Jeffries Stresses 4-H's Part In War

"4-H Clubs' Campaign for Victory" was the theme of slides shown by William S. Jeffries, assistant professor of agriculture extension meeting of the Campus 4-H Club Monday.

In his talk that followed, Mr. Jeffries stated that 4-H Club members can and do have a part in defense. He added that their essential duty is at home.

Extension people in 4-H work will be invited to a picnic at Fairmount Park, Monday, April 20, it was decided in the meeting.

Club members and parents will be entertained at tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Baker, from 3 to 5 p. m. April 19.

If enough interest is shown, 4-H meetings will be held during the Summer session, it was announced.

Wives Must Leave Grads In Africa

Penn State men may cover the globe, but their wives can no longer be with them. Mrs. Gilbert Spangler and Mrs. Rodney Hoy, both married to recent graduates, returned to the United States this week from Monrovia, Liberia, where their husbands are employed on the Firestone rubber plantations.

The two refugees said that Monrovia has been put under martial law and all women have been evacuated. Mrs. Hoy and Mrs. Spangler returned by Clipper, leaving Liberia Saturday at daybreak. They stopped over at Natal, Brazil, and then continued to New York.

Spangler '38 and Hoy '40, who studied forestry, are still in Africa supervising rubber production.

Home is not where some men hang their hats—it's where they throw 'em on a chair.

Local Speech Group Will Initiate April 16

One junior and four sophomores have accepted bids to Delta Alpha Delta, women's local speech honorary, according to Evelyn R. Wilner '43, secretary.

Coeds who will be initiated at a banquet at the State College Hotel on Thursday, April 16 are L. Jeanne Kaiser '43 and Sophomores Harriette Block, C. Betty Friedman, Freda I. Gerheim, and Margaret K. Ramaley.

IWA Outlines Sport Program

"If enough independent women show interest in intramural sports, IWA will formulate a permanent sports program," announced Sylvia P. Schmidle '43, IWA president.

As a first step, the group plans to enter a team in intramural softball competition which begins today. A tentative summer schedule includes tennis, golf, swimming. Martha J. Haverstick '43 has been appointed IWA athletic chairman.

Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, and all dormitory hostesses accepted IWA's invitation to become official advisors, according to Miss Schmidle.

Miss Schmidle appointed Margery A. Magargel '44 to organize an examination file in 305 Old Main for independent women's use.

The picnic for all independent women will be held in Fairmount Park from 2 to 5 p. m. Saturday, weather permitting.

Marian A. Whitcomb '44 was appointed committee chairman for a dance to be held this month.

At exchange dinners tonight, six Frazier Hall coeds will dine at McAllister Hall and six at Atherton Hall.

Board Postpones Children's Party

WSGA Junior Service Board has postponed the party for children in a school near Port Matilda from Friday until April 17, announced Gladys E. Fitting '43, chairman.

Baseball, a peanut hunt, and other games are being planned by R. Helen Gordon '42 and Ann Drivas '43, in charge of entertainment. Marjorie R. Chambers '43 and Jean A. Kelly '43 will be in charge of refreshments.

Coeds Will Hear Fireside Speakers

Climaxing PSCA fireside sessions three men will address coed groups tomorrow and next week, it was announced recently.

E. D. Ardery, colonel of the corps of engineers, will be guest speaker at McCormicks dormitory tomorrow, speaking on "Women's Part In The Present Crisis."

C. R. Adams, instructor of education and psychology, will talk to Allen street co-op women Wednesday, April 15 on "Developing an Attractive Personality." The same night W. V. Dennis, Jr., captain of the campus patrol will speak at Phi Mu about "Unusual Experiences in My Work."

Mrs. Harriet Nesbitt, instructor of public speaking, spoke on "Men and Women Relationships" at the Anchorage last night.

Frosh Honorary Pledges Tomorrow

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, will pledge 26 women in the northwest and southwest lounges of Atherton Hall at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, according to Miss Ruth H. Zang, assistant dean of women and advisor. An initiation dinner will be held next Wednesday.

Pledges are Ruth E. Atkinson, Marie L. Bauer, Margaret B. Cupp, Doris A. Dunkle, E. Ann Fisher, Ruth S. Freitag, E. Jean Gailey, Margaret H. Gregory, Mary K. Hess, Kathryn M. Hibbard, Alma J. Kehler, Vivian L. Klein, Leah H. Learner, Lois C. Lohrke, Julia H. McFarland.

Miss Zang pointed out that four of the fourteen girls living at the Pines Dormitory accepted bids to the honorary.

We, The Women
Trite, But True—
We Aim To Please

First columns are difficult. There are too many things we want to say—things which have occurred to us over a period of three years when writing this column was merely wishful hoping.

Because we fear being labeled a "sob sister," we will refrain from saying very much about Collegian traditions and all they have come to mean to us. We just wanted to mention them and voice briefly the appreciation, the respect, and the affection we have for our predecessors. It is with a feeling approaching humility that we "take over."

Our creed is a simple one. We promise to do our best. We will strive constantly for accuracy and fairness in covering the news. We will try to print what we think you will want to read. If we make mistakes, we will run corrections.

In our editorial policy, sincerity, together with accuracy and fairness, will be our goal. We promise to investigate organizations and activities before we offer comments and suggestions. Possibly some of you will dislike what we feel we must say. Perhaps we will make mistakes. Again, if we are wrong, we will admit it and start over.

We want to inform you with straight news stories, entertain you with features, and interest you in the edits. To be brief, we aim to please you, the reader.

—L. M. F.

Honorary Posts News Summaries

News summaries were posted in the lobbies of McAllister Hall, Atherton Hall, and Old Main yesterday by members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary. Bulletins will be changed every day for the remainder of the month.

Betty Jo Patton '42, Kathryn M. Popp '43, and Edith L. Smith '43 are in charge of gathering news from summaries in the New York Times and Philadelphia Inquirer.

Teams Meet For Baseball

Ath West will meet Delta Gamma and Kappa Delta will clash with Gamma Phi Beta on Holmes Field at 4 o'clock today to open intramural baseball. Alpha Chi Omega will challenge Kappa Alpha Theta and Chi Omega will play Kappa Kappa Gamma at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Coed bowlers interested in entering the fourth intercollegiate postal bowling matches to be held next week are urged to attend Bowling Club meeting in the White Hall alleys at 6:30 o'clock tonight. To participate in the matches each coed must have six practices of two lines each.

Badminton tournament will end this week. It was incorrectly announced that the Kappas had captured the championship title.

Freshman and sophomore coeds may be given WRA executive board representation next year, announced Ann Drivas '43, WRA president, at the first meeting of the new executive board. Representatives will be elected at regular WRA elections if the plan is accepted.

As part of the Mother's Day activities, Miss Drivas said WRA clubs and physical education majors will sponsor an open house, "White Hall in Action," after the "Sorority Sing" from 3 to 4 p. m., April 18.

Coeds no longer "let down their hair" in bull sessions; instead, they cut it. Defense haircuts are being popularized at the University of South Carolina. Bangs, feature cut, and soup bowl shingles replace the long bob.

Public To See Coed Exhibits

Exhibits by commercial demonstration classes will play an important part in Home Economics Hospitality Day, which will take place Saturday under the co-chairmanship of Marjorie R. Chambers '43 and Patricia A. Middleton '44.

All students, faculty members, town residents, and high school seniors are invited to see what goes on behind the doors of the Home Economics Building, as guides conduct organized tours.

Home economics laboratories 106 and 108, open from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., will be the scene of intricate table displays created by classes under the direction of Miss Edith V. Harding, assistant professor of home economics.

Under the theme of table setting and decorations for special occasions, tables will be set up for Commencement Day, wedding cake, hoboe party, May Day, Victory Day, children's party, and tea.

Seniors in charge of this exhibit are Ruth I. Bonser, Bertha Black, Margaret E. Capers, Anna M. Evans, Dorothy J. Geltz, Eleanor E. Hershey, Aileen M. Holz, Isabelle D. Mayerick, Geraldine B. Mark, Nancy J. Phyllis, Arlene K. Smith, Irene M. Toth, Mary E. Vinson, Mary K. Wible, and Medora Wolbert.

A program, planned by senior home economics students in commercial demonstration classes, will be open to the public from April 15 to May 1.

PSCA Arranges Bucknell Visit

To complete plans for a trip to Bucknell University April 14, PSCA Freshman Forum and Freshman Council met jointly in the Hugh Beaver Room last night.

Bucknell asked Penn State to arrange a program for the conference. Interested students should contact PSCA office.

Negro spirituals and poetry, arranged by Grace Gray '45 and Ruth Christine Yohe '45, were featured on the program.
