The accelerated, three-semester program is Penn State's major contribution to America's war efforts. For the duration, it is to be regarded as a normal and not a special program of study.

The Old Order Changes . . .

The 20 most outstanding seniors will be selected tonight by a group of junior students who will judge them on their contributions to Penn State during their four years.

This is only a tribute on scroll for four years of work, hard work that has been ended. But there is a greater tribute to these students, a tribute which cannot be pointed out on a scroll to "most outstanding seniors."

The reward of work well done is not always a shingle, a key, or public tribute. To these 20 departing seniors, the scroll will only recreate in their minds incidents and problems which they met during their four years. These problems may not have been solved, but they were met with earnestness and sincerity.

These 20 outstanding seniors will get their greatest satisfaction in seeing other students, new campus leaders, following in their footsteps, attacking the same problems with the same fortitude, and working as earnestly as they did.

The reward, then? The reward for a job well done is to have known that they had a part in completing the job. These 20 seniors will leave College with another shingle, but they have left a heritage in its place.

The heritage? Work!

Whitewash Banned

"Ignorance is no excuse in the eyes of the law." Last year's Cabinet decreed that College social functions could not be advertised by whitewash signs on campus sidewalks unless permission was first granted by the student government Executive Committee.

A number of months has elapsed since that legislation was passed, and many newly elected officers of campus organizations may not be aware of the law. However, ignorance is no excuse. Cabinet has enacted no serious penalty for violations, but too many offenses may lead to more serious measures.

Daily Notes Of Interest

It is interesting to note that the original peacetime program adopted in 1937 and put into operation in 1938 called for 50 merchant ships a year—a total of 500 vessels in ten years. In 1939 this was expanded to 100 ships a year; in 1940 to 200 ships; in 1941 to 400. Schedules for 1942 call for 750 ships and for 1943 approximately 1,500.

Over 7,500 aliens of German, Japanese, and Italian parentage have been apprehended by the Department of Justice since the memorable week of December 7.

President Roosevelt has proclaimed Sunday, May 17, as "I am an American" day. The day is to be set aside as a public occasion for the recognition of all citizens who have attained their majority or who have been naturalized during the past year.

The Campuseer

Keep 'Em Playing!

We're still in there punching for some social activity this summer. We note that College officials are quite anxious for attendance in these parts for the third semester. Well, how about making it enticing with a few juicy dances? Also, we may as well throw our two cents in towards a motion for bigger and better hours for coeds this summer. After all, we hate to end a date with the setting sun.

Comprenez-Vous?

This little bit of dialogue drifted our way from a session of a Com class the other day:

Professor: We're going to have three comprehensives before the end of the semester.

Student: How come three exams, Prof?

P: Well, a comprehensive is supposed to tell me how much you know, isn't it?

S: Yeah.

P: With three comprehensives I can find out three times as much.

60-Second Romance

Quickest pinning and unpinning of the year was reported last week when tpa Aileen Holz was the possessor of a phi ep pin for the duration of one (1) day . . . Along the trail of broken romance comes this little ditty of returned jewelry, from theta Penny Pennell to the one and only Les Hetenyi.

Kappa Kapers

Three keyholes, signifying a Kappa's engagement, were passed out Friday night at the annual kkg formal. Bill Finn was the recipient of one from Alice Murray, Jim Hartman from Shirley Tetley, and Kim Grimm from Lois Jane Hunter . . . Jack Brand and Bill Christman, delts, returned to their alma mater to be escorted to the affair by Sally Miller and Beanie Siebert respectively . . .

The AOPi's also cut a mean rug over this weekend, and conspicuous couples were Katie Swaverly and Ted Taylor, Chris Fox and lambda chi Bob Templeton, Joan Miller and pi kappa phi Ken Thompson, Peg Gregory and delta chi Freddie Ellsworth, Ann Morris and delta sig Walt Hibbard, ad infinitum . . .

It's A Hell-Hole

Two fraternity men were walking listlessly on campus the other day, both with disgusted airs. Said Bob Herrman to his sigma nu brother Jim Lister, "Let's go to Hell."

And Jim came back with the snappy retort, "Okay, Bob, let's go out to the House."
