

Recent Changes Necessitate WSGA Constitution Revision

Two Members Added To Senate

Because of changes in coed representation to WSGA Senate and other legislation, members decided last night that it will be necessary to change the recently-revised WSGA constitution.

Provision will be made for inclusion on Senate of an independent senator, who will also serve on All-College Cabinet, and of Panhellenic Council's president.

It will be stipulated that the town senator must be a sophomore as she serves as an ex-officio member of WSGA Junior Service Board. Care of transfer orientation and the point system was delegated to the Service Board.

The revision committee named by Jean Babcock '42, acting WSGA president, is I. Jacqueline Shaffer '43, chairman, Marjorie R. Chambers '43, Marjorie L. Sykes '43, Dorothy K. Brunner '44, and Ruth M. Storer '44.

Senate requested that WSGA House of Representatives members usher at the Glee Club concert on April 11.

Representing WSGA in tonight's panel discussion concerning results of a possible Axis victory will be Miss Storer and Patricia Diener '45.

Panhellenic Sing, tapping by Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and announcement of new Junior Service Board members will be part of Mother's Day weekend plans, it was announced.

Helen L. Schmelz '44 was appointed to serve on the Student Health Board.

Miss Babcock stressed importance of coeds' voting in All-College elections.

Art Honorary Elects

Officers elected by Pi Gamma Alpha, art honorary, last night include Mildred B. Schmidt '43, president; Ruth L. Kiesling '43, vice-president and secretary; Warren W. Weaver '43, treasurer; Roy O. Allen '43, Clem J. Obidzinski '43, and Virginia K. Tross '43, rushing committee.

Basketball Aces In Final Tilts

A carry-over from Army-Navy field hockey tilts of the early twenties will be the initial Army-Navy basketball game in White Hall at 4:15 o'clock today.

The title, Army-Navy, originated when hockey-minded coeds borrowed ROTC uniforms, chose sides, and sang victory songs at lunch about 15 years ago. The new basketball contest will be minus military uniforms, but just as rollicking when 20 ace court-women meet today.

The teams, selected from outstanding intramural players, have been named by WRA Intramural Council and Miss Mildred A. Lucey, instructor in physical education.

Army players will be forwards—Helen Flooper, Betty Widger, Pat Patton, Polly Rugh, Whiffet Crossman; guards—Bernie Maurer, Marty Haverstick, Ardele Levin, Laila Dunkelberger, and Bea White.

Navy Blues will include forwards—Dot Radcliff, Beau Burwell, Duffy Duffman, Sal Hostetter, Pat Gregory; guards—Ann Drivas, Fran Angle, Mary Devling, Polly Phillips, and Bea Baumack.

Winners must take two out of three games.

Gordon Announces Honorary's Plans

Pi Lambda Theta, women's education honorary, met last night to plan for completion of this year's program.

Future events announced by R. Helen Gordon '42, president, include final election of new members, third floor lounge west, Atherton Hall, 4 p. m. Tuesday, March 31; pledging of new members, northwest lounge, Atherton Hall, 7 p. m. Wednesday, April 8; initiation and dinner for present members and initiates, State College Hotel, 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 15.

Election of officers was tentatively set for northwest lounge, Atherton Hall, 4 p. m. Monday, April 20, and installation of new officers for northwest lounge, Atherton Hall, 7 p. m. Wednesday, April 22.

Two Coed Teams Debate At Indiana

Two women's debate squads, one varsity and one freshman, met Indiana State Teacher's College teams at Indiana yesterday. Whether the Federal government should regulate by law all labor unions was discussed under the Oregon style.

Debaters were Sophomores Florence I. Jaffy and Margaret K. Ramaley, varsity, and Ruth Clyde and Rosalind S. Schmitzer, freshmen.

They were accompanied by Clayton H. Schug, women's debate coach and assistant professor of public speaking.

Honorary To Post Daily War Flashes

To inform students on latest war developments, Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary, will post daily war summaries in Old Main, McAllister, and Atherton Hall lobbies.

Planned as a defense emergency project, flashes will benefit students who do not have time or money to buy papers. Project chairmen are Kathryn M. Popp '43, Old Main; Betty Jo Patton '42, McAllister Hall; Edith L. Smith '43, Atherton Hall. News will be posted on placards.

War Demands 50,000 Nurses

With 50,000 nurses needed immediately, the government is asking schools to prepare to train 75,000 in six months periods, said Miss Ruth P. Kuehn, dean of the School of Nursing at the University of Pittsburgh, in her speech in White Hall yesterday.

"Helping in Europe and foreign countries will be important work of nurses in the next few years," the speaker stated in her discussion on "Nursing Careers for College Graduates." "Aside from foreign work, nurses will be needed in the Army, Navy, and civilian work in the United States," she said.

Explaining in some detail federal aid for women college graduates in accredited schools of nursing, Miss Kuehn emphasized that the government would subsidize them for tuition, laboratory fees, incidental fees, and room and board.

Approximately 60 women had individual conferences with the speaker. Interested coeds, who were unable to attend the lecture, may get information from Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education, in White Hall.

IFC Meeting

The booklet will be put together by H. Ridge Riley of the department of public information.

Henson told the Council that lists of incoming freshmen may be available about two weeks before the frosh arrive on campus. Registrar William S. Hoffman remarked to the IFC head that the June class may be smaller than was earlier anticipated.

Capt. William V. Dennis of the Campus Patrol asked fraternities to cooperate with the motor police in attempting to regain the traffic signs.

Captain Dennis said the police had enough evidence to swear out warrants against several fraternities, but would refrain several days so that the stolen signs could be returned to the Campus Patrol office without prosecution.

Enrollment Statistics Show '42, '43 Coeds 'Carry On'

War has had little effect on the enrollment of junior and senior women at the College, according to first and second semester statistics from the dean of women's office. Although a drop of 18 appeared in the senior class, from 340 to 322, junior class includes 325 coeds, an increase of 9 over last semester.

With home economics heading the list in both classes, 121 seniors are enrolled, 3 less than in the previous term. A decrease of 2 appears in the class of '43, with 105 taking the course.

Education is the major course of 84 senior women, 11 less than first semester, while no drop occurred among the 67 juniors. Liberal Arts ranks third in enrollment among coeds. Forty-nine seniors, a decrease of 7 from last semester, was tabulated. However, an increase of 5 juniors appeared, raising the total to 65.

The 19 seniors in physical education remained the same, while the juniors showed an increase from 23 to 24. There is no change in the coed registration in journalism, with 14 seniors and 17 juniors.

Commerce and finance added 2 junior coeds second semester, making a total of 14, while the senior enrollment of 9 remained the same. Psychology majors include 9 seniors, an increase of 3, and 7 juniors.

Five senior women are taking the pre-medical course, one more than last semester, and the one junior enrolled last semester has not continued.

Agronomy has added a senior to its list this semester, but the junior last semester has dropped it. Senior science majors have decreased from 2 to 1; 3 juniors are enrolled, an increase of 1.

The students in agricultural and biological chemistry have remained the same, 1 senior and 4 juniors; also the seniors in bacteriology, chemistry, and medical technology with one in each. Juniors in bacteriology have decreased from 2 to 1, while chemistry and medical technology each have 3, an increase of 1 in each.

One senior is listed in each of the following, with no change from last semester: architecture, electrical engineering, geology, horticulture, and pre-law. None is in economics, although one was enrolled last semester.

The lone junior coed in nature education did not register for it this semester; transition section has increased from 2 to 3; and botany, with 2, and sociology, 3, have remained constant.

One junior is in each of the following: chemical engineering, physics, and architectural engineering with no change from last semester.
