

Coed Nominees For WSGA, WRA To Be Presented

Women's election mass meeting will be held in 110 Home Economics from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. today, Patricia MacKinney '43, elections chairman, stated last night.

WSGA candidates will be presented at the meeting. Coeds nominating from the floor must present their nominees and state their qualifications. In addition to WSGA's specified requirements, floor nominees must attend College during the third semester. The nominating committee reserves the right to disqualify candidates who do not fulfill requirements.

Preliminary voting will take place in the first floor lounge, Old Main, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Thursday, and final voting from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Voting regulations, as announced by the elections committee last night, include no voting by proxy. Members of all classes must vote for president, vice-president, treasurer, and their own class senator. Town women may vote for no other, senator than town senator.

Two Juniors, Ann Drivas and Pauline Crossman, were nominated as candidates for presidency on the WRA slate, Betty L. Zeigler '42, president, said yesterday. They will be introduced at the mass meeting tonight.

Margaret K. Ramaley '42 and Lucille D. Weinstein '42 were put up by WRA nominating committee for vice-president. Frances M. Angle and Grace L. Judge, sophomores, were chosen as WRA treasurer contenders.

No nominations for president will be made from the floor, Miss Zeigler said. All nominees must have served on the WRA Board for one year. The losing presidential candidate will become WRA secretary.

Baird And Doherty First 2 In Series Of Campus Sketches

(Editor's note—These are the first two in a series of short biographical sketches on the campus activities of the ten nominees for senior honor men—spoon man, barrel man, cane man, pipe orator, and class donor. Two more of these sketches will be printed in alphabetical order each day this week after which return postcards will be sent to all senior men for voting on these candidates.)

Robert D. Baird, 25-year-old All-College president has had a diversified college career as star athlete, successful campus politician and outstanding debater.

As a freshman, Bob was elected president of his class. He also saw service on Leo Houck's frosh boxing squad, and earned his numerals.

The following year he was elected to Druids, sophomore honorary. He began his career on the varsity debate squad and pounded his way to runner-up spot in the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association tournament.

He again took runner-up position in the EIBA tourney his junior year. Then for good measure he fought his way into the finals of the NCAA boxing tournament.

This year Baird has served as All-College president, captained the ring team, served on the debate squad, and was elected to Skull

Campus Shots Dared To Attend Banquet

After serious consideration, St. Pat has decided on the biggest and most vulnerable campus and town shots and sent his summons yesterday to these unfortunate mortals with a dare for them to show up at the Nittany Lion Inn Wednesday, March 18, at 6 p. m. for Sigma Delta Chi's annual Gridiron Banquet.

For all those receiving such a summons and feeling equal to the ordeal, tickets will be available at Student Union on presentation of an invitation, for $1.50. In addition to the roasting of every one in sight, one of the state's leading humorists will speak at the dinner.

Debate To Argue Women In Draft

Should or should not women be drafted?

William and Mary College women will join with Gerald F. Doherty '42 and R. Warburton Miller '43 of the Penn State debate team tomorrow evening in an attempt to throw light on this question through the medium of debate.

"Resolved that all women 18-30 years of age should be required to register for non-combatant selective service during the present emergency," is the official question for the split team debate.

Miller will speak on the affirmative side with Doherty arguing the negative. Both will have one of the William and Mary coeds for a teammate.

Yesterday afternoon Coleman C. Sweet '42, Albert Rosen '44, Harold Epstein '44, and Walter Gerson '44 participated in two debates on the labor question with Susquehanna University students.

John B. McCue '43, debate manager, and Samuel G. Fredman '43, will leave tomorrow on the team's annual "southern trip." Their first stop will be tomorrow at Albright College.

Thursday Western Maryland will play host to the group while on Friday they will be at National University Law School, Washington, D. C. Prof. Harold P. Zelko, department of public speaking, will accompany McCue and Fredman.

Freshman debaters William R. Pomerantz, Eugene J. Bischoff, Robert S. MacNabb, and Karl H. Bergey Jr., will be busy at Juniata College this afternoon and evening where they will be active in two forums.

NYA Hours For March

"Give Me Youth"—Jose Iturbi

By PAUL WOODLAND

"Give me colleges. Give me youth. It's marvelous to play here."

Those were the words of Jose Iturbi, brilliant conductor of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, when he came offstage after playing two encores for a thrilled audience that packed Schwab Auditorium last night.

Maestro Iturbi said he always prefers a college audience, and carries out his youth belief by maintaining a young personnel in the orchestra.

"We want youngsters who are just graduated from schools and have no bad habits. We mold them. They put their heart into the music night after night. You could see

Former Student Dies In Automobile Crash

An automobile accident in Alabama Saturday night resulted in the death of a former Penn State student, Robert Eckenroth '42, a Flying Cadet in the Army Air Corp. Eckenroth left college shortly after Christmas to enter an aviation training school in Alabama, where he was in training until the time of his death.

A member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, Eckenroth was elected to be head cheer leader for the coming semester.

Details of the accident are not available.

Senate Group Rules On Code

Interfraternity Council's action regarding the change in the dating code seems to be in accord with the ruling of the Senate Committee on Student Welfare, released yesterday.

The Senate Committee's resolution states: "The Senate Committee on Student Welfare has voted its disapproval of mixed drinking in fraternity houses at any time, and has directed that chapter officials and chaperones be notified to this effect.

"The committee requests that lists of party chaperones which customarily are filed with the Dean of Women's office one week prior to any party contain the names of chaperones who have actually agreed to be present at the party.

"The committee feels warranted in advising fraternity chapters that they are now in a situation in which they must exercise great care to protect their own reputation as well as that of the College."

This resolution, following on the heels of IFC's action of Thursday night, may indicate the committee's approval of the revised code. However, the changes must be presented at a meeting of the Senate committee for final approval.

Special Cabinet Meeting

A special meeting of All-College Cabinet has been called for 9 o'clock tonight in the Alumni Office. Purpose of the meeting is for Cabinet members to give year's summary of the activities of the various organizations which they represent.

Two Independent Cliques Nominate

Political battlelines began to form in a solid line last night as two independent cliques released their final nominations for the coming All-College elections on March 24, 25, and 26.

Jeanne C. Stiles '42, chairman of the Elections Committee, warned all cliques last night, however, that petitions must be in her hands by noon Thursday, March 12. Glossy photographic prints of each candidate must be presented at the same time.

Concerning the nominations, the present junior class Independent party has put up William C. Mazzocco for All-College president and Glenn W. Ely as his running mate.

For senior class president the clique has chosen David J. McAleer as a candidate. David J. Woods was selected for vice-presidential nominee. E. Elizabeth Eshelman received the nod for the secretary post. J. Hilary Kelley was nominated for treasurer, and Jess V. Fardella, for class historian.

In the '44 Independent party Harold L. Zimmerman was nominated for president and his supporting mate will be George C. McWilliams. Thomas E. Wilcox will run for the treasurer's office and Elaine J. Cox was selected for the secretarial duties.

The '45 Independent party has signified that it is not quite ready to announce its nominations. Since petitions and pictures of candidates must be turned in by Thursday, it may yet develop that the freshman class will have only a one-party system.

Final nominations for the '45 Independents have been planned for 318 Old Main at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Limits on the number of people who may enter the Student Defense Training class in Office Methods have been lifted, so that all those who registered for the course may be accommodated.

The second meeting of the class will be held in 316 Sparks Building at 7 o'clock tonight, Miss Honora M. Noyes, instructor in economics, announced last night.

Gordon's Eligibility Questioned As State Barely Nips Rams

By ROBERT M. FALOON

Penn State's right to the IC4-A indoor track championship, wrested from the Fordham Rams by a 21 7-10 to 20 1/2 margin in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, was protested by New York track coaches to the executive committee of the IC4-A yesterday.

Eligibility of Norm Gordon, who matriculated at Penn State in 1936 and was required to leave school for two years, was questioned by the New York coaches after the Lions had taken the team title from the metropolitan district for the first time in nine years.

Gordon, undoubtedly the Blue and White's individual star, scored four points towards the team's victory in the 1,000-yard event, a race marred by elbowing and jostling, and paced the make-shift two-mile relay team to a surprise second place with a 1:54.6 anchor half mile.

A new intercollegiate indoor record of 25 feet, 2 1/4 inches was set in the broad jump by Barney Ewell in the final event of the evening to cinch the title for the Nittany team. Ewell was barely nosed out in the 60-yard dash by Bill Carter, Pitt speedster, while Don Dolbin was given a fifth in the event. The placing of Dolbin in the fifth-place slot dissatisfied the 10,000 spectators, along with the press section, who all believed he placed third in the final of the event.

While Johnny Glenn fell down in the high jump by contributing only one and a half-points to the Lions' team total, other surprise points were scored by 10 of the 13 Blue and White entrants.

Curt Stone took a fourth in the two-mile event to upset the predictions of the New York experts concerning a class field of distance runners. His time was a very creditable 9:34.6.

Captain Joe Bakura garnered one and two-tenths points in the vault event by hitting 13 feet. This event was won by A. Richard Morcom, New Hampshire sophomore, with a vault of 14 feet, 4 1/2 inches to set a new intercollegiate record. Morcom also won the high jump with a 6 foot, 4 1/2 inch leap and placed Late News Flashes...

MELBOURNE — Australia is bracing for an invasion attempt by the Japs following the Axis landings on two southern bases in New Guinea. Japanese planes heavily bombed Port Moresby, northern naval base on the Australian mainland.

TOKIO — United Nations forces on the island of Java have unconditionally surrendered, it was announced by officials last night following the capture of the temporary military capital, Bandoeng in the Java mountains. Dutch officials in London flatly deny that their forces have surrendered to the Japanese hordes.

MANDALAY — The outlook on the Burma front was dark for the Allies, it was stated from the British headquarters here. The Rangoon-Mandalay railroad has been cut in two places by the invaders and a great encircling movement threatens the flanks of the defenders. Practically all of Southern Burma is now in Japanese hands.
