

Emanon Made 14th National By Sigma Delta Tau Bid

Visiting Officers To Pledge May 16

Emanon, only remaining local social fraternity, was accepted as a pledge chapter of Sigma Delta Tau last night to make a total of 14 national sororities on campus. Members will be pledged by visiting officers Saturday, May 16.

Organized in 1937, Emanon was recognized as a sorority by the Senate Committee on Student Welfare May 12, 1938, and became an associate member of Pan-Hellenic Council. Since then, the group has been active in campus and town welfare activities.

Occupying a suite of rooms on third floor Atherton Hall, the 18 members will wear light blue and gold ribbons after being the third local group to pledge national this year.

Present sorority officers are Muriel R. Meiselman '43, president; Edith S. Cahen '43, vice-president; Elizabeth Aaron '44, secretary; and Norma R. Shakespeare '43, treasurer. Mrs. Harold P. Zelko is acting advisor.

Other Emanon members who will become national affiliates are Seniors Rita S. Finklestein, H. Judith Gordon, Maxine Shalit; Juniors Eleanor B. Bermak, Sylvia Milberg, Shirley Paikin; Sophomores Margaret L. Acker, C. Betty Friedman, Phyllis Gordon, E. Rosalind Marks, Florence A. Most, Rae Weinstein, and Ruth J. Posner '45.

Fall Room Cards Out

Room cards have been sent to dormitory hostesses to be distributed to women students planning to return for Fall semester, announced Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women. Ten dollar deposits are to be mailed to the bursar's office by May 19.

Dean Ray Announces Alumnae Tea To Honor Ten Reunion Classes

The fifteenth annual alumnae tea, honoring ten graduating classes, will be held in Atherton Hall southeast lounge from 3:30 to 5 p. m. Saturday, announced Miss Charlotte F. Ray, dean of women.

The affair is given yearly by Miss Ray and her assistants with the aid of the local Alumnae Club under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Loman, president. Although all alumnae are welcome, the tea is in honor of the reunion classes of '92, '97, '02, '07, '12, '17, '22, '27, '32, and '37.

Approximately 130 guests were present at last year's function. Alumnae chapters throughout the state have contributed many articles such as silver services, pictures, candlesticks, and furniture to dormitories and other campus buildings, Miss Ray pointed out.

Activities scheduled for the weekend include golf, campus tours, luncheons, and lectures. Classes will have reunion dinners Saturday night.

Leyden '90 Wrote 'No Coeducation'

If coeds are going to graduate with weak constitutions, H. R. Leyden '90 could say "I told you so." Leyden, a former BMOC, was great-uncle of Jimmy Leyden, newly crowned King of the Hot Dogs.

As assistant editor of Free Lance, predecessor of The Daily Collegian, great-uncle wrote an editorial debunking coeducation. It wasn't that the thought women weren't capable of learning as much as men, but he didn't think men's courses suitable for women.

Looking out for the welfare of the typical '90 coed, Mr. Leyden bemoaned the fact that too many women had already made themselves permanent invalids by overstrain in college studies. "Talk of the sweet girl graduate," he said, "but you will find that most women who go through college courses graduate with weak constitutions."

He questioned, "Is the average age of the college student promotive of female delicacy and refinement to mingle with the average collegian in classes for four years in the ordinary experiences in and around classrooms?" He didn't think so.

According to the former reporter, "A woman needs what will make her queen of her household and society." They were not to be found in coeducational studies, Leyden declared.

Shouldn't Crab

With Jane Richardson handing out new fiberboard licenses to fishermen, crabbers and oyster hunters along the Virginia coast there should be little crabbing over substituting the new plates for steel ones.

HE Faculty Reminds Students To Register

Home economics students, including hotel administration men, are reminded by Mrs. Emma G. Welch, home economics instructor, that compulsory pre-registration will take place in Home Economics Building from 1 to 5 p. m. today.

To accommodate students, Home economics classes will be canceled during these hours. However, students must attend other classes and register in their free time.

Health Education Is Defense Aid

HARRISBURG—Health educational programs to increase the efficiency of defense plant workers are being conducted by the Pennsylvania Health Department's Division of Industrial Hygiene.

Workmen are being taught how to handle materials, chemicals and machines which could cause serious illness or injury to those unaware of the dangers inherent in them.

Field men of the Industrial Hygiene Division working out of the Scranton laboratory recently discovered symptoms of benzol poisoning among workers engaged in retreading and recapping tires. Plant owners and managers are being given information on ways to prevent such poisoning which takes men away from their work and hinders the turning out of needed rubber.

Benzol is a widely used chemical being essential in the manufacture of artificial leather, rubber goods, linoleum, paints and varnishes, and in photo-engraving.

We, The Women

Checking Up On The Checking System Sounds Like A Pretty Good Idea

She had a Junior Prom date and knew which formal she wanted to borrow. Her roommate didn't reject the offer of a dress and her escort didn't break the date—but she never went to the dance.

Three days before Junior Prom, our Example Number One was informed that five blackmarks had accumulated and she was to be campused for the weekend. Nobody bothered to explain how or when she had gotten the little black checks.

Occurrences like this are not at all uncommon. Under the existing system, student checkers in women's dormitories are authorized by WSGA to give blackmarks for three reasons: failure to sign in or out; lateness of not more than five minutes; and making unnecessary noise.

In some dorms, however, coeds receive blackmarks for untidy rooms, failure to attend house meeting, or just because the checker thinks they deserve one on general principles.

Weekly reports, including blackmarks, are turned in by checkers to the dean of women's office and then taken over by WSGA Judicial Committee. The Committee takes action on the basis of these reports.

Most checkers know their duties and perform them. We are writing about the ones who don't. We are talking about the ones whom WSGA must threaten with a blackmark (sounds silly, doesn't it?) to get weekly reports on time. We don't think the checkers who neglect turning in reports or who pass out blackmarks for personal reasons should be allowed to continue in a position where a sense of fairness and responsibility are prime requisites.

We suggest that WSGA Senate require all checkers to keep a cumulative list of blackmarks posted on dormitory bulletin boards. (Blackmarks accumulate over a two semester period.) We suggest that hostesses insure that penalties are fairly given and that recipients are immediately informed.

Unfairness of the present system is more potential than actual, we're just suggesting that somebody had better start checking on the checkers.

Library To Open Sundays On Trial

To determine whether the home economics library should remain open from 2 to 5 p. m. Sundays, the Home Economics Advisory Council voted last night to open the library the first three weeks of Summer semester for a trial period.

"If enough coeds show interest, the library will be open on Sunday for the remainder of the semester," said Mary E. Sprecher '43, council president.

The council will help sponsor a picnic for regular Summer semester and Summer session home economics students sometime in July.

Nittany Co-op will hold a formal dinner dance for seniors from 6 to 12 tonight. The dinner will be closed, but the dance will be open to guests of the members.

Too much money makes people unhappy because they can't get it.
