

Campus To Start Air Raid Defense Trial Drills Soon

With the completion of posting of instruction sheets in every classroom and office on Campus this week Penn State's air raid defense precautions will be ready for trial drills, George W. Ebert, chairman of the protection committee of the Campus Defense Council, announced yesterday.

The drills, Mr. Ebert said, will be started within a few weeks and will be conducted only in small parts of the campus at one time. This will avoid disrupting class sessions over the entire campus and allow the small drills to be properly supervised.

The instruction sheets carry the following information: the safest place to go; the best way to get there to avoid confusion; air raid wardens in charge; general instructions to be followed in all buildings; location of the nearest first-aid station; and warning and "all clear" signals.

Mr. Ebert asked that all faculty members and students learn the facts given on the sheets in buildings where they have offices or several classes and that, above all, they "keep cool and be sensible," in case of emergency.

He said that knowing the general instructions on the sheets will enable students and faculty members to act wisely no matter where they are when an air raid starts.

The posters will be supplemented by flags pointing out the posts being occupied by air raid, fire, and buildings wardens and by other signs bounding the places of safety within the buildings. These will be ready for posting within a few days.

Leffler And Lehman Sketched As Senior Honor Candidates

(Editor's Note — The following two campus sketches are part of a series of ten being published this week to acquaint students with the activities of nominees for senior honor men positions.)

Raymond F. Leffler is best known on campus as head of Student Tribunal. He is a member of the Delta-Tau Delta social fraternity and this year was elected to Skull and Bones, senior honorary.

In addition to his judicial duties Leffler was named to the '42 Elections committee and was a student councilor for the freshman class. He also is a member of the Student Traffic Board and Student Housing Board. A commerce and finance major, he is a cadet captain in the campus ROTC infantry.

Ross B. Lehman, editor of The Daily Collegian, is a member of Skull and Bones, and Lion's Paw, highest senior honorary.

Appointed permanent class secretary recently, he is a member of Delta Chi social fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism honorary. Ross sang in the Glee Club for three years and also in the Chapel Choir.

He has served on the Athletic Advisory Board, All-College Cabinet, Student Union Board, Student Housing Board, All-College Elections committee, Artists' Course committee, Student Defense Council.

In addition to his Collegian post, "the student editor" worked last year on the Student Handbook. He was listed this year in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Appointed by President

(Continued on Page Two)

CHARLES SPEIDEL

HOST COACH—Wrestling coach Charlie Speidel will play the role of host during the fourth EIWA tournament to be held on this campus tomorrow and Saturday.

Aggies Prime For Li'l International

Ninety animals are now being groomed by agricultural students for Penn State's 27th Little International livestock show scheduled for Saturday, April 18, in the Judging Pavilion.

Drawing for entries will be held in 206 Agriculture at 7:30 p. m. tonight, according to Murray Blechman '42, publicity chairman of the show. List of committees released yesterday follows:

James A. Kennedy '42, show superintendent; George R. Krupp '42, assistant superintendent; James A. Christian '43 and John A. Christian '43, co-superintendents of beef cattle; Elwood H. Borger '44, superintendent of sheep; Herman W. Nolph '44, assistant superintendent of sheep.

Howard E. Wheeler '42, superintendent of swine; Frank W. Spierling '43, assistant superintendent of swine; Robert C. Hammond '43, superintendent of horses; Glenn W. Stevens '43, assistant superintendent of horses.

Other committee chairmen are Krupp, catalog; Blechman, publicity; Richard L. Carlton '42, decorations; Lyle A. Baker '42, banquet; and George G. Gayman '42, awards.

Animals to be shown include 30 head of beef cattle, 30 sheep, 16 pigs, and 14 horses.

Who Done It? Seven Suspects Add Spice To Players' Comedy

Comedy, corpses and cats! This will be the main dish when the Players' bring "Mr. and Mrs. North" to Schwab Auditorium, March 20 and 21, as a feature of their 25th anniversary season.

Centering around the antics of Pam and Jerry North, two irresponsible Bohemians, when several bodies are found in their Greenwich Village apartment, the play brings in seven logical suspects that will cause your brow to be furrowed in the throes of deduction.

Who done it? Why was Stanley Brent murdered and stuffed in the closet? Who murdered the postman to keep him from talking? Incidentally, Pam found Brent's body when she was searching for some gin—and the Postman was killed when he went out for beer!

Adding a macabre touch to the scene is the meanderings of a black cat named "Pete" throughout the proceedings. Shades of Edgar Allan Poe!

Raymond Scott To Play At IF Ball; Ten Mat Teams Await EIWA Tourney

72 Visiting Grapplers Will Arrive Today

Eager for championship competition, 72 wrestlers representing nine EIWA member colleges will arrive on campus this afternoon and tonight in preparation for the 38th annual Association tournament which will take place in Rec Hall starting at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

The Nittany Lion host squad will be the tenth team entered in the title struggle. The total number of grapplers participating is thus raised to 80 since each college has entered a full 8-man team. Harvard is the only Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association member not entered in the tourney.

The first of the guest matmen are expected to arrive at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They will be free to join Coach Charlie Speidel's squad on the Rec Hall mats for preliminary workouts.

All contestants will weight-in at 9 a. m. tomorrow prior to the preliminary round which begins at 2 p. m. Matches will probably be run off simultaneously on three mats.

Survivors of the afternoon competition will meet in the quarter-finals at 8 p. m. when thirty-two

(Continued on Page Three)

Marines Will Give Exams To Applicants Today

Students who have applied for the Candidate Class for Commission in the Marine Corps Reserve will be given their physical examination in the College Infirmary from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. today.

Other students who wish to apply will be given a chance tomorrow in 311 Old Main. Recruiting Officer Lieut. Robert Port will be in that room during the same hours that the examinations will be given.

Last month freshmen under 22 years of age were declared eligible for the corps. Any sophomore, junior, or senior who can meet the requirements can apply. Lieut. Port said that applicants will probably not be called for active duty until after graduation.

Senior To Be Given Trophy At Mat Finals

To Penn State's senior of the year will go a 15-inch silver statuette at the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association finals in Rec Hall Saturday night.

Awarded by the junior editorial board of The Daily Collegian, the trophy will go to one of two candidates still being considered for the honor. The winner will be announced Saturday morning.

The board's selection will not be based on a senior's political affiliations or on athletic ability. The group is interested in rewarding the senior for his work during four years of College in the interest of a "better Penn State."

This will be the fifth year that the trophy has been given. Each senior who is judged outstanding has his College achievements investigated thoroughly.

4 Coeds Vie For Sweater Queen

Four coeds have been selected by IMA units to vie for the honor of becoming Penn State's first All-College sweater queen.

They are Marjorie E. Siebert '44, Lila A. Whoolery '43, Evelyn M. Fritz '43, and Janet M. Hartz '42.

The winner will be chosen by a student vote to be held at Student Union next Thursday and Friday. She will be crowned at IMA's All-College Sweater Dance in the Armory next Saturday night.

"Plans for the dance are nearing completion," Jack F. Zalinski '43, general dance chairman, stated last night, "and from present indications the dance promises to be a great success."

The Penn State Aristocrats have been signed to provide music from 9 p. m. to midnight. Admission will be $1 per couple, tax included.

The general dance committee, headed by Zalinski, includes Kehl Markley '44, Donald O. Schissler '43, and Richard S. Kurtz '43.

Twill Gabardine Chosen For Blazer Material

A twill gabardine junior blazer in royal blue was selected by the committee yesterday after it had considered three different styles. Philip Jaffe and Richard S. Peily, co-chairmen of the group, revealed that the style chosen would cost $5.50. It will be a three-button front royal blue model with white buttons.

White piping, or edging, will be placed around the coat front to the end of the blazer's facing. The College seal will be sewed on the upper left pocket.

The Athletic Store will handle all orders. Orders will probably be taken in a week and can be filled within three weeks. Royal blue was picked because the committee felt that the color would blend easier with the usual summer attire.

Cabinet Meets Tonight

The regular weekly meeting of All-College Cabinet will be held tonight in the Alumni Office at 9 p. m. Tuesday night's meeting was given over to reports of members on just what their organizations have done this year.

'Name Band' Worries Of Committee End

Welcome relief came to the Interfraternity Ball committee's recent band-selection worries last night when Co-chairmen Charles F. Mattern '42 and Arthur H. Shapiro '42 announced that Raymond Scott and his nationally famous orchestra will play for the dance on March 27.

Scott will receive $1,250 for his appearance, the committee revealed. The admission price and other arrangements will be announced later.

By clinching the deal by telegram last night, the IF Ball committee was relieved of anxiety which began last Thursday when Harry James, whose band was originally signed, was forced to cancel the engagement because of an option suddenly exercised by a Hollywood movie company. Fears developed concerning the availability of other "big name" bands.

To replace James, Interfraternity Council made an informal recommendation that Vincent Lopez' orchestra be signed. Because of "unfavorable student response to this suggestion," however, the committee took advantage of an opportunity to engage Raymond Scott.

Featuring a startlingly unique style of swing which all but eclipses his excellent rendition of smooth dance music, Scott skyrocketed to national prominence several years ago and has since held his own with the other top-notchers.

Although a masterful arranger, Scott has a weakness for crazy titles. Among his better-known tunes are "Huckleberry Duck," "War Dance for Wooden Indians," "Invisible Ink," and "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals."

Late News Flashes...

WASHINGTON — Admiral Hart told a committee in Washington yesterday that most of the Jap advances and victories could be credited to their superiority in the air which prevented the United States destroyers and cruisers from operating effectively. However, he said, Jap ship losses were high, and replacements should be a big headache to the enemy.

LONDON — It was reported last night that the German battleship, Terpitz, in its first sally against British shipping in the North Sea failed in its mission. It was said to have been spotted by plane, and then bombed. As a result, it fled for the Norwegian coast under a heavy smoke screen.

RIO DE JANEIRO — Last night it was reported that Brazil had ordered all ships at sea to put into port, and at the same time an amendment to the constitution was made public giving President Vargas the power to declare war at his discretion. This is said to result from the sinking of four of Brazil's largest ships in the past month.

Elections Meeting

Party petitions, platforms, and glossy pictures due at Student Union today will be considered by All-College Elections Committee in 318 Old Main at 4 p. m.