

PSCA Completes Orientation Plans For Frosh Women

To provide a concentrated orientation for freshman women, PSCA, in collaboration with other campus organizations, is completing plans for two major parts of the freshman program.

Because of the omission of Freshman Week, PSCA will sponsor a camp for freshman coeds at the Ralph Watts Lodge, Shingle-town Gap, from Friday, June 5, until Sunday, June 7. According to Miss Agnes Highsmith, PSCA associate secretary, approximately 50 new students are expected to attend. The program will consist of games, contests, and explanations of Penn State history, customs, and traditions.

Following the tradition of past years, all freshman women will have an opportunity to meet campus women leaders and classmates at the annual PSCA party to be held in the Armory at 8:30 p. m., June 8. With program and decorations of a Stars-and-Stripes theme, entertainment will include a community sing directed by Dorothy J. Jennings '44.

Camp committee members are Margaret K. Ramaley '44, chairman, Ann Drivas '43, Lucille D. Moyer '43, Mabel E. Satterthwaite '43, Nancy J. Zartman '43, Ruth Hannighan '44, Dorothy J. Jennings '44, M. Virginia Krauss '44, Mary E. Wertz '44, A. Jane Bollinger '45, Patricia Diener '45.

Posting of war summaries in Atherton Hall and McAllister Hall will be continued as a part of the defense program of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, it was decided at a meeting recently. They will dispense with notices in Old Main.

Edith L. Smith '43 was appointed defense program chairman by Emily L. Funk '43, president. Summaries were posted in the dormitory lobbies last semester to keep students familiar with current news.

WSGA Names Holmes, Boring As Summer Senate Members

June 19 Date

For Frosh Mixers

Janet V. Holmes '43 was chosen by WSGA Senate to replace Nancy E. Gosser '43 as senior senator, and Dorothy M. Boring '44 will replace Dorothy L. Jones '44 as junior senator during the Summer semester. Miss Gosser and Miss Jones will return in the Fall.

Setting June 19 as freshman mixer date, Senate decided to divide the affair into two parties, one to be held in the Armory and one in Rec Hall. Kathleen M. Osgood '45, WSGA treasurer, and Muriel S. Taylor '43, independent senator, were appointed to complete program plans by Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA head. Senate will ask men's and women's honorary fraternities to help direct the affair.

Seventy-eight freshmen have been assigned to upperclass coeds as Little Sisters, according to H. Anne Carruthers '44, town senator.

Senate nominations for dormitory presidents will be announced in tomorrow's Collegian. These names may be supplemented by floor nominations, and candidates may be nominated for other offices at a compulsory meeting for all women students in dormitories at 10:30 p. m. Monday. Qualifications for presidential nominees are a one point five All-College average and Senate approval. Other candidates must have a one point two All-College average and Senate approval.

Other dates set by Senate are June 23 and 30 for nomination and election of freshman senator, and June 15 and 22 for nomination and election of freshman hall officers.

Because of a complicated and full freshman program, Senate voted to postpone the traditional "pop-in-night" to Fall semester.

Guests invited to next week's Senate meeting in WSGA Room, White Hall, at 6:30 p. m., Wednesday, are Mrs. Ruth M. Forbes, new northeast Atherton hostess; Anna J. Brown '44, Marjorie A. Henderson '44, Carolyn Emerick '45, and Julia H. McFarland '45.

We, The Women

WRA Takes A Step—Keep 'Em Playing

WRA, through cancelling its scheduled softball interclass program and providing for free play every afternoon at 4:15 on Holmes Field, has adopted a policy which we believe is worthy of continuation.

Apparently WRA realizes that an inherent quality of true relaxation is playing the game of your choice at the time of your choice. They must realize that coeds dislike being told that they must relax according to schedule. They seem to understand that sometimes it is impossible for teams to meet at a time set months in advance.

According to the announcement, however, free periods will continue only for a limited time.

Why not continue this policy all Summer? Why not skip the involved schedule of intramurals coeds to make up their own teams, choose their own games, and play when they want to?

Of course, this would demand preparation and supervision. WRA officials would have to direct and referee these games. It might be necessary for large groups to sign up at least a day in advance.

We suggest that these next few weeks be considered a trial. At the end of this period, we urge that WRA conduct a poll to determine whether coeds prefer the free play periods or the scheduled sports.

Lakonides Schedules Picnic For Freshmen

At a meeting of Lakonides, women's physical education honorary, last night a picnic for freshman physical education majors was planned in place of the regular orientation program previously given. New members who have met Lakonides requirements during the past semester will be announced at the picnic.

Committees include Mildred L. Cookerly '44, general chairman; Frances M. Angle '44, program chairman, assisted by Martha J. Haverstick '44; Harriet I. Cramer '44, refreshment chairman, assisted by Elizabeth J. Wiley '44; and Vivian I. Martin '45 and Laila M. Dunkelberger '44, handbook committee members.

HEC Cafeterias Open For Public

Home economics Cafeteria and Maple Room will open for public service from 11:45 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Monday, announced Miss Mary D. Stockton, assistant in home economics, yesterday. The slogan for the Summer will be "Home Economics Food Service."

Twenty-cent luncheon plate special consisting of a main dish, hot vegetable, salad, and bread and butter will be the cafeteria's feature attraction. Besides the special plate, the regular menu will be offered. Guests may also order a la carte.

Maple Room will serve the same food cafeteria style, but in an a la carte manner only.

Started to aid students of low financial income to obtain attractive well-balanced meals at a minimum cost, the cafeterias served meals to about 120 persons daily last year.

Calorie-perfect luncheons are planned, prepared, and served by home economics students in school luncheon management and quantity cookery courses.

The cafeterias will not be open for dinner during Summer semester, as most of the senior students are away on practicum courses. Meal tickets may be obtained for five dollars.

URGES SUPPORT—Ann Drivas '43, WRA president, stated last night, "WRA's Summer program can be only as successful as its publicity. Without The Daily Collegian, it would be impossible to keep coeds informed. I urge all support in the subscription campaign."

32 Dieticians Apply Studies

To complete Summer practicum which will enable them to help fill the many calls for dieticians created by the war, 35 home economics seniors are gaining experience by working at hospitals and restaurants throughout the state. The coeds will continue their studies on campus in the Fall.

Among the 20 institutions at which students are working are Home for Incurables, Baltimore—La Rue G. Baney, Mildred Friedman and Helen P. Miller; Lanke-nau Hospital, Philadelphia—Julia A. Barney and Betty Jane Lindemuth; Presbyterian Hospital, Pittsburgh—Virginia L. Coltrin, Dorothy C. Furman, Frances E. Haley, and M. Christine Haines.

Geisinger Hospital, Danville—Helen L. Craig; Mayview State Hospital, Mayview—Ranee A. Durkee and Carolyn R. Erb; Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre—Helen M. Fiske, and Louise A. Swantowski; Allegheny General Hospital, Pittsburgh—Mary A. Fox and Dorothy J. Frank; Rochester General Hospital, Rochester, N. Y.—Evelyn M. Fritz, Mary M. Hamman, Betty R. Marshall, and Mary M. Sheeha.

WRA Cancels Softball Plans

WRA interclass softball games have been cancelled at least until the arrival of freshman coeds, announced Grace L. Judge '44, intramural manager, last night. The two games scheduled for this week had to be called off due to insufficient number of coeds to form teams.

Any coed group may use Holmes Field at 4:15 p. m. daily, said Miss Judge. WRA equipment may be borrowed from White Hall.

Tennis Club will hold its first semester meeting in 105 White Hall at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Mignonette E. Frederick '43, president, urges all former members as well as new members to attend.

Tennis instruction will be given to interested coeds on the College courts every day at 4 p. m. by members of the club. An interclub tournament will begin on Monday which will be followed by an All-College tournament to begin the end of June.

Changes in the archery practice schedule were announced last night by Kathryn H. Thomas '43 at the organization meeting of the Archery Club. The new schedule is 4 p. m. Monday, 3 p. m. Tuesday, following club meeting at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, 6:30 p. m. Thursday, and 4 p. m. Friday.

Golf Club will also hold its first semester meeting in 3 White Hall at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Eleanor M. Freedman '44, president, urges all old members to bring new members to the organization meeting.
