

Women Urged To Attend Elections Mass Meeting

WSGA To Present Officer Nominees

WSGA elections will begin with a women's mass meeting in the auditorium from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, stated Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president, at a WSGA Senate meeting last night.

All coeds are urged to be present to make floor nominations, following presentation of candidates, to be selected by senior WSGA members this week. WRA candidates will also be announced.

Preliminaries will be held in the first floor lounge, Old Main, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Thursday, March 12, and finals from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 17.

It was suggested that WSGA present second-semester freshman women with PSCA handbooks at the Junior Service Board tea Saturday, so that freshman regulations may be clarified for them.

Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA vice-president, moved that WSGA appropriate $25 for a ping pong table in one of the Atherton Hall lounges. This will be used by coeds and their dates on weekends.

Grant, Painter To Lead Talks

First in a series of four PSCA Lenten study groups will be held in the Presbyterian Church at 4 o'clock today. Christine R. Grant '43 and Clifford M. Painter '44 will lead a discussion on "The Life of Jesus." Organ music will be played during the service.

Leaders of later study groups include K. Elizabeth Howe '42, J. Howard Mendenhall '42, Agnes Peebles, graduate student, Kenneth F. Moist '43, Harriet G. VanRiper '44, and Ralph W. Harris '45.

To Coeds Who Want To Keep 'Em Flying

The following letter was recently received at the dean of women's office:

"Dean: We have been elected to organize a Soldier-Coed Club. Its purpose is to correspond with coeds. At the present, our Coed Club includes coeds from Southern California, Michigan, Pitt, Minnesota, Columbia, NYU, William and Mary, and we hope your fine school is included.

"Have coeds interested write to: Pvt. E. Balchun, or Pvt. R. Pesavento, 446th Ordnance Co. (Aviation Bomb), Langley Field, Va.

"P. S. Help Keep 'Em Flying."

Panhellenic Organization

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles discussing organization and duties of Panhellenic Council.)

Panhellenic Council transacts most of its business through four standing or special committees for projects such as the Panhel Sing and Booklet.

Consisting of three delegates, the committee on rushing formulates a tentative code, which must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Council. Main duty of the committee on eligibility for initiation is to advise sororities concerning scholarship of prospective members and to secure official grades from the dean of women's office for coeds about to be initiated.

Three delegates comprise a committee to regulate social policies of the Council; fourth standing committee is the executive, of which officers are members.

Any chapter breaking regulations on rushing or pledging is reported to the grand president of the offending chapter and to the National Panhellenic Congress. A Judiciary Board, composed of three women from City Panhellenic who represent sororities without local chapters, acts upon rushing violations.

Pledges automatically expire at the end of a year but a coed may be re-pledged. All cases of broken or expired pledges are announced at the first meeting of Panhel, following such action.

Any pledge leaving College before she is initiated is still considered a pledge for one calendar year, whether or not she attends another college. No coed is eligible for re-pledging for another calendar year from the time her pledge was released or "broken." An All-College average of "1" is required for initiation.

AOPi Cops 32-22 Win From Phi Mu

Alpha Omicron Pi defeated Phi Mu basketballers, 32 to 22, yesterday. At the half AOPi held a 12-point lead over the losers.

AOPi's Betty Widger, Florence Gregory, Jean Fox, Ann Drivas, Ginny Bloom, and Laila Dunkleberger stood Phi Mu's Olive Van Houton, Betty Wiley, Mary Werts, Bea White, Ione Cramer, and Julia Adams.

Betty Widger scored high with 16 points for AOPi, while Mary Werts came through with 19.

Flash-Back Shows IM Cup Travelled During Its Time

With teams competing for climatic points for the WRA intramural cup, a glance into past contests shows champs from '34 until now representing nearly every campus sorority and independent group.

Back in '34 Resident Women walked off with sports honors, while McAllister Hall won the cup in '35. Philotes and Kappa Kappa Gamma were winners in '36 and '37 respectively.

Chi Omega was '38 champion. The following year, an unusual sports twist occurred when three teams tied for the cup. Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Gamma, and Atherton West chalked up an equal number of points for the award.

In 1940, Chi Omega won again. In another flashback into historic sporting events, the WRA handbook tells that Kappa Alpha Theta won archery laurels for two consecutive years, '39 and '40. In 1939, intramural table tennis was tied up between Atherton West and Alpha Epsilon Phi.

Kappa Alpha Theta leads this year's intramural rating with 18 points toward the cup. Alpha Omicron Pi trails five points behind. Less than 24 points remain between '42 victors and the cup.

18 Will Attend Pocono Confab

Thirteen students and five College representatives will attend the annual Pocono Conference of the Student Christian Movement at Buckhill Fall Inn this weekend.

Leaving Friday are Harry W. Seamans, general PSCA secretary; Miss Agnes E. Highsmith, associate PSCA secretary; Miss Gilma M. Olson, instructor of home economics; Miss Ione V. Sikes, associate director of the Westminster Foundation; Hubert Snyder, alumnus.

J. Howard Mendenhall '42, Janette Parker '43, Gerald E. Balsbaugh '44, Herbert K. Kraybill '44, Clifford M. Painter '44, Harriet G. VanRiper '44, Phyllis R. Watkins '44, Lois H. Weaver '44, LaRue Casey '45, Frank P. Graham Jr. '45, Edward D. Lenker '45, Lois C. Lohrke '45, and Claire L. Weaver '45.

Phi Mu pledges entertained activities at a party in honor of Founders' Day last night.

WANTS OPINIONS—Frances E. Haley '43, Panhellenic Council president, urges interested persons to attend an open meeting in 305 Old Main at 7 o'clock tonight to consider revision of the rushing code.

We, The Women Any Ideas Today? Voice Them Tonight

Probably most criticized of all women's regulations is Panhellenic Council's rushing code. Each year, rushees, sorority women, independents, and faculty women express opinions—seldom favorable.

Each year, Panhel formulates a new code, hoping to remedy some of the faults. The code is invariably picked apart the following rushing season.

This is not a defense of the rushing code. We, too, think that changes, modifications, and clarification are badly needed. It is, however, a partial defense of Panhellenic Council—a defense based on the fact that its members strive constantly to better the code.

Tonight in 305 Old Main, the Council has called an open meeting. Any interested person is urged by executives to attend, ask questions, and express opinions. Specific suggestions for changes in the new code will be welcomed.

To hope that Panhel could formulate a rushing code which would please everybody would be idealistic. To believe that the code could be improved if fault-finders would attend the meeting and express opinions is logical.

Theta Phi Alpha will entertain its patronesses at a coffee hour at 7:30 tonight.

Juniors To Revise Coed Orientation

To initiate second semester orientation, WSGA Junior Service Board will entertain freshman and transfer women at a tea in Women's Building lobby from 2 to 3 p. m. Saturday.

Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, will assist as hostesses. Guests include Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women; Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, Miss Nina M. Bentley, and Miss Ruth Zang, assistants to the dean of women; and Women's Building freshmen.

In charge of arrangements are Martha N. Albert, entertainment; Anne C. Dorworth, Ann Drivas, Gladys E. Fitting, and Janet V. Holmes, clean-up; and Jean A. Kelly, Lorraine E. Thomas, and Marjorie R. Zint, refreshments.

Club Initiates 50

Fifty coeds were initiated into Home Economics Club at a candle light service in the Home Economics Auditorium last night. Of this number, 29 were freshmen, 14 sophomores, and 7 juniors. Margaret E. Middleton '42, president, presided.
