

Golfers Shooting Beta Theta Pi Captures IM Fraternity Golf Title

Top team in the EIGA, the Nittany golfers will meet Georgetown at Princeton this afternoon in one of their toughest matches of the season. The Lion golfers are undefeated this season, having four straight wins to their credit.

Coach Rutherford has with him on this trip to the stronghold of some of the best golf teams in the country the same six-man outfit that has been clicking so handily this year, plus Ed Fairchild and Joe Brucher. Neither of these men have played in a match this season.

"Georgetown is one of our toughest opponents," Rutherford said. He added that some of the Hoyas men have been shooting 69's and 82's in their matches. If Penn State wins its matches this weekend, there will be nothing in the way of an undefeated season.

Captain Chuck Seebold, Bob Wallace, Dick Stephens, Jim Kramer, Bill Swan, and Dent Holden will start in the matches this afternoon.

Tomorrow morning the Lion linksmen meet Princeton, and in the afternoon they take on the Penn team.

These are the last scheduled matches of the season, with the only other meets to be played those of the play-offs for the EIGA championships in Connecticut.

Phi Sigma Kappas Lose In Four Close Matches

SEEKS TITLE—Hal Zimmerman, intercollegiate gymnastic title holder, and five other Lion gymnasts, will leave today for the National AAU Gym meet in Cleveland.

Six Lion Gymnasts Seek AAU Titles

Led by intercollegiate champion Hal Zimmerman, six members of the Lion's champion Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastic squad will leave today with Coach Gene Wettstone for the National AAU gym meet which will be held tomorrow at Western Reserve College, Cleveland, Ohio.

Accompanying Zimmerman who will attempt to add the national amateur tumbling and parallel bar titles to his list of wins, will be Sol Small, entered in the parallel bar and ring competition; Captain Charley Senft and Bill Gotherman, in the rope climb; Eddie Anderson, in tumbling; and Sid Rudman, who will compete on the rings.

Wettstone pointed out that Senft and Gotherman have an excellent chance of copping the rope climb title, because Army and Navy climbers, the only men to defeat them this year, are not entered in the meet.

Zimmerman placed fourth in last year's competition behind Szytula, Temple ace, who defeated the Lion star in the Nationals, Logan, Michigan tumbler, and Atkins, Illinois star. Hal defeated the latter two in dual meet competition this year.

Illinois, last year's AAU team champs, will be on hand to defend their title.

Election of the varsity gymnastics captain was postponed until the Summer semester, according to Wettstone.

Beta Theta Pi won the fraternity intramural golf championship by defeating Phi Sigma Kappa, 5 1/2-1/2, on the College course yesterday, but the score does not indicate the closeness of the match. Every individual match was not decided until the entire eighteen holes were completed.

The best ball of the second foursome was the only point garnered by the Betas that was decided before the last hole. Rain and a strong wind slowed up the match considerably.

Bus Boyle of Beta Theta Pi edged John King, Phi Sigma Kappa, by a 1-up count and John Brown, also of Beta Theta Pi, nosed Ben Franklin of the losers by the same 1-up score in the initial foursome. The best ball was captured by the Betas, 1-up.

Russ Jacobson, Beta, and Bob Roy, Phi Sigma Kappa, were all even after eighteen holes of play. In the final individual match, Bob Cleland, Beta freshman, nipped Dick Spureck of the Phi Sigs by the same 1-up tally. Best ball went to the Betas, 4 and 3.

Beta Theta Pi entered the final round by virtue of a win over Delta Chi and the losing Phi Sigma Kappas eliminated Phi Gamma Delta yesterday.

Penn State Rated Underdogs In Fray Against Orangemen

Penn State will definitely be the underdogs when the Lion baseball team meets the Orangemen from Syracuse on New Beaver Field in the only home varsity contest in State College tomorrow. Freshman lacrosse is the only other team which has a match scheduled here.

When the first batsman stands at the plate at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow, he will be facing an ace Syracuse hurler. The opposition has a whole staff full of competent pitchers, one of whom struck out ten Penn State men in the last Orange-Lion encounter away two weeks ago when the Blue and White bowed, 10-1.

Coach Joe Bedenk has his choice of several pitchers to start on the mound, but it is likely that Eddie Tuleya will get the nod. Johnny Stover, who hurled last Saturday when the Nittany nine snapped a four-game losing streak, is another possibility. Warren Pyer, who gets used for fireman chores, will probably see action if the starting twirler gets in trouble.

Saturday may be the last game for some of the seniors on the squad, although every one is eligible to continue the regularly scheduled season which ends with Pittsburgh here May 30. After that, play will be informal, and members of Leo Houck's frosh nine can step up and get experience with some of the returning varsity players.

Bullpen Bull

Before the first game of the present diamond campaign we took occasion to ask Joe Bedenk just what he had in the way of pitchers. And his quick retort was that we were assuming too much as he actually had only one real pitcher, namely, Ed Tuleya.

Well, after watching several games since that time it occurred to us that maybe the team has more than one pitcher. In fact, two sophomores, Warren Pyer, and John Stover have at times shown suspicious signs of being real moundmen.

So we again approached the ruddy baseball mentor with a query as to his pitching staff. And although he has not been too surprised at Pyer's ability as a relief hurler, he has been pleased and pleasantly so with the development of Johnny Stover. In fact, Bedenk plans to start Stover tomorrow against Syracuse, a hard hitting team which pounded the Lions to a 10-1 pulp in their first meeting this Spring.

As for Tuleya, he has not carried the brunt of the mound duties as consistently as expected. This being caused partly by a pulled muscle in his leg. At one point in Bedenk's search for pitchers he tried Sparky Brown on the hill. One reason for this attempted shift being that Brown's poor hitting was acceptable only from a pitcher.

Considering the number of sophomores on the squad, their record has not been bad. And with the experience they've had, in the past weeks, Syracuse should find considerably more resistance when they tangle with the Lions tomorrow.

Johnny Glenn Elected Track Captain; Karver Named Honorary Head

Johnny Glenn, rangy high jumper, was named captain of next year's track team in elections held at the track banquet in the State College Hotel last night. Jerry Karver was named honorary freshman captain, an honor conferred at the end of each freshman season.

Glenn will replace this year's captain, Joe Bakura, star pole vaulter and javelin heaver, holder of the College record in the pole vault at 13 feet 5 inches.

Karver, who broke the College two-mile record in the meet with Temple Wednesday with a time of 9:46.1, was elected honorary captain of the frosh cross-country team last Fall. He is one of the few men, if not the only Penn State man, to have been thus honored with two captaincies in one year.

Ewell, Carter Set For Last Dual Battle When Lion, Panther Clash

When the Nittany Lion and the Pitt Panther line up against each other on the Pitt Stadium cinders tomorrow, there will be a dual meet and a duel. Barney Ewell will be racing for the last time in his college running career his mortal enemy of the track, Pitt's flashing Bill Carter.

For two years these speed merchants have met in this combat several times per year, but this year it promises more and greater thrills because it is Barney's last chance to show his stuff against this, the stiffest competition he has had to face.

Especially anxious to win this time because Carter beat him in the Penn Relay century on April 24, one of the two times he has been able to turn the trick on the flashy Lion, Barney will enter this meet with superman ambition.

Other Lion runners who will attempt to upset the Blue and Gold appletart are Don Dolbin, Barney Plessner, Marty Schiff, Gene Neville, Max Peters, Mac Smith, Norm Gordon, Ed Miller, Herm Goffberg, Curt Stone, Alex Bourgerie, and Bob Hazel.

Stone, Gordon, Goffberg, Bourgerie, and Miller will tangle with Panther distancemen Bill Curtis, Bud Davis, and Marcus Alias, while Plessner and Neville will be pitted against Stickel, Carter's speed partner, in the hurdles.

Peters and Mac Smith will stack up against Bob Smith, ace Pitt 440-yard dash man, and Petic, both of whom collaborated with Carter and Stickel in the 880-yard relay event at the Penn Relays last week to score Pitt's lone championship.

While the cinder-burners are contesting at the Stadium oval, the field men lead by Captain Joe Bakura and captain-elect Johnny Glenn will be endeavoring to score essential points in order to gain revenge for last year's defeat.

Pittsburgh will be especially handicapped in the field events since Dusty Rhodes and Red Tessup, pole vaulters, and Jim Elliot, 200 foot javelin thrower, have already left for the army.

Corner Kick Wins Soccer Crown For Phys Eders

Scoring a corner kick in the extra period, a team composed of Physical Education Majors defeated Irvin Hall for the independent intramural soccer championship on the golf course field, yesterday afternoon.

Playing for the victorious team were Clair Hess, manager; Dan Valenti, Len Catanoso, Jerry Wisner, Aldo Cenci, and Jim Wright.

C. Eugene Cassel '44 served as student manager for both the fraternity and independent tournaments.
