

Successor To The Free Lance, Established 1887

The Daily Collegian

OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 38—No. 149

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 18, STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE: THREE CENTS

Blackout Ordered For Wednesday From 10 To 11 P.M.

State College will be blacked out for the second time within a week Wednesday night from 10 to 11 p. m. in accordance with an order approved by the State Council of Defense to darken eight counties in north central Pennsylvania.

After the blackout last Friday, the personnel for protection during the drill is expected to function more smoothly since it will be augmented by students who were absent on vacation during the first trial.

Signal for turning out the lights Wednesday at 10 p. m. will be continuous short blasts on the fire whistle at the power house. All lights are to be extinguished immediately, and all persons except those with official missions must be off the streets.

Persons in automobiles must pull to the side of the street and enter the nearest building. Police will patrol the outskirts of the town and stop all traffic. Movie patrons must not leave the theatre during the blackout. The picture will not be halted.

Air raid wardens will have full power to enforce their orders, and must be obeyed. Offenders will be subject to prosecution under state and federal laws, the punishment being as high as $10,000 fine or ten years imprisonment for violation of the regulations.

Every light that can be seen from the outside must be turned off. If necessary, a blackout room has been suggested by the Defense Council to take care of any work that must be done in the home during the lights out period. Blackout rooms should include fa-

(Continued on Page Three)

Collegian Offers Deferred Rates

By deferring part of the subscription price to regular College fees, students may now make a down payment of $1.50 and receive The Daily Collegian during the Summer and Fall semesters.

As approved by the Administration, the new plan will enable subscribers to defer $1.75 of the subscription price, to be payable on the students' regular fees for the Fall semester in September.

In addition to offering daily campus coverage during the Summer semester, The Daily Collegian will feature another new attraction in the form of NEA news photos and features, which will depict topics of current national and international interest.

Maps showing the present theaters of war, pictures of baseball games and prize fights, as well as photos of outstanding events in the day's news are only a few examples of the new service that will be inaugurated immediately by the Collegian.

Subscription prices: by carrier—$3.25 for Summer and Fall semesters; $1.75 for Summer semester; by mail—$4.00 for Summer and Fall semesters; $2.25 for Summer semester.

Fraternity Booklet

H. Ridge Riley, editor, announced last night that fraternity representatives may call at Student Union for their copies of the annual Penn State Fraternity Booklet issued for incoming freshmen.

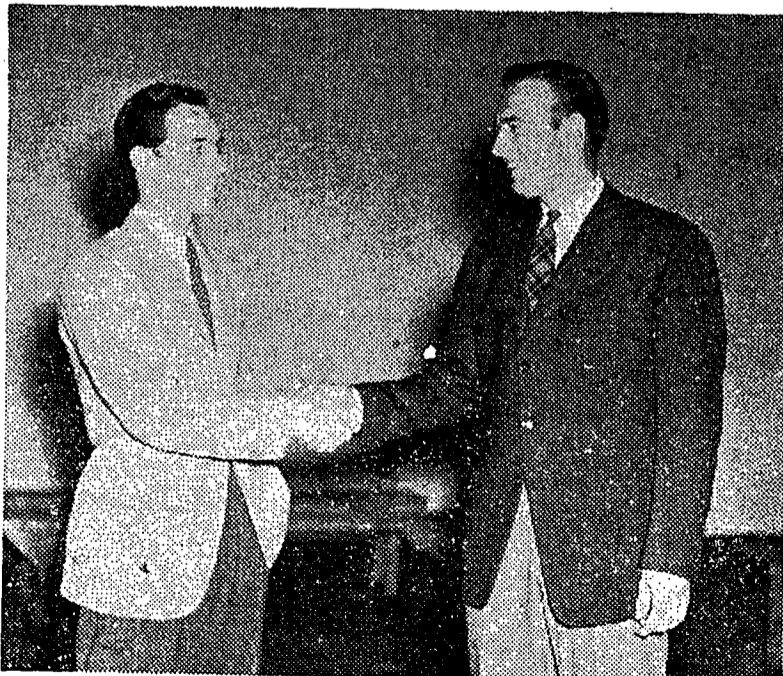

WAR TEMPO — As Penn State swung into its first full semester, President Hetzel set the keynote for the new program when he stated, "With the opening of College we swing fully into war tempo. For the first time we shall hit our stride. I have faith that students and faculty alike will sense the seriousness of our effort. It will not be play. We are in for a period of hard, exacting work. Penn State is at war. We are making history. Our record must be worthy of our great tradition."

Trustees Accept '42 Bond Gift

The executive committee of the College Board of Trustees voted May 9 to accept the gift of more than $5,000 from the Class of 1942 to be used to purchase Series F War Bonds, which will be available on maturity as a scholarship fund for future children of the class.

President Ralph D. Hetzel announced that the Trustees had also approved the establishment of a unit of the Signal Corps at the College in conjunction with the ROTC department as requested by the War Department.

Hummel Fishburn was named associate professor of music and music education, making him acting head of the department of music as of May 1. He replaces Richard W. Grant, who resigned recently.

HIGH FLIERS—Thomas J. Allison '42, right, congratulating William J. Debler '42 on his appointment as new wing leader of the "Flying Lions" squadron under the Naval V-5 program, is being replaced as the wing leader. The squadron will begin training in Philadelphia within a short time.

Registration For Summer Term Set Today, Tuesday In Rec Hall

Registration for the estimated 3,000 students who have returned for the Summer semester will be held in Rec Hall between the hours of 8 a. m. to 12 noon; 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. today and tomorrow.

Any student may register during the above hours as there is no alphabetical time division.

Registrar William S. Hoffman yesterday announced the procedure for student registration. A copy of the following instructions have been sent to all fraternities and many independent groups.

Registration Procedure

1. Call at Registrar's Office for your Grade Report. No undergraduate students in attendance the first semester will be permitted to register without his grade report which will be retained by the adviser.

2. Report at the office of your scheduling officer, as indicated below, and secure your approved and signed schedule. New students must present official credentials from the Registrar or College Examiner, Old Main Building, in order to secure a schedule.

Students who wish to change their course should do so before their schedule is made. An official form, for such a change, may be obtained at the office of the Dean of the School in which the student is enrolled. Minors must have parents' consent in writing.

3. Go to Recreation Hall and fill out the registration form, give it and your approved schedule to the Registrar. After Tuesday, May 19, registration hours will be announced by the respective offices. The fee of five dollars will be charged for registration after 5:00 p. m. Tuesday.

4. On Thursday or Friday, May 28-29, go to the Armory and pay your fees. Be sure to get your itemized receipted bill. The office of the Bursar in the Armory will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. continuously. The fee for late payment will be charged after 5:00 p. m. on Friday.

During the ten-day period which intervenes between the days for registration and the days for the payment of fees, only the student can estimate the total charges for the semester.

Students should be cautioned to notify the parents of the exact amount that will be needed to pay the semester fees on the specified days.

Announcement

Summer Session students enrolling during the Summer Semester will first report to the Summer Session office, Room 102 Burrowes (Education) Building. Classes will assemble according to the time table for the first time Wednesday at 8:00 a. m.

Official copies of the time table are posted on various bulletin boards, or may be seen at all scheduling offices, and may be purchased by students at the office of the Registrar.

ANNOUNCES PROCEDURE

Registrar William S. Hoffman yesterday announced registration procedure for the estimated 3,000 students returning for the Summer semester. Hoffman pointed out that the college expects to have approximately 600 freshmen enrolled by June 8.

Collegian Dance Set for June 20, Owls Will Play

Ushering in the first moments of the official calendar Summer, the annual Collegian Dance will be held in Rec Hall this year from 9 p. m. June 20 until 12:02 a. m. June 21.

The Campus Owls, under the leadership of trumpeter George Wasko, will provide music for the dance, one of the leading All-College gatherings scheduled for the Summer semester. Tickets given to Daily Collegian subscribers will be the only admission accepted at the door.

Subscription rates for The Daily Collegian for the Summer and Fall semesters are $3.25 by carrier and $4.00 by mail. Summer subscription rates are $1.75 by carrier and $2.25 by mail.

Classes Will Begin 8 A. M. Wednesday; Time Tables And Catalogues Available

Classes for the new Summer semester will officially convene at 8 a. m. Wednesday, according to an announcement from the office of the Registrar.

Along with the announcement comes the notice that there are still approximately 1,000 college catalogues and an equal number of class time tables available at the Registrar's office.

The catalogues may be procured free of charge by any student enrolling for the Summer semester.

700 Alumni Back

Despite the difficulties of travel, nearly 700 alumni of the College returned to the campus for class reunions and commencement activities over alumni week-end, May 9-10, according to E. K. Hibshman, executive secretary of the Alumni Association. Twelve members of the class of 1892 returned for their 50th reunion.

Summer Semester Gets First Trial

The first regular semester in the history of the College to run through the Summer months will be ushered in by registration in Rec Hall today and tomorrow.

A great majority of the upperclassmen are expected to return for the new College year after a Summer vacation of only one week, instead of the customary three months, to participate in Penn State's major contribution to the war effort, the accelerated program geared to meet wartime needs.

Approved by the Board of Trustees last winter, the calendar speed-up provides for a 15-week semester for upperclassmen ending August 28, and a 12-week semester for incoming freshmen beginning June 8 and ending August 28.

The Fall semester of 15 weeks will begin September 7 and end December 19. It will be followed by another college term of 15 weeks beginning January 4, 1943.

Air Force Applicants Will Swear In Today

The examining board for the Air Force Enlisted Reserve will administer the oath in 395 Old Main at 9 a. m. today to any applicants for enlistment who have completed their requirements, Prof. Robert E. Galbraith, faculty advisor, announced last night.

Professor Galbraith stated the board will return to the campus at intervals when fifty or more candidates for enlistment are ready for their final examinations.

Dance Symposium Set At College In June

A symposium in square dancing and modern social dancing will be held at the College from June 22 to June 26.

The dance symposium, part of Penn State's Summer session program, will be under the direction of Albert E. Haynes, of Sudbury, Mass., nationally known exponent of early American dances and social dancing. He will be assisted by members of the resident faculty of the School of Physical Education and Athletics.

Daily Collegian Begins Summer Publication—Subscribe Now By Mail Or Solicitor