PRICE: THREE CENTS

Craig, Weinberg Enter Regional Discussion Finals

James B. Craig '44 and Bernard M. Weinberg '43 will compete today in the regional National Extempore Discussion Contest finals on Inter-American Affairs at Cleveland for a free trip to South America.

Both students will sit in at a round-table discussion on "How to Best Implement the Good Neighbor Policy." Craig will participate this afternoon in the first round-table, while Weinberg will take part in the second panel tonight.

From this discussion, a panel of six speakers will be selected to compete tomorrow for the right to represent the Central region in the final National program of the six regions. This will be the Town Meeting of the Air program on May 14 and will be broadcast from New York.

If war conditions permit, all six speakers will also tour other American Republics this Summer.

The contestants earned their way to the regional contest by winning the district finals which were held at Penn State March 21. The other colleges which took part in the district competition were Bucknell, Dickinson, and Lock Haven State Teachers College.

The purpose of this nation-wide contest is to promote inter-American friendship and cooperation by stimulating study and discussion of affairs of the Americas. The program has been endorsed by President Roosevelt and Governor Bricker of Ohio.

The colleges and universities which are competing in the Central Region are DePauw, Indiana, Notre Dame, Purdue, Adrian, Michigan Oberlin Western Reserve Wittenberg, Lafayette, Mount Mercy, Pennsylvania Pittsburgh, and Penn State.

Artists' Course Renewal Indicated By Poll

"Indications at the present time point towards the College having an Artists' Course Series next year," Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman of the Series Committee, announced yesterday. No definite statement can be made, however, he added, until after the Committee meeting today.

Results of the poll taken at the Marian Anderson concert reveal that 1,222 persons voted for the Course continuation, while only nine voted against it.

President's Office Alters Rule On Senatorial Scholarships Regarding Summer Semester

Several alterations have been made in the College's policy of handling senatorial scholarships, according to an announcement yesterday from the President's office.

In the past a student automatically lost his scholarship if he dropped out of school for a semester. However, special concessions will be made pertaining to students who do not return for the Summer semester. They will be permitted to hold their scholarships and apply them for the Fall term. Should they not return in the Fall the scholarships will be automatically forfeited.

Mrs. Virginia M. Hartman, secretary in the President's office, has requested that all students holding senatorial scholarships who do not intend to attend the Summer semester report this fact to her before they leave school, May 9.

If students make this report it will facilitate the compilation of fee bills and will aid Mrs. Hartman in making reports concerning the scholarships to the various senators.

In cases where students intend to drop out of school it is doubly important that a report be made. Their scholarships can then be transferred to other students and the funds will not lay idle over the Summer.

No definite rules have been set up to apply during the coming semesters of the accelerated program but it is believed that the concessions made for this Summer's semester will not be continued. If a student leaves school for any of the semesters this Fall or Winter, he will automatically lose his scholarship.

It was also announced that scholarships awarded to incoming freshmen will be applicable to start in either June or September.

It was emphasized that in all the rulings on the scholarships, their application and use, final jurisdiction lies with the senator involved.

Penn State Has First Air Force Meeting

Penn State students have been chosen as the first in five colleges in the state to receive instructions from Army officials about the new Air Force Enlisted Reserve plan.

They will meet with students here Monday night in a mass meeting at which the faculty advisors from the other Pennsylvania colleges will also be present to answer students' questions.

Scabbard And Blade Sponsors 3 Exhibits

"Company H, First Regiment of the Scabbard and Blade is cooperating in every way possible to help the High School Day program," said William J. Maher '43, publicity sergeant of the company.

Plans are already underway to have displays of military equipment on exhibit in the Armory all day Saturday with John W. MacIndoe '42, cadet lieutenant colonel, in charge of the infantry show, and John D. Morgan Jr., cadet colonel, in charge of the engineering exhibits.

Another exhibition to show Penn State's part in military preparedness will have a machine gun crew, under the leadership John W. Pierce '42, fire two belts of blank ammunition either in front of the Armory or between the halves of the football game on Saturday.

Doherty Receives PS Club Award

Gerald F. Doherty '42 became the sixth recipient of the Penn State Club's annual award to "the outstanding non-fraternity senior" at the Penn State Club banquet in the Sandwich Shop last night. Thomas J. L. Henson '42 made the award.

President Ralph D. Hetzel and Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, were the main speakers at the dinner served to more than 70 members and guests. Prof. Robert E. Galbraith of the English department was another guest speaker.

Penn State Club keys were presented to members for service to the club. Arthur Pescoe '42, J. Louis Nagoette '42, Benjamin J. Snipas '43, R. Donald Krigger '44, John C. York '43, Martin H. Duff '43, Charles W. Thompson '43, and William C. Strieb '42 received the awards from Bursar Russell E. Clark, faculty advisor of the club.

Officers installed were John York '43, president; Thomas E. Wilcox '44, vice-president; Robert A. Cristoff '44, secretary; Ray A. Zaroda '44, treasurer; Kenneth D. Baird '43, social chairman; Vincent B. Makowski '43, athletic chairman; and Harry C. Coleman '44, publicity director.

Student Union Board Sets Social Calendar Dates

Group Schedules No Events After August

Less than two and one-half months after the Junior Prom, another big dance, the Soph Hop, will be sponsored July 10, it was announced last night after the Student Union Board met to approve dates for major social events of the Summer semester.

Because the College is unwilling to plan anything definite after September, the executive student group planned no events after August 28. Only date the Summer School recreation committee asked to be reserved is July 2 when a reception and dance for Summer School students will be held. Other Summer School events will be fitted into the Summer Semester calendar.

Novel on the social slate for the coming semester are a play day in Rec Hall on Memorial Day, and a play night in Rec Hall June 13.

The calendar:
 May 23—WSGA dance.
 May 30—Play day, Rec Hall.
 June 6—Penn State Club dance.
 June 8—Freshmen start.
 June 13—Play night, Rec Hall.
 June 20—Collegian dance.
 June 27—Cwen dance.
 July 2—Summer School dance and reception.
 July 10—Soph Hop.
 June 18—Mortar Board dance.
 June 25—Harvest Ball.
 August 1—Forestry Ball.
 August 7—Pan-Hel dance. Summer School ends.
 August 28—Summer semester ends.

Members of the Student Union Board who approved the dates are M. William Lundelius '43, IFC president; Robert L. Mawhinney '43, Interclass Budget committee; David J. McAleer '43, senior class president; Ann Drivas, WRA; Hazel E. Gassmann '43, IWA; Frances E. Haley '43, Pan-Hel.

Bernard A. Plesser '43, AA president; John C. York, '43, Penn State Club president; Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA; Robert E. Schooley '43, The Daily Collegian; and George L. Donovan, manager of Student Union.

DOROTHY C. ELLIS '42

Dorothy Ellis Chosen To Reign As Queen Of All-College Circus

Dorothy C. Ellis '42 will reign as Circus Queen at "Penn State Review in 1942" it was announced last night by Gene Wettstone, Circus director.

"Miss Ellis was chosen for her abilities as a ballroom dancer as well as for her comeliness and personal charm," stated Coach Wettstone.

The presentation of the Queen will be part of the first act in which Miss Ellis will lead a group of nine couples in a ballroom dance number, "Waltz Time." She will be escorted by Andrew P. Szekely '42.

Under the direction of Jeannette C. Wisden, a string ensemble will play "Spring, Beautiful Spring" to provide the music for the dance routine that has been arranged by Miss Jessie Cameron, assistant professor of physical education.

Miss Ellis will receive a 12-inch gold loving cup, inscribed with the title "Miss Penn State." The seven girls in the waltz number will act as her court of honor at the Saturday night production.

Sugar Rationing Registration Set

With the government's freezing of sugar supplies scheduled for May 5, the local agency for registering for rationing has set Tuesday and Wednesday as dates for the first registration, Superintendent of Schools Jo Hays, in charge of the registration, announced yesterday.

This registration will include only fraternities here. To help in correctly registering the fraternities, Hays will speak at a meeting of fraternity caferers and representatives at Phi Kappa Tau at 6:45 p. m. Monday, at which he will explain the system.

Further information will be available to caterers and buyers at Student Union desk. The fraternities which must register Tuesday and Wednesday will be required to fill out forms which they may get at the office of the superintendent of schools in the high school building. Registration will be held in the high school building from 4 to 6 and from 7 to 9 p. m. on the days set for it.

MADAGASCAR — Madagascar is now controlled by Nazi and Japanese agents. Many of the Free French formerly living on the island have been arrested and imprisoned by order of Pierre Laval, Hitler's collaborator in France. The occupation of Madagascar by Laval's forces will be a source of concern for Britain and the United States since it commands a strategic position on the Allied supply lines around the Cape of Good Hope to India.

MOSCOW — Stalin announced that the Russian army would strive to rid Russian territory of Germans this Spring. He assured the American ambassador that all the Germans now in Russian territory would be buried there and none would ever return to Germany.

'Courses As Usual' Hammond Says

Print Exhibit Showing In College Art Gallery

An art exhibit of forty contemporary American and European prints is now being shown in the College Art Gallery, 303 Main Engineering, J. Burne Helme, in charge of the division of fine arts announced yesterday.

The prints are chiefly lithographs and etchings. A feature of the exhibit is a set of etchings by British artists, Gerald Brickhurst, Sir D. Y. Cameron, F. L. Griggs, and Henry Rushbury. Sponsor for the show is Pi Gamma Alpha, honorary fine arts fraternity on the campus.

The gallery is open to the public daily from 8:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. except Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Acceleration and the war have caused the Engineering School to base its program on producing the greatest number of engineers in the shortest possible time.

This is the School's war time job as set forth by Dean Harry P. Hammond, who stressed that despite the war, the Engineering School must maintain the usual standards of instruction and scholarship.

In part, their first objective will be met by the adoption of the accelerated program for regular students and in part by training on campus as many groups of special students in short intensive courses as the staff and facilities of the School will accommodate.

The second aim will be met by insisting in all regular work upon the continuation of the high

Waring Will Broadcast 3 Thespian Tunes, May 1

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will play three tunes from "Hide 'n' Peek," latest Thespian production, on his Friday evening program, May 1.

The tunes, although they have not been announced as yet, will probably include "Dreaming" composed by James A. Leyden '42. Waring suggested that he especially liked the Leyden composition while visiting here several weeks ago.

A radio will be installed in Schwab Auditorium that evening so that those attending the repeat performance of "Hide 'n' Peek" will be able to hear Waring's program at 7 o'clock, before the show begins at 7:30.
