

Lion Gridders Face Duquesne Eleven Today; Syracuse Stops State Baseball Streak, 10-1

Courtmen Meet Strong 'Big Red'

Special to the Collegian
ITHACA, N. Y., April 24—Penn State's varsity tennis team arrived here late tonight for their tilt tomorrow afternoon with Cornell. The match is scheduled for 2 p. m. on the Big Red's varsity courts.

Halted in their last two times out, after their lineup was riddled with injuries earlier in the season, the Nittanymen will try to regain their winning stride with an upset over a dangerous Cornell squad.

Cornell holds a decided advantage over the Lions in that they have just returned from a training tour through the southern states, and have several victories over major southern collegiate teams to their credit.

Lion captain, Charlie Bowman, and Cy Hull, number one sophomore, are still question marks. Bowman was forced from the lineup with sickness, and has been unable to regain his usual form since his return.

Hull suffered a severe shin-splint in the second match of the year, that has seriously handicapped his game in subsequent matches. Both Bowman and Hull were handed decisive setbacks in the match with Bucknell last Wednesday.

Sophomore Al Hendler still favors an injured left shoulder, and may encounter trouble at the number three spot.

Ace Parker will start at number two for the Lions, Lundelius will probably fill number five, and Herb Kraybill, only member of the team to remain undefeated in singles this year, will handle the number six position.

Fire House Defends Mushball Title Again

The Canal Street Fire House took the mushball championship for the third consecutive time last night in a hotly contested game with the Miller Club. The Fire House pitcher, Art Borsa, allowed only two hits throughout the game, enabling the Fire House boys to roll up a 10-4 score.

Lacrosse Team Meets Syracuse

Special to the Collegian
SYRACUSE, New York, April 24—Rejuvenated by last week's victory over Cornell, Penn State's lacrosse team arrived here today for the game with the Syracuse team which is to be played tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m.

Hoping to beat the Orange team of which he was once an All-American member, Coach Nick Thiel brought a squad of 20 men to Syracuse, his home town, in an all-out effort to pull a victory out of the bag in the expected close battle.

With the hopes of the Lions depending upon whether the defense clicks, the team from the Nittany Hills is given an even chance for a victory. In a pre-game prediction Coach Thiel expressed his belief that his lacrossemen would win if they played the brand of lacrosse they are capable of playing.

Following the game with the Orangemen, Coach Thiel plans to visit with his parents who live in Syracuse. The Nittany team will return to State College late Sunday evening.

Soccer Play Continues; Track, Field Entries Due

Action in the intramural soccer tournament continued yesterday and plans were formulated for the intramural track and field meet, next Wednesday and Thursday.

Entries in the track and field meet must be presented at the intramural office in Rec Hall by noon today, according to Eugen C. Bischoff, director of intramural athletics.

Monday's schedule matches Phi Delta Theta and Delta Upsilon in a semi-final game. Sigma Nu will play Phi Sigma Kappa No. 1 in the concluding quarter-final match. The winner here will face Alpha Chi Sigma No. 2 in the other game of the semi-finals.

Sprint Medley Team Wins Relay In First Afternoon's Competition

Special to the Collegian
PHILADELPHIA, April 24 — Four near-record times turned in by Barney Ewell, Norm Gordon, Don Dolbin, and Marty Schiff paced the Penn State sprint medley relay team to a win in the Penn Relay Carnival here this afternoon.

The 440-yard relay team won its heat in the qualifying rounds in the afternoon's show, but unfortunately dropped the baton on a pass in the finals and so were not able to place in the event. Xavier College won this event with a time of 41.7 seconds.

The Lions failed to place men in any of the other events run off. The other events were shot-put, discus, 400-meter low hurdles, and 120-yard low hurdles.

The winning sprint medley team won its relay with a time of 3:26.5. Individual times of the Penn State runners were: Ewell, running the 440-yard leg, 48.2; Gordon, running the half-mile

Orangemen Collect 16 Hits From Lazar

Special to the Collegian
SYRACUSE, April 24 — Penn State's baseball streak of four wins was stopped cold here tonight, as the Syracuse nine nailed Paul Lazar for 16 hits in swamping the Lion squad, 10-1. Coach Joe Bedenk and his boys meet Colgate tomorrow afternoon on the Hamilton, N. Y. diamond.

State's lone tally was scored in the sixth inning by Tom Sidler, sophomore centerfielder, after Sidler hit safely, went to third on Bill Debler's single, and scored when John Ebersole was put out. Ten Blue and White batsmen were struck out by the Orangemen's hurler, the best the Lions have faced so far. Another big factor was the Penn State defense which bogged down.

"Fireman" Warren Pyer was called to duty in the eighth frame when Lazar got into trouble with only one out. Three runs came across before Pyer got the last two men out.

Debler collected two of the Lion's five singles, a minor offense compared to the 16 Orange hits, including four doubles and a home run.

Writers' Best Athlete To Be Announced In Circus Act

With intercollegiate champions, and near champions, in more sports than it is convenient to mention, with captains and stars galore to pick from. The Daily Collegian sports writers are faced with a very difficult task of selecting the "outstanding athlete of the year."

The award, to be made at the finale of the All-College Circus tonight, will be based upon the individual achievement of the athlete from the standpoint of what that athlete has done for Penn State, the fame that goes hand in hand with that achievement, and, above all, the sportsmanship of the athlete.

In former years the choice was left to the vote of the various coaches, but this year the School of Physical Education and Athletics turned over this task of selection to the local sports writers.

Former Penn State athletic greats who were awarded the title include Steve Hamas '29, Marty McAndrews '30, Frank Diedrich '31, Jesse Brewster '33, Thomas Slusser '34, Albert Mikelonis '35, Bill Miller '36, J. Franklin Smith '37, Wendell Wear '38, Harry Harrison '39, Nick Vukmanic '40, and John Barr '41. No selection was made in 1932.

Lion Golfers Play Bucknell Today

Heading for their second win of the season, Penn State's golf team will meet Bucknell University on the golf course at two o'clock today. This is the second meeting of the two teams, the Lions having beaten the Bisons 9 to 0 in 1935.

Team positions for this week's matches remain unchanged since Jim Kramer and Dent Holden held their own against Ed Fairchild and Joe Brucher in the inter-squad matches this week.

Bob Wallace will lead off in number one position with Chuck Seebold number two. The second foursome will include Dick Stephens and Kramer. Swan and Holden comprise the Penn State men in the fourth section.

Coach Rutherford is looking for another win in this, his 21st season with the Nittany golfers, but said that Bucknell has a strong outfit and will probably put up some stiff opposition.

Bucknell last played the Lion golfers in 1935, although two succeeding matches had been scheduled but were cancelled because of unfavorable weather. Penn State defeated West Virginia last Saturday on the home links by the decisive score of 9 to 0.

High School Seniors To Witness Fray

In a game that proved how evenly the teams were matched for today's High School Day battle, Penn State's and Duquesne's 1942 football teams battled to a 12-12 draw in the sweltering heat of New Beaver Field yesterday.

Sparked by the brilliant play of substitute tailback Bud Davis, the Nittanymen came from behind in the second half after a desultory start and outplayed the Red and Blue gridders in both offense and defense departments of the pigskin sport.

The Dukes started the scoring when Wolk scored on a reverse from the four after the Smoky City outfit had been hammering at the Blue and White's end zone for most of the first quarter.

A 50-yard return of a punt by Mayo Donelli, starting right half for the Dukes, set up the initial score of the game after the Higgins' men had kicked out from behind their goal. Davis had knifed through three blockers to stop the flashy Dukeman on the six.

Previous to the score the Nittany forward wall had held the Donelli-coached team in two goal-line stands. The tackling of Leo Nobile, Red Moore, and Ken Schoonover stood out in the defensive effort.

The Lions got their first break in the second quarter when Johnny Wolovsky, substitute center, snagged a Donelli aerial and placed the ball in the home team's possession on the Red and Blue's 25-yard line. Cliff St. Clair and Davis moved the ball to the eight yard marker from where Jack Banbury bulled his way through the center of the line for a T.D.

Coming back after the half with a powerhouse offense, the Lions moved to their second touchdown with Jeff Durkota carrying the ball on a shovel pass from O'Karma, substitute for Davis, to score standing up from the 19-yard line.

A 50-yard pass from Goode to Kielbasa produced the Dukes' second touchdown and the final score of the game.

Aldo Cenci, first-string blocking back, was hurt in the first quarter of the fray, but the picture may not be so bleak for the Lions in their battle with the Dukes today since Dave Alston will be back in uniform to aim at touchdown territory.

Starting lineup for today's game is as follows:

DUQUESNE	STATE
LE Jansante	Potskian
LT Matisi	Kerns
LG Keller	Jaffurs
C Wukits	Palazzi
RG Fay	Nobile
RT Cibules	Schoonover
RE Kisiday	Van Lenten
QB Setcavage	Ulinski
LH Donelli	Alston
RH Kielbasa	St. Clair
FB Gottlieb	Banbury
