

Benefit Warblers—The College Glee Club will present its Red Cross benefit concert in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Aiding the club in the program will be Barbara

Troxell '37, the Hy-Los and the Varsity Quartet. The club has had a two-fold job during the past few weeks, preparing for this concert and making recordings for Waring's national glee club contest.

PSCA Arranges Frosh Orientation Program For Weekend Of June 5

In an attempt to help orientate incoming freshmen, the Penn State Christian Association will sponsor a Freshman camp the weekend of June 5.

Lack of time has made it impossible to hold the customary Freshman Week with its mass meetings, sight-seeing tours, and other convocations at which freshmen could meet campus leaders in both the faculty and student body.

Invitations will be sent to all incoming freshmen sometime within the next month. The first to reply will be given first consideration.

Two possible sites are the Diamond Valley Camp, located at Petersburg, Pa., and the former Penn State Nature Education Camp in Bear Meadows.

Gerald B. Stein '43, Freshman Camp committee chairman, and D. Ned Linegar, PSCA associate secretary, have visited both camps and recommend the Diamond Valley site as being the most favorable.

It has facilities to accommodate 125 people, including the staff. There are such facilities as a swimming pool, baseball field, tennis courts and a large playing (Continued on Page Two)

Whitman Will Compete In Engineer's Contest

Richard F. Whitman '42 won the right to represent Penn State in the finals of the Eastern Intercollegiate Report Contest last night by capturing first place in the local eliminations.

Whitman, together with representatives of nine other Eastern colleges and universities, will enter the final rounds of the contest in 110 Electrical Engineering, from 9 a. m. until noon, tomorrow and Saturday.

The competition is being conducted as part of the ninth annual eastern conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers that meets on campus this weekend. Contest winners will receive prizes totaling $115.

Acacia Elects Officers

Robert J. Thorps '43 was elected to the presidency of the Acacia fraternity at a recent meeting to succeed Richard E. Walck '42. Other officers named to house posts are Raymond B. Stein Jr. '43, vice-president; Edward F. Price '44, secretary; Daniel C. Gillespie '44, treasurer; Robert E. Dierken '44, social chairman.

Running Board Riders Top Traffic Violators

Are you a running-board-hanger-onner?

Most arrests by the State College police are made on this charge, according to the monthly report of the borough patrol.

Ten other traffic "don'ts," listed in order of their frequency through intersections on the yellow light, driving with four persons in the front seat—a violation in case of an accident, parking in restricted areas, passing at an intersection, parking in the wrong direction, driving without lights, exceeding the 25-mile speed limit, driving too fast in a school zone, double parking, and parking in the police stall.

Neusbaum Casts 'Beautiful People'

Seven students have been cast in the leading roles of the Players' Mother's Day presentation, "The Beautiful People," to be given in Schwab Auditorium April 17 and 18, Director Frank S. Neusbaum announced yesterday.

"It was difficult to cast the parts because of the sensitivity necessary to capture the full meaning and significance of Saroyan's characters," Neusbaum explained, in releasing the cast.

Although all seven parts are of equal importance, James J. Ammandos '43 will portray the outstanding role of Owen Webster, the 15-year-old "genius" who writes entire books using one word. Robert H. Herrman '44 will take the part of the kindly but bombastic father, Jonah Webster, who preaches his philosophy of life from the street corners.

The third member of the family, Agnes, called "Saint Agnes of the Mice," will be Joanne M. Palmer '43. A shy, pathetic girl, Agnes roams the streets of San Francisco in search of the only man she ever loved. Harmony Blueblossom, the "little old lady" in Jonah's past, is Eleanor Freedman '44.

Mr. Prim, the nostalgic vice-president, who lives on memories, will be played by Milton Dolinger '44, while John Scott Keck '42 has been cast as Dan Hillboy, the God-fearing drunkard. William F. Emmons '44 concludes the casting as Father Hogan, the benevolent Catholic priest.

College Symphony To Give Concert

Appearing for the first time this year, the College Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Hummel Fishburn, associate professor of music education, will present its annual Spring concert in Schwab Auditorium at 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

Sunday's program as it will be presented by the orchestra begins with "Honor and Glory," by Arthur Bergh, well-known American composer and broadcaster. It will be followed by an outdoor overture by Aaron Copland, originally composed in 1938 as "American Music for American Youth."

Following the overture will be a series of three dances from "Henry VIII," "Morris Dance," "Shepherds' Dance," and "Torch Dance," all by Edward German followed by Franz Liszt's "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" and Jean Sibelius' "Valse Lyrique."

The second half of the program begins with "Dream Pantomime" from "Hansel and Gretel" by Engelbert Humperdinck, which will be followed by "Prelude" by Armas Jarnefelt.

The last feature of the concert will be "America," by Ernest Williams. The composition is a tone poem built on two Indian themes and the composer's hymn "America."

This is the fifth in the series of Sunday afternoon concerts sponsored by the music department.

As The Automobile Era Goes, So Goes The Parking Meter—Maybe

A constant source of inconvenience, ill-feeling, and bad English since its inception several years ago, the State College parking meter received a severe blow at borough council meeting Monday night.

A petition signed by more than 60 local merchants and businessmen was presented to members of council urging the removal of two out of every three parking meters in State College.

Since the age of the automobile is rapidly drawing to a close, and the regulation of traffic, for which the meter was originally purchased, has been eliminated, the parking meter will soon become a mere landmark. For that reason, they contend, it should be eliminated.

In addition, any mobile business, which may still be on the move, can be retrieved for the local businessmen if they are removed.

V-5 Examinations To Begin Monday

Naval officers will return to the campus next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to give V-5 physical examinations to all juniors and seniors that are interested in the course, it was announced by Thomas W. Allison '42, seaman, second class.

Penn State's V-5 first naval air unit will leave June 4 for flight training at a training base not yet selected. Units two and three have already been organized, and will leave for training in September and December, respectively.

Interested students are asked to obtain preliminary physical application blanks at Student Union before taking the examination, which will be held in the College infirmary.

Penn State will have the largest collegiate flying unit in the country when it fills its quota of 60 men.

Requirements for this special Penn State Unit are two years of college or equivalent. The applicant must be between the ages of 19 and 27, and unmarried. Further information may be obtained by calling at 305 Old Main next Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, or by contacting Allison.

The presidential nominee rating second in Monday night's balloting will automatically become IFC vice-president, according to Thomas J. L. Henson '42, president.

In presenting the list of candidates last night, Robert W. Hildenbrand '42, nominating committee chairman emphasized that the nominations are not closed. "Further nominations for both posts," he emphasized, "are permitted and expected at Monday's meeting. Any IFC member may add to the list of candidates if one other representative is willing to second his suggestions."

Besides their regular duties, the officers chosen Monday will form part of the IFC's executive committee that guides the administration of the Council's program and acts in event of emergency between meetings.

The two remaining members of the five-man executive board will also be elected at the meeting. Nominations will be made from the floor.

Late News Flashes...

BATAAN PENINSULA—The Japanese forces are throwing wave after wave of soldiers and sky fighters at General Wainwright's weakened forces. Supplies are giving out and enemy patrols are breaking through vulnerable spots in the front lines, according to news from America's base in the Philippines yesterday. Japanese forces are attempting to cut off all possible retreat.

LONDON—The arrival of General Marshal and Harry Hopkins in England brought forth rumors in London yesterday of a coordinated drive by American and English forces into Western Europe. The two American representatives held several long conferences with Churchill and other English authorities.

War experts predict that if an attack is carried into the continent, it will move across the English Channel and down through France. When asked if American fighters would be cramped in this sort of action, Marshal said that "they will not be cramped, but will expand."

BERLIN—The Berlin radio last night admitted that a serious uprising had been carried on in Western Hungary but added that it had been put down at the "zero hour."
