

Delta Sig, AXS In Mushball Finals

Luke Watkins' double in the last half of the seventh inning, scoring Jim Hewitt, broke the 5-5 tie between the Delta Sigma Phi and the Delta Upsilon tens and gave the Delta Sig's a close 6-5 victory over their semi-final opponents yesterday.

Heavy hitting power gave the Alpha Chi Sigma team an 8-2 victory over the Phi Delta Theta squad in the other semi-final game.

The Alpha Chi Sig's and the Delta Sigma Phi's will meet in the finals to be played on the golf course tomorrow night at 6:15. Hershel D. Baltimore '44, IM mushball manager, announced.

In the intramural soccer league Sigma Nu defeated Phi Sigma Kappa's No. 1 team 2-0 in the only game scheduled in the fraternity division yesterday.

In the semi-finals today, Phi Delta Theta will meet Delta Upsilon at 5 p. m., while the Alpha Chi Sigma team plays the Sigma Nu squad at 5:30 this afternoon.

Lion Gridders Tie Dukes In 2nd Tilt

Marching for a touchdown in the final two minutes of play, Penn State's grid team managed to tie Duquesne's eleven by a 12-12 count for the second time in two days in their battle on the New Beaver Field gridiron Saturday afternoon.

Led by Jack Banbury, plunging fullback, the Nittanymen started their march on the midfield stripe and ended it from the three when Banbury bucked over left guard. Mayo Donelli, starting right half for the Night Riders, had kicked out from the end zone after the Dukes had been penalized for clipping.

Main cogs in the final scoring march were Cliff St. Clair, who carried a 25-yard reverse, Chuck MacFarland, and Banbury.

The other Lion touchdown was turned in by Banbury in the second quarter when he was on the catching end of an aerial thrown by Bud Davis, 155-pound tailback. The pass was completed in the flat on the 24-yard line from where Banbury evaded three of the Dukes' secondary to score standing up.

Duquesne had capitalized on a Lion fumble a few minutes before, in the first period, to score their initial points on a pass from Goode to Mehlich. Matisi, easily the outstanding lineman for the Red and Blue, broke through the right side of the Lion line and scooped up O'Karma's fumble on the Nittany 32-yard marker.

Matisi also arranged for the second Smoky City score when he blocked and recovered Banbury's punt midway in the second period. The Dukes' passing combination of Goode and Kielbasa then collaborated on two tosses to dent the Lion end zone from the 33-yard line.

Track Team Wins Nine Places In Penn Relays

Ewell Takes Broad Jump In Saturday Finale

Bolstered by first places won by the sprint medley relay team and by Barney Ewell in the broad jump, Lion trackmen came off with a grand total of five individual and four relay titles in the Penn Relays Carnival Friday and Saturday.

Other relay places won by the Nittany trackmen were a second in the 880-yard relay by a team made up of Don Dobbin, Marty Schiff, Gene Nevill, and Ewell, a fourth in the freshman mile relay, and a fourth in the two-mile relay.

Individual titles besides Ewell's broad jump win, with a leap of 24 feet, 5 1/2 inches, was a third by Ewell in the 100-yard dash, a fourth in the broad jump and a tie for fourth in the high jump by Orv Krug, and a tie for second in pole vault by team captain Joe Bakura.

One of the outstanding performances in the meet was Ewell's running the anchor leg of the 880-yard relay. Getting the baton in fourth place, he advanced his team to second, gaining on but not quite being able to overcome the lead which Bill Carter of Pitt had on him at the beginning of the last leg.

He was doing his running for this event and the 100-yard dash between jumps in the broad jump pit. This, according to Coach Chick Werner, was the cause of his failing to win the 100 from his opponents, two of the fastest sprinters in the country.

This showing and Gordon's sensational last leg of the sprint medley relay on Friday made the meet stand out as one of the best in the history of the carnival. Along with the battle between Campbell Kane of Indiana and Les Mac-Mitchell of the highly-touted NYU team, they rated tops in the weekend's spectacular meet.

Although no team scores are counted in the relays, the Lion team showed as well as was expected before the meet. NYU, pre-meet favorite, failed to win one first place.

NUMBER ONE—Norwood "Barney" Ewell, speed merchant, was named the outstanding athlete of the year at the All-College Circus Saturday night. Ewell missed the circus to attend the Penn Relays where he added the relay's broad jump championship to his ever-increasing list of titles. Chosen the No. 1 Lion athlete by The Daily Collegian sports writers, he is the 13th Penn State sports figure to be so honored.

ROTC Parade Delays IM Track Meet One Day

"Even the intramural track and field meet is affected by the Army," observed Robert M. Fallon '44, co-manager of the meet. "It was necessary to change the intramurals to Thursday and Friday," Fallon explained, "because a ROTC parade Wednesday afternoon makes it impossible to start then, as originally scheduled."

Changing the date gives the 140 fraternity men and 60 independent men, who signed entry blanks, an extra day of practice.

William P. Douglas '45, golf tournament manager, meanwhile stated that 23 four-man teams have signed for matches in fraternity competition. Only three teams have entered the independent division.

all even, the Nittany squad dominated the offense with 11 first downs to the Night Riders' 5.

Despite his fumble, O'Karma starred in the Blue and White backfield along with Jeff Durkota, Bob Weitzell, Banbury, Davis and St. Clair.

Best defensive work of the day was turned in by Leo Nobile, Jack Kerns, Johnny Jaffurs and Ray Ulinski, line backer.

Collegian Freshmen Candidates To Meet

All those who have not tried out, as well as present candidates, should attend. Organization of the staff system will be clarified, and new freshmen will be given assignments.

Cornell Netters Defeat Lions, 7-2

Penn State's varsity netters suffered their third straight loss of the season to Cornell on the latter's courts by a 7-2 score Saturday.

Except for the courageous comeback victory of Cy Hull, the Nittanymen dropped all the singles matches and two of the three doubles.

Playing at the number one spot, Hull upset Cornell's Liberthol, who is ranked among the leaders in eastern intercollegiate tennis.

Getting off to a slow start, Hull dropped his first set by a 2-6 score, but rallied to overpower his opponent in the next two sets, 6-3, 6-2. Ace Parker was halted by Slater of Cornell, 3-6, 4-6. Captain Charlie Bowman bowed to Shaunessy, 2-6, 3-6.

Bill Lundelius dropped his match to Sunstein of Cornell in straight sets, 4-6, 5-7. Al Hender lost to Dingle by 4-6, 0-6 scores. In the singles final Herb Kraybill suffered his first singles defeat of the season when Stein of Cornell halted him in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

In the doubles Hull and Parker teamed to stop Slater and Dinnen, 6-0, 7-5, for the second and final Penn State victory. Bowman and Lundelius dropped their doubles match to Cornell's Stein and Sunstein, 4-6, 4-6. In the final Hender and Kraybill were defeated by Fricke and Blatz by 7-5, 6-2 scores.

Orangemen Defeat Lion Lacrosse Team

Once again Syracuse's jinx over visiting Penn State teams reared its head when the Orange lacrosse team grabbed a 9-7 victory from Coach Thiel's Lion stick-wielders in Archibald Stadium Saturday.

Seeking to halt the win streak of his Alma Mater, upon whose team he once received All-American acclaim, Coach Thiel had pinned his hopes on a fast-moving attack that had won for him against Cornell last week.

However, with Tom Mitchell on the sidelines with a leg injury received in the Cornell battle, the Lion offense refused to hit its usual pace.

Captain Bill Ziegenfus and Jim Gotwals, playing 60 minutes of well-concentrated ball for Coach Thiel, aided greatly in the Nittany defense.

Scoring for the Lions was done by George Pittinger, Jim Ritter, and Mark Singly who threw in two goals each for the Thielman. Bob Koch accounted for the other.

Lion Golfers Win Easily Over Bisons

Winning their second match of the season, the Nittany golfers easily downed Bucknell University on the College links Saturday by a score of 7 to 2. Sophomores Dick Stephens and Bill Swan came through with par 69's for the course for the low scores of the meet.

Playing No. 2, Captain Chuck Seebold was the only Lion to lose his match, dropping it to Britton, 1-up. All the other Penn State men had their matches well in hand with the exception of Bob Wallace, playing No. 2 position. Wallace defeated Ramage from Bucknell, 1-up.

Stephens and Swan had little difficulty in defeating their opponents by a wide margin. Coach Rutherford said he is expecting more performances like the par scores turned in by these two, since the golfers can now get out on the greens for plenty of practice.

Summary: Seebold lost to Britton, 1-up, and Wallace defeated Ramage by the same score. Penn State lost best ball 1-up. Second foursome: Stephens took Brogan, 7 and 6; Swan knocked off Vanderbilt, 7 and 5.

Penn State won best ball, 8 and 6. Third foursome: Dent Holden stopped Fritz, 9 and 7, while Jim Kramar topped Johnston, 7 and 6. Penn State took best ball, 7 and 6.

Lion Nine Drops 2nd, Faces Navy

Anyone visiting New Beaver Field's baseball diamond yesterday afternoon would have seen Coach Joe Bedenk putting his baseball Lions through an intensive field practice to polish up before a trip to Annapolis, Md., for a contest tomorrow afternoon.

Seven errors in a game against Colgate in Hamilton, N. Y., Saturday, had a lot to do with an 11-8 defeat at the hands of the Red Raiders. Tied 8-8 going into the last half of the eighth inning, the Lions fell apart as the hosts brought three runs across the plate.

Eddie Tuleya pitched four innings, and was relieved by Sophomore Warren Pyer. Both hurled well, giving up a total of seven hits as the Lions collected nine, but State's poor defense marked its doom. The Blue and White record is now four wins and two defeats, since Syracuse pounded out a 10-1 win Friday.
