

WSGA Grants 1 O'Clocks

WSGA Senate granted 1 o'clock permissions to coeds attending Scabbard and Blade dance Monday, May 30, because of confusion in schedules resulting from the third semester plan, according to Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president.

Lists of women attending must be submitted to the dean of women's office and to dormitory hostesses prior to the dance.

Miss Babcock stated that WSGA Senate would purchase a partly-used ping pong table from Mrs. M. E. Heberling, of State College, for one of the Atherton Hall lounges. The table will be used by coeds and their dates.

E. Miriam Jones '43, town senator, has been assigned to investigate Red Cross chapters at other colleges, with the intention of forming one on campus if others prove successful. Miss Jones is also making plans for "big sisters" for the third semester.

Miss Babcock said that eight bracelets will be presented to coeds who were active on WSGA committees this year, at WSGA installation services Wednesday night. The new Senate will meet after installation with Miss Babcock presiding.

Old Senate members will attend meetings until new officers become accustomed to the work.

Alpha Chi Omega pledges will be entertained at tea by Miss Anna P. Locklin, assistant English literature professor, at her home at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Chi O's Win Volleyball Tournament Trouncing Ath Hall East, 41-29

Chi Omega chalked up five points toward the intramural cup last night, while Ath East received three in the final volley ball tournament game when Chi O's trounced the Dorm, 41 to 29. With the score standing 15 to 12 at the half, the winners surged ahead to break the close score.

Chi O players were Fran Angle, Betty Breese, Mary Laubach, Bernie Maurer, Pat Patton, Ruth Pierce, Dot Radcliff, Ruth Saylor, and subs Betty Miller and Dot Wagner. Breese scored high with 12 points.

Ath East players included Jane Cooke, Mary Devling, Martha Haverstick, Mary Poole, Elizabeth Rank, Pauline Rugh, June Steinfurth, Beatrice Woodward, and subs Evelyn Jackson, Julia Klepek and Jean Snyder. Klepek with 8 points was high scorer.

Bowling instructions will be offered to everyone interested at the following hours—Monday, 8 to 9:30; Tuesday, 4 to 5:30 and 8 to 9:30; Wednesday, 4 to 5:15 and 6:30 to 9; Thursday, 6:30 to 9, and Friday, 4 to 5:30.

June Steinfurth, bowling club president, announced an open club meeting at 1 p. m. Saturday. Following the meeting a Head-Pin novelty tournament will be open to everyone. Differing from regular bowling, it is run off in a series of 12 frames with one ball per frame. The red Head-Pin must be hit before a score counts. With 120 the highest possible score, no extra credit is given for strikes, and there are no spares.

In badminton last night Zeta team 2 defeated Chi O team 3 by a 2 to 1 score. Kay Walter and Lynn Wolf played for the winners, and Janet Carbaugh and Marge Hazlett for Chi O. Defaults gave scores of 3 to 0 to Kappa team 1 over Alpha Chi team 2, Gamma Phi team 1 against Alpha Chi team 1, and Kappa Delta from town coeds.

Alpha Chi defaulted to AOPi in basketball.

In preparation for a Postal Telegraphic Rifle meet, five coed shooters have polished up a perfect 500 score against five other colleges and universities.

Rhode Island State's score of 495 has been the only result submitted. Other colleges include Ohio University, University of Illinois, University of Nevada, and Louisiana State University.

In badminton recently, Kappas won a 2 to 1 victory from AEPi. Phi Mu walked over TPA, 3 to 0, and Women's Building defaulted to Alpha Chi's team 2.

Chairmen Appointed For '42-'43 Reception

Committee chairmen for the annual Junior-Senior faculty reception scheduled for Wednesday, April 1, in first floor lounge of Old Main, were appointed by Beatrice J. Winn '42 and Sara M. Bailey '43, co-chairmen.

Appointments include Hilma R. Eisen '42 and Janet V. Holmes '43, ushers; Marjorie A. Geer '42, refreshments; Louise M. Fuoss '43, publicity; Ruth L. Kiesling '43, secretary; Marjorie L. Sykes '43, invitations; Dorothy M. Boring '44, finance; Dorothy J. Jennings '44, entertainment; and Pearl Kolbe '44, properties.

This formal reception has become a part of Penn State tradition under the auspices of WSGA Senate.

Junior and senior women and faculty members are invited to the reception. Faculty invitations will be sent on request of coeds who contact reception chairmen. Parents of students living in town are also invited.

Reports Show Coeds Score For Victory

Despite criticism tabbing coeds as lax in defense efforts, reports show that they are well up on suggested campus activities. Coeds have scored on almost every project named for colleges by Mrs. Raleigh Gilchrist, chairman of Mortar Board's nation defense committee.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, sold approximately $40 worth of defense stamps, according to Alice M. Murray, president. Stamps are sold at McAllister and Atherton Halls after dinner Tuesdays and Thursdays.

WSGA House of Representatives sponsored a blood donations drive to which 80 coeds volunteered.

Women are taking an active part in college defense courses. First aid, home nursing, and nutrition are offered for future work on the home front. Air raid warden training, emergency housing and feeding, and Red Cross activities are also supported by coeds.

Boxes are placed downtown by the National Victory Book Drive for book donations to service libraries.

Cooperating with grounds and buildings department, WSGA House is helping to salvage waste paper, magazines, cardboard, and metals. Rubbage trucks daily collect material from campus buildings. Junk is given to charities which sell it to dealers.

Cabinet

The plan called for both IMA and Penn State Club presidents to be placed as candidates for All-College representative on the All-College election on March 24, 25, and 26. Only independent men would be allowed to vote for the representative, it was pointed out. In this plan, the IMA or Penn State Club president would represent the opinions and wishes of the majority of independent men.

Other changes in the constitution included the editor of Portfolio as a member of the Board of Publications, the means of electing a successor to both All-College president and vice-president in case of disqualification or resignation, and the strengthening of constitutional amendments by requiring a three-quarters vote, three readings, and a petition of 300 students, to amend or ratify the constitution.

ASSUMES DUTIES — Gladys E. Fitting '43 was elected WSGA Junior Service Board chairman yesterday to replace Natalie A. Siebert '43, who will leave to student teach.

Fitting '43 Elected Board Chairman

Gladys E. Fitting '43 will replace Natalie A. Siebert '43, WSGA Junior Service Board chairman, it was announced yesterday. Miss Siebert will be student teaching.

Freshman town coeds will be contacted this week to record activity points. This will complete point system tabulations compiled by Service Board.

Members will attend chapel in a body Sunday, announced Miss Siebert.

Zang Asks For Coed Hostesses

Coeds wishing to be hostesses at the second Old Main open house, scheduled for March 20, are urged to sign with dormitory president immediately, stated Miss Ruth S. Zang, assistant dean of women, yesterday.

Jane E. Karon and Betty Ann Moltz, second semester freshman were invited to attend freshman council meetings to become acquainted with the freshman government set up.

Miss Zang asked McAllister Hall coeds to be careful of matches and cigarettes deposited in waste baskets.

Lakonides To Install

Lakonides, women's physical education honorary, will install new officers in the WRA Room, White Hall, at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. A coffee hour, instead of the usual banquet, will follow. New officers are M. Pauline Rugh '43, president; Grace L. Judge '44, vice-president; Mary Grace Longenecker '45, secretary; and Adele J. Levin '44, treasurer.

HE Honorary Pledges 19

Nineteen sophomore women were pledged by Ellen H. Richards club, junior womens home economics honorary, in Atherton Hall yesterday, announced Ruth E. Stamm '43, president.

Pledges are Ruth L. Baker, Jane E. Barnes, Lucille Barton, Dorothy M. Boring, Kathryn R. Brong, Margaret L. Campsey, M. Janet Carbaugh, Dorothy G. Clymer, Ruth E. Conrad, Edith D. Dengler, Mary B. Grimison, Ruth Hannigan, Dorothy L. Jones, M. Virginia Krauss, Patricia A. Middleton, Diana Novich, Margaret K. Ramaley, June K. Smith, and Marie E. Weiss.

New members were selected on the basis of scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and personality by junior club members. Requirements included a 1.5 average and two activities.

Founded in 1932 the club was organized to help keep the home economics standards high, to further interest in home economics subjects, and to develop professional attitude and personality.

Initiation will precede a formal dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn at 6 p. m. Sunday, March 29. Miss Phyllis K. Sprague, associate professor of home economics, is faculty advisor.

Dietician Says Coeds Waste Food

Atherton Hall coeds waste approximately two gallons of milk daily, estimated Mrs. Edith M. Johnson, dining commons supervisor, in a recent food consumption review.

"In time of emergency, conservation is vitally important and coeds should realize the large amounts of foods wasted," said Mrs. Johnson.

Questioned by members of Ellen H. Richards, junior home economics honorary, Mrs. Johnson said their suggestion to serve milk at all meals would be impossible. She urged coeds to drink all milk available and avoid waste.

Other food wastes include 25 per cent of fruit cocktail and green salads which are often left untouched.

Despite sugar rationing and possible molasses and canned fruit shortage, meals are planned to offer coeds balanced diets with benefits they should not lose through waste, Mrs. Johnson pointed out.
