of three players via the personal foul route.

During the first half, Coach John Lawther's quintet presented an almost unbeatable combination as the Lions' questionable offense clicked just as well as their famed sliding zone defense. The result was obvious as Baltimore, Larry Gent, and John Egli shared the brunt of the attack with eight, seven, and seven points, respectively.

The second half was a different story, however, as Temple outscored Penn State, 22-17. With both teams playing a rough game, personal fouls dominated the closing minutes of the battle. Out of the 38 personals called by the officials, Penn State accounted for 18 and Temple 20.

Continuing his commendable foul-shooting record, Elmer Gross tallied five points in five tosses from the free-throw line, to bring his season's total to 33 out of 41.

The summaries:

IM Basketball Teams To Begin Battle Sunday

The intramural basketball season will be inaugurated Sunday in Rec Hall when 12 teams pair off for initial encounters in the fraternity and independent sections.

Under the management of Wilbur Van Lenten and Max Chenoweth, the two sections will be divided into leagues of four teams each. The winners of each section will play-off in tournament style for the two championship awards.

Forty-four teams make up the roster of the fraternity league, while 33 squads represent independent units.

Nittany Track Squad To Enter 13 Runners In Penn A. C. Competition

Thirteen members of Penn State's indoor track team will leave today for the Friday the 13th Penn A. C. meet in Philadelphia's Convention Hall to compete with 300 of the nation's top athletes.

Barney Ewell, who tied the world's indoor 60-yard dash record at the Millrose Games Saturday, will lead the running element of the squad, while Joe Bakura, pole vaulting captain of the 1942 team, will head the point-gathering field squad.

Barney will try for his second Penn A. C. victory in the 50-yard sprint. The Nittany veteran won the title in his sophomore year when he set a world's record of 5.1 in the half-century sprint. He lost his title last year when he was upset by Tom East, Cheney (Pa.) State Teachers speedster, who will be in the field tomorrow night.

Norm Gordon, second-place winner in the Millrose "1,000" and Gerald Karver, freshman IC4A cross country champion, have been entered in the Pennac Mile against Campbell Kane, 4:11 miler from Indiana, and John Borican, indoor 600-yard and 1,000-yard record holder.

Karver has turned in some of his best times in Philadelphia, one of them a 4:24 mile at last year's Penn Relays. However, the major share of his titles were won right here in State College since he was State cross-country champion in 1939 and 1940 and mile and half-mile winner in the past two spring cinder championships.

The high jump department will be handled by Orvis Krug and Johnny Glenn, both of whom have leaped over 6 feet in practice on uprights on the Rec Hall floor.

Barney Plesser will run in the 50-yard high and low hurdle events and Don Dolbin, senior sprinter, will compete with Barney against a dash field composed of Herb Thompson, Tommy East, and Jose Bento de Assis, highly-publicized Brazilian sprinter.

198 IM Wrestling Aspirants Weigh In

Fraternity and Independent interest in the intramural wrestling tournament is indicated by the large number of entrants, according to Robert R. Coleman '44, co-chairman of the annual competition. A total of 198 wrestling aspirants have weighed in.

Action in the two divisions is expected to start this weekend, but may be put off until Monday, depending upon the speed in getting the fight-brackets in order by Coleman and co-chairman Gilbert Weinberger.

In the fraternity division, Alpha Chi Sigma placed the greatest number of entrants with 17. Alpha Gamma Rho placed the second largest number with 12; Alpha Chi Pi was third with 8. In both divisions the 145-pound weight classification had the greatest number of aspirants.

Fraternity men will be notified 24 hours in advance as to the time for their bouts. Independents will know about their times to wrestle 48 hours in advance. Failure to appear at the appointed time will result in an automatic forfeit, according to the co-chairmen.

There are 32 men in the 145-pound fraternity class; 11 in the independent class. Next largest weight classification is the 136-pound with 25 fraternity wrestlers and 14 independent entrants.

Mat Time Changed

Both the freshman and varsity wrestling matches Saturday afternoon have been scheduled to begin earlier than originally announced. The yearlings will meet Wyoming Seminary at 12:30 in the afternoon and Coach Charlie Spidel's conquering Lions will clash with the West Virginia visitors at 2 p. m.
