

IFC Dating Code Gets Final Okay By College Senate

The new Interfraternity Council dating code passed its final barrier yesterday and will go into effect immediately, provided no dissenting voice is heard from the Senate Committee on Student Welfare by Thursday evening.

Terminating three months of discussion, the Senate committee approved IFC's action yesterday with several "editorial" changes. The new code will be altered accordingly and distributed to the members of the committee.

If no disapprovals of the code are reported to Thomas J. L. Henson '42, president of IFC, by Thursday evening then the Council can consider the new code passed.

Prof. MacLean M. Babcock, chairman of the Senate committee, pointed out that the essential difference between the new and old codes was the "mixed drinking" clause.

The new code provides that "mixed drinking, or the serving of alcoholic drinks, shall be prohibited in fraternity houses at any time women guests are present..." and that violations would be dealt with accordingly.

The wording in regard to "mixed drinking" was clarified by Professor Babcock. The code was amended slightly so that there would be no question of its intent.

Prof. Marsh W. White, member of the committee, said the action of Interfraternity Council is to be commended and is acceptable, except for the few changes that were made.

Following action by WSGA and All-College Cabinet, IFC began revision of its dating code in December. At the February 12 meeting of the Council Robert F. Wilson '42 submitted the new code and it was passed.

Eight Chosen To Represent College In Extempore-Discussion Contest

Chosen to represent Penn State in the district finals to be held on campus, March 21, in the National Extempore-Discussion Contest, were Nathan M. Cohen '44, James B. Craig '44, Gaylord W. Greenlee '45, Sara M. Bailey '43, Harold Epstein '44, Bernard M. Weinberg '43, Robert S. MacNabb '45, and Stanley J. Chmielewski '44, at the conclusion of last night's local eliminations.

Milton J. Bergstein '44, Wilbur S. Bull '44, Rosalind B. Schnitzer '45, and J. Letrick Harris '45, were chosen as alternates.

Twenty-eight contestants participated in four round table discussions of one hour on the contest topic, "How Can We Best Implement The Good Neighbor Policy? That Is, Best Promote Cooperation and Friendship Among Pan-American Nations?"

Following the discussions each entrant delivered a five to seven minute speech on his own individual ideas concerning the subject. Judges' decisions were based on both the discussions and the speeches.

Judges for the contest were Prof. Paul R. Daugherty, Vito J. DiVincenzo, Harrison H. Arnold, and Prof. Joseph W. Fosa, of the Spanish department; Raymond W. Tyson, Merritt B. Jones, and George

ROTC Summer Camp Dropped During War

Upperclassmen enrolled in advanced ROTC are no longer required to attend Summer camp as a requisite for graduation, according to a ruling passed yesterday by the Council of Administration upon the recommendation of the department of military science and tactics.

The six-weeks' Summer camp work, ROTC 7 for infantry and ROTC 17 for engineers, will not be required for the duration of the war or for six months after its completion.

The Council yesterday also approved the date for the annual graduation parade. It will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. on May 4, or, if weather conditions interfere, on May 6. Classes will be dismissed for the parade.

78 Ag Students Make Dean's List

Seventy-eight students earned a minimum average of 2.5 to qualify for Dean's List of the School of Agriculture.

Of this number, six students have been listed consecutively since the Honor Roll was started in the first semester of the 1939-40 term. They are: Miles J. Ferree '42, Archibald M. Hyson '43, John S. Kookogey '42, Karl H. Norris '42, Jack E. Paulhamus '43, and Daniel A. Swope Jr. '42.

The Dean's List, according to classes, follows:

Seniors—Sam Asen, Stephen G. Burgess Jr., Robert S. Christ, Harold F. Doran, David C. Fahsinger, Bernard A. Feldman, Paul M. Felton, Miles J. Ferree, John F. Fishburn, Louise W. Fox, Walter L. Haldeman, Walter Jacoby, Cornelius J. Kell Jr., John S. Kookogey, Miss Pao-Wah Lee, John F. Lutz, Joseph F. Mattick, Karl H. Norris, John M. Phillips, Anthony J. Piccola, George W. Reinbold Jr., Merwin H. Reines, Murray H. Ringold, Drew Schwartz, Benjamin L. Seem, David Segal, Mark E. Singley, (Continued on Page Two)

Draftee Credit Rule Clarified

The amount of credit to be allowed students who leave College before the completion of a semester because of the draft has been further clarified with the release of regulations covering the subject.

Submitted by the Committee on Academic Standards and approved by the Council of Administration, the regulations follow:

1a. If, either by direct order from the military authorities or through the action of a Selective Service Board, a senior is called into active service within five weeks of the end of the semester or term in which he is a candidate for the bachelor's degree, he shall be granted a degree if he is satisfactorily passing all the required courses.

1b. If such a senior, however, is deficient in a small number of grade points in addition to the shortage of credits caused by his early withdrawal, he shall feel free to present his case to the Committee on Academic Standards.

2. If a senior who has been called to the armed forces is deficient in not more than six grade points but has otherwise satisfied all resident requirements and passed all courses prescribed for the bachelor's degree, he may be granted his degree.

3. Any student who, during any given semester, is called into the active service of the armed forces either by direct order of military authorities or through the action of a Selective Service board, shall have the work of his uncompleted semester dealt with on the following basis:

a. If he has completed seven weeks but less than ten full weeks (Continued on Page Two)

STCD Gets 560 Enrollments In First Registration Day

Registrants Accepted Until 9:30 Tonight

Approximately 560 enrollments in 46 defense "short courses" have been received for the Student Training for Civilian Defense program as registration enters its second and concluding day. A corps of faculty registrars will again be at its posts in Rooms 1, 2, and 3 Carnegie Hall from 6:30 to 9:30 o'clock this evening.

Courses which attracted the most enrollments in yesterday's registration were, in order, First Aid, Radio Code, Office Methods, Personnel Work, Solution of Coded Messages, Farm Tractor Maintenance and Operation, Explosions and Demolition, and Civilian Defense Welding.

Of the pre-induction courses offered by the ROTC department, Rifle Marksmanship and Musketry held the lead in popularity, followed by Gas Defense and Company Administration.

Registration in a number of the civilian defense courses was light. Indications were, however, that enough support would be mustered in tonight's registration to warrant giving most of the courses originally proposed.

Instruction will get under way tomorrow when all classes scheduled to meet Wednesday evenings will hold their first meeting. In any courses having enrollments deemed insufficient to warrant proceeding with classes, the registrants will be given an opportunity to sign up for other courses, according to Millard T. Bunnell, coordinator of the STCD program.

In other cases, Mr. Bunnell added, enrollment may be limited by laboratory or other facilities, and final acceptance of enrollments in some of these courses will depend upon available facilities.

NO CORSAGES, PLEASE — H. Leonard Krouse, senior class president, revealed last night that defense stamps and patriotic ribbons would be in vogue for Senior Ball Friday night instead of the customary corsages.

Senior Ball Has 'No Corsage' Plan

In keeping with the national emergency program, the Senior Ball committee revealed its plans last night for a "no corsage" dance. Crowning of the Senior Queen and a grand march will feature the annual affair on Friday night.

H. Leonard Krouse, senior class president, stated that he was disappointed with student reaction to the corsage proposal.

"I was at a conference of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Student Government Association last weekend," Krouse said, "and other colleges have had 'no corsage' dances or stamp corsage affairs that have been cooperated with wholeheartedly."

Explaining the setup for Friday night, the senior class president added that students would buy defense stamps at Student Union. The stamps will then be put into the dance program, which is in the form of a defense stamp booklet.

Purchasers of the stamps will receive a red, white, and blue ribbon which will serve as a corsage.

Following the crowning of a Senior Queen, who will be chosen this year in place of a May Queen, all seniors will parade across the dance floor. The march will be led by the queen and her date, and followed by Krouse, as senior class president, and his date.

Then senior ball committee decided to give all profits to defense organizations. These won't be decided until the amount of the profit is determined.

Freshmen Collegian Candidates To Meet

All freshmen candidates for The Daily Collegian Editorial staff should meet in 9 Carnegie Hall tonight at 7 p.m. for an important meeting, Ross B. Lehman, Editor of The Daily Collegian has announced.

It is important that any freshman men or women who have not reported to previous meetings and are interested in working on Penn State's daily paper should come to this meeting.

Tucker Names 16 For Players' Show

Director Lawrence E. Tucker, department of dramatics, released yesterday the cast of 16 for the Players' next show "Mr. and Mrs. North." He said the play will be presented on both March 20 and 21 instead of only March 21 was announced last week.

Donald R. Taylor '42 and Elinor F. Herrman '42 will play the leading roles of Gerald North and his hairbrained wife Pam North. Harold J. Raab '42 is cast as the Fuller Brush Man who has a flair for sleuthing.

The remainder of the cast, with only four parts still to be filled, follows: Harold Chidnoff '45, Cooper; Doris S. Lavine '44, Mrs. Brooks; Milton Dollinger '44, Timothy Barnes; Jerome N. Haimsohn '42, Mr. Buono; Sol G. Joffe '44, Lieutenant Weigand.

Jean E. Hershberger '43, Claire Brent; James J. Ambandos '44, Mullens the detective; Joanne M. Palmer '43, Jane Wilson; John S. Keck '42, Louis Berex; William E. Reimer '45, Ben Wilson; and Hugh M. Ridall '45, O'Malley.

1,000 At Open House

More than 1,000 persons attended the first Old Main Open House Friday night, said Gerald B. Stein '44, general chairman. Stein said he thought another similar program will be conducted within a month, college calendar permitting.

Late News Flashes...

WASHINGTON — In a fighting speech to the nation last night, President Franklin D. Roosevelt stressed three points in the pursuance of victory in the war. He said there must be unlimited and uninterrupted production; special favors must not be asked by any group; and the whole country must be willing to make sacrifices. He declared that propaganda and rumors, if believed by the people, are one of the Axis's most powerful weapons. He showed the vital trade routes which he said must be kept open.

He also repeated the figures concerning the attack on Pearl Harbor, adding that U. S. forces are continually inflicting similar damage upon the Japanese.

WASHINGTON — An official war bulletin stated that American planes bombed a Japanese air-drome on the island of Bali. Six enemy planes were said to have been destroyed.

CALCUTTA — Dispatches from here stated that British forces are holding their own all along the lines in Burma, although gravely threatened by Japanese advances.

WASHINGTON — The Dies committee reported the seizure of several maps found on Japanese spies, which disclosed the complete plans for the Nipponese attack on Pearl Harbor.