WSGA Senate Seniors To Nominate Next Year's Candidates For Officers

Coeds To Add Names At Mass Meeting

Nominations for next year's WSGA officers will be made by senior WSGA Senate members at 10:30 a. m. Saturday and after Senate meeting Wednesday night, announced Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president, last night.

Nominees will be announced next week and will be presented at a mass meeting at which floor nominations will be added. The date of the mass meeting has not been announced.

Nominating committee members include Miss Babcock, Anne M. Borton, Margaret R. Roberts, Jeanne C. Stiles, and Mildred M. Taylor.

It was decided that election polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. Posters containing voting hour information will be placed in dormitory lobbies and in Old Main lobby. WSGA Senate members will also make personal contacts with women to encourage voting.

Lila A. Whollery was appointed junior elections committee member.

Miss Stiles, WSGA Judicial Committee chairman, and Jane A. Stanton '42, Committee member, will consider clarification and revision of women's regulations, as affected by the three-semester basis, and present changes to WSGA Senate for approval Wednesday. Main consideration will be freshman regulations.

Miss Borton suggested that sophomores be placed on the Junior-Senior Reception committee to receive training for next year's work.

Twelve freshman women from McAllister Hall and the Anchorage held an exchange dinner with men at Fairmount Hall last night.
