

Hitless For Six Innings, Lions Nip Muhlenberg Nine, 4 To 3

Trackmen Leave For Penn Relays

Holding their last drills before the Penn Relays, tomorrow and Saturday, the Lion track team held extensive baton-passing practice yesterday in preparation for its first meet of the outdoor season.

The team will leave for Philadelphia this afternoon and will rest there tonight rather than carry on any drills. Tomorrow's events will be the first part of a well-rounded meet in which the Nittany men hope to be among the highest contestants.

With the biggest entry of any of the colleges participating in the meet, the team will carry a weight of numbers. Members of the team have been seriously hampered in their drills the past several days by the cold weather.

Leading the Lions in their invasion of the "friendly city" will be Barney Ewell in the sprint department, Joe Bakura and Saul Hanin in field events, and Norm Gordon, the distance runners. Indoor shows by these boys this Winter promise to make them favorites in the meet, despite the fact that they have a weather handicap which many of the other schools have not suffered.

Another hindrance will be the absence from the lineup of Johnny Glenn whose sprained ankle is not yet well enough to permit him to return to practice. Glenn's place will be taken by Orv Krug.

In last year's carnival Penn State placed men in four of the special events. Barney Ewell grabbed second place in the special invitation 100-yard dash and fourth in the broad jump. Joe Bakura placed third in the pole vault and Glenn tied for fourth in the high jump.

Durkota, Weitzel Star In Practice

Penn State's football machine continued to practice yesterday with a routine pass and blocking practice in preparation for the regularly-scheduled Thursday scrimmage.

Winding up a heavy practice on Tuesday with a 15-minute scrimmage, Penn State's grid machine continued to work out without the services of Dave Alston in preparation for its encounter with Duquesne this weekend.

Led by Jeff Durkota and Bob Weitzel, the Blue and White second stringers showed their intentions of taking over some of the varsity positions by scoring two touchdowns against the Orange-clad veterans.

Bud Davis, recent replacement for Alston, was slightly hurt in the first part of the scrimmage and the Orange team was left without a capable tailback replacement.

While the Orange offense was bogging down, the attack of the Blue backfield under the generalship of Ray Ulinski worked through and over the line with reverses by Durkota and passes and plunges by Weitzel.

Other second stringers who looked exceptionally good both on offense and defense were guards Steve Suhey and Harry Rywak; Red Moore and Paul Schweitzer, tackles; centers Cackovic and Wolovsky, and reserve backs O'Karma and MacFarland.

Good end play was predominant in the game with four terminals playing good ball for the Higgins' team.

TOPNOTCHER — Kenny Yount, freshman ace marksman, added two more feathers to his cap when it was revealed that he had placed fourth in the National Rifle meet. Also during the annual rifle banquet last night, Yount, along with Frank Shuman, was appointed co-captain of the marksmen for next season.

Ken Yount Places Fourth In Nation

Penn State's freshman marksman, Kenny Yount, captured fourth place in the National Rifle Association meet, it was revealed by association officials yesterday.

The announcement came at the annual rifle banquet at the Hotel State College last night at which Yount was named, with Frank Shuman, to co-captain next year's gunners.

Because the meet was fired in sections, the NRA individual champions could not be announced until returns from all districts was compiled. Surprise national winner was Chandler of Brooklyn Polytech.

Hal Yount, brother of the freshman expert, ranked fifteenth in the nation; Bill LeWorthy ranked 21st; Stan Forbes, 55th; Shuman, 67th; Bob Rambo, 111th, Bob Wallace, 154; and freshman Bill Suter, 182. There were 270 entrants in the tournament.

At the banquet 12 varsity men received sweaters and three were awarded senior awards. Sweater winners are Buckner, Forbes, Kaiser, Rutchky, Shuman, Weimer, Hal Yount Gentzel, MacIndoe, Quirk, Moist and Carlton, manager. Senior award winners for three years service were LeWorthy, Rambo, and Wallace.

Miller Club Advances To IM Finals By Out-slugging Jordan Hall, 14-1

The Miller Club, in out-slugging and out-fielding the Jordan Hill team, 14-1, yesterday, advanced to the final round of the independent section of the intramural mushball league, Herschel J. Baltimore '43 and John Silen '43, co-managers of the softball tournament, announced late last night.

In the final round, to be played later this week, they will meet the Canal Street Firehouse team, champs of the past two years.

In the fraternity league Beta Sigma Rho beat Phi Sigma Kappa, 12-10, and Triangle tripled the number of runs that the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team scored to win, 15-5.

Only round-trip clouts were those of Morris Beck, Beta Sigma Rho, and Bob Noll, Miller Club player. Tonight, at 8:30, AGR plays Alpha Phi Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma meets Delta Chi and the AXS team plays the TKE's.

Warren Pyer Stops Foe In Relief Role

By PAUL WOODLAND
Held hitless and scoreless for six full innings, Penn State's baseball team won a close game over Muhlenberg after a seventh frame rally knotted the score, 3-3, and a tally in the eighth proved the margin of victory, 4-3, yesterday afternoon.

Warren Pyer, sophomore right-hander, was the hero of the day as he entered the game for Ed Tutleya in the fourth with two Mules' runs on the books, the third run on third base, and no outs. Pyer went the final six innings, retiring the opposition batsmen in one-two-three order except in two instances when four men succeeded in getting a bat. He gave up two hits.

Whitey Thomas started the fireworks in the seventh with a single, advanced through a hit by Catcher George McWilliams, and scored when Pyer bunted safely. McWilliams and Pyer tallied when Farris hit safely.

McWilliams' infield grounder batted in Captain Bill Debler's winning marker after he made first on a safety, went to second when Perugini singled and got to third when Sparyk Brown bunted.

Strong Bucknell Court Squad Edges Varsity Netters, 5-4

Unable to shake off the injury jinx which has plagued them since the beginning of the season, Penn State's varsity netters dropped a close 5-4 decision to the strong Bucknell Bisons on the varsity courts yesterday. The loss was the second for the Lions in four starts.

Both teams broke even in the singles, each side copping three of the six matches. Bucknell finally turned the tide by edging the Lions in two of the three doubles matches to make the final score read, 5 to 4.

At the number one spot, Cy Hull bowed to George McCall in straight sets, 0-6, 3-6. McCall is the Middle Atlantic Indoors Intercollegiate champion and made short work of the Lion ace, who was seriously handicapped by a shinsplint suffered in the Lehigh matches.

Ace Parker, playing at number two for State edged Burns in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5. Al Hendler was defeated by Griffen of Bucknell by 4-6, 1-6 scores.

Captain Charlie Bowman, returning to the lineup at the number four slot, fell before the unerring baseline accuracy of Bucknell's Carson, 3-6, 3-6.

Playing a steady game at the number five position, Johnny Knode overwhelmed Culbertson in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1. Sophomore Herb Kraybill came from behind to topple Finklestein in the final singles match, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1. Kraybill remains undefeated in singles competition this season.

In the doubles Hull and Parker extended McCall and Culbertson to 16 games in a hectic second set, but finally went down before the Bison pair, 4-6, 7-9.

In the second set Griffen and Carson of Bucknell downed Bowman and Lundelius, 6-1, 8-6, to win the fifth and final victory for Bucknell.

Kraybill and Hendler teamed to defeat Finklestein and Burns in the windup by 6-2, 6-4 scores.
