

WSGA Senate Outlines Candidates' Qualifications

MacKinney Lists WRA Standards

Qualifications for WSGA officers were announced by WSGA Senate last night, pending floor nominations at the women's mass meeting in Schwab Auditorium from 8:30 to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

They include at least a 1.5 All-College average and no struggle to maintain scholastic standing. Activities are important, but must be limited in number, the amount to be determined by the nominating committee.

A nominee must have had previous experience in holding responsibility and be willing to accept it, in addition to being efficient.

A candidate must be willing to express ideas and to be firm in regard to rules. Other qualifications include tact, good appearance, a likeable disposition, and high standards of conduct.

Nominations for WRA vice-president and treasurer may also be made from the floor at the mass meeting, Patricia MacKinney '43, WRA vice president, stated last night.

As presidential candidates must have served for one year on WRA Board, nominations for this office will be made by the executive committee. Losing candidate automatically will become WRA secretary, said Miss MacKinney.

Nominees for vice-president and treasurer must be members of the class of '44, and must have 1.2 All-College average or better. Vice-presidential candidates should be able to assume the duty of social chairman of the organization, while the treasurer will act as intramural head.

All those who feel that they have a candidate who answers these qualifications are urged by Miss MacKinney to present her at the meeting. A list of activities that the nominee has actively participated in up to the present time must also be presented then.

WSGA Revises Frosh Rules

Changes in freshman women's customs as they will appear in next semester's handbook, were announced by Jeanne C. Stiles '42, WSGA Judicial chairman, last night.

A first semester change states that for the first two months following the three-week no-dating period, freshman women may have three dates per weekend, Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday until 5 p. m. Two one o'clock permissions will be granted each month, to be taken either Friday or Saturday nights. Other dates will end at 11 p. m.

The original rule allowed for a one o'clock, a ten o'clock, and a Sunday date until 5:30 p. m. each weekend for the full semester. The new regulation was incorporated because second-semester rules will be lighter.

During the second semester, freshmen must be in their dormitories at 10 p. m. instead of 9 p. m. They will be permitted to associate with men off campus during the day.

Drummond Speaks

Dr. Laura W. Drummond, director and professor of home economics, attended a regional conference in Philadelphia yesterday. Dr. Drummond will discuss "Consumer's Information and Nutrition" at the Delaware County Federation of Women's Club at Media today.

Emanon, women's local fraternity, will entertain pledges and guests at a formal dinner-dance in the Nittany Lion Inn from 6 to midnight today.

We, The Women

Aw, C'mon— Let's Be Good

You may stop reading right here—if you voted at Senior Queen elections last week. If you did, you're a good little coed and you'll probably turn out for WSGA-WRA elections next week—unless none of your sorority sisters are running for offices.

Of course, you may nominate one of your "sisters" from the floor at the women's mass meeting in the auditorium Wednesday night. Or you may bribe one of them to nominate you if you're enough interested in student government. Isn't that nice and democratic?

Then there's the independent woman's angle. We're trying to get this "democracy" idea across. You independents may get in there and sling in a couple of your colleagues as candidates, just to burn up the sorority women.

We have a point here. You see, only 300 coeds turned out for Senior Queen elections, and we think it would be an awful sock in democracy's ego if the same thing happened at next week's elections.

Women are becoming pretty powerful little bugs around here, what with men joining the army and navy and a coed taking over All-College elections. If this draft keeps up, heaven knows how much power coeds will get.

So if you think you can spare a few minutes of your time to enjoy your democratic privileges, how about turning up at the mass meeting and polls next week?

In other words, for pete's sake, vote!

Coeds Will Dance As Club Guests

Coeds of northwest, Atherton Hall, are invited to a dance given by members of the Penn State Club in the unit at 9 o'clock tonight, Marie E. Weiss '44, chairman of the committee announced yesterday.

Jitterbug contests, Virginia reels, and special features will set off the dance after which refreshments will be served.

Other members of the committee are Janet Herzog '42, Jeannette Salkin '42, unit president and Dorothy I. McMann '44, who are working in cooperation with R. Donald Krigger '44, Penn State Club social chairman.

Murray Calls Letters

Alice M. Murray '42, Mortar Board president, requests that all Mortar Board recommendation letters be in the Dean of Women's office by noon tomorrow. Letters were sent to women the beginning of the week asking for suggestions for possible honorary members.

Pi Kappa Alpha entertained Kappa Alpha Theta at dinner last night.

James, who will conclude an engagement at the Meadowbrook in New Jersey on March 26, had not been scheduled to appear in Hollywood until April 3. However, the film corporation's option makes it necessary for him to report several days in advance.

In an earlier vote, IFC had decided by a slim margin, to change the date of IF Ball to April 10 and to sign Charlie Barnett, on whom it also holds an option. Permission had been obtained from the Student Union Board to make this date change if necessary. Owing to dissent to this proposal by a large minority of fraternities, however, a revote was conducted after discussion, which resulted in leaving the date at March 27 and deciding on Lopez.

Defense Head Reports U. S. Needs Women For Victory

With science and health as keynotes to victory, trained women are needed to replace men in home defense obs, according to Mrs. Raleigh Gilchrist, national Mortar Board defense committee chairman.

Behind the pilot, a long line of workers must manufacture daily the 20,000 parts to a bomber besides the engine. "Increased use of airplanes, radios, and tanks has changed war from a mass of marching men to a steadily growing army of factory mechanics and assembling crews," she said.

Shortage of men trained in mathematics and physics demands more women to serve in factories and ordnance plants as draftsmen, inspectors, and scientific aids, Mrs. Gilchrist reported.

Following war destruction, epidemic threats must be conquered—cholera, dysentery, and typhus. Urgent calls for doctors, nurses, dentists, nurses aides, dieticians, and cooks must be answered.

In the scientific field of mathematics and background the army has asked Civil Service for 200 college women (later to increase to 1,000) who have had at least three years of college to work as scientific aides, inspectors, and draftsmen in ordnance plants. The navy and private concerns are making the same requests. College defense training courses are being offered in order for women to qualify.

Mrs. Gilchrist declared that for women interested in medical technician fields, openings are offered in laboratory work including work such as blood tests and urine analysis. Coeds may qualify in their last year of college, she said. Medical courses are being concentrated in order to turn out more doctors and dentists for civilian defense.

Various types of jobs are available in radio fields—radio machine workers, air craft spotters, and coast defenders to give firing orders.

"Desperate pleas for nursing must be satisfied," stated Mrs. Gilchrist. At some universities an R. N. degree can be secured with an A. B. in five years. To assist in hospitals, 10,000 nurse aides ranging in age from 20 to 50 years are needed. Red Cross training requires 150 hours of voluntary service in a year.

Because of social adjustment problems arising in defense areas, factories and dormitories are pressed for personnel workers.

Panhel Aims To Cut Rush Expenses; May Start Preferential Balloting

Outstanding aim of Panhellenic Council in formulating its new rushing code will be reduction of expenses, in keeping with the national program, explained Frances E. Haley '43, Council president.

A cross-section of 30 sorority women, including pledge presidents and rushing chairmen, met last night to criticize the old code and offer suggestions for a new one, which will regulate association over three semesters.

Although no definite action was taken, majority of the panel participants agreed that formal dinners are disproportionately expensive. It was suggested that a formal tea be substituted. Another suggestion for cutting expenses was to discard party favors.

Dorm Downs DG's, 51-20

Ath East downed DG's 51 to 20 in the second night of the volleyball tournament. Mary Jane Cook, playing for Ath Hall, was high scorer with 20 points. AOPi edged out the Kappa team 47 to 32 after a close second half. Sis Fitting scored 19 points for AOPi. Tuesday AOPi will play Chi Omega, and the winner will play Ath East for the championship Thursday.

In badminton, ZTA team 1, June Conrad and Connie Reddig, beat DG team 2, Barbara Keast and Martha James, 3 to 0. ZTA team 3, Nora Ames, won from Kappa Delta Skip Scrivanich.

Honor Women To Give Tea

Transfers and first semester freshman women are urged by Natalie A. Siebert '43, WSGA Junior Service Board president, to attend a tea in Women's Building from 2 to 3 p. m. tomorrow. Members of WSGA Senate, Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will be co-hostesses with Service Board.

Name cards will be presented to every coed attending. M. Jane McChesney '45 will sing, accompanied by Jane G. Ludwig '44, and Ruby Lee '43 will play the piano.

Guests will include Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, Misses Nina M. Bentley, Mary J. Stevenson, and Ruth H. Zang, assistants to the dean, and Women's Building freshmen.

Cwen members will act as "big sisters" to first semester freshmen not included by Junior Service Board.

College Leads Service

Penn State will be in charge of closing services at the Pocono Conference of the Student Christian Movement at Buckhill Falls Inn on Sunday. Harriet G. VanRiper '44 will preside, assisted by Clifford M. Painter '44. Miss Ione Sikes, associate director of the Westminster Foundation and Harry W. Seamans, general secretary of PSCA, will lead discussion groups.
