

WSGA, WRA Welcome Incoming Students; Freshmen Will Elect Senator June 30

Senate Begins Its 23rd Year

Twenty-three years ago women's rules and regulations and their enforcement were placed in the hands of the newly formed Women's Student Government Association, commonly known as WSGA.

Upon matriculation, all coeds automatically become members. The five WSGA bodies include Senate, House of Representatives, Judicial Committee, Junior Service Board, and Freshman Council.

Senate is composed of WSGA president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, town senator, two senators from each class, Judicial Committee chairman, Collegian Women's Editor, and Co-Edition Editor.

House of Representatives is composed of a representative from each sorority and dormitory. It proposes new legislation acted upon by Senate. Ruling this body is the speaker, WSGA vice-president.

Eight coeds compose the Judicial body. Two members of each class are selected in their freshman year to serve four years. The sub-chairman of Freshman Council automatically becomes a member. The second representative is elected by WSGA Senate.

Senate approves the recommendation of 15 juniors to serve on Junior Service Board. New legislation is introduced through this body.

To limit the number of extra-curricular activities in which a coed may participate, WSGA has appointed Junior Service Board to tabulate activities for a point system.

Freshman Council, composed of presidents of hall groups, is presided over by the sophomore senator. The Council deals with freshman problems and regulations.

With the exception of freshman senator, all WSGA officers and class senators were elected in the Spring. Freshman women will nominate their representative June 23 and will hold elections June 30.

Senate names the second freshman senator.

Senate members are Margaret K. Sherman '43, president; Dorothy K. Brunner '44, vice-president; Jacqueline S. Ballantyne, '43, secretary; Kathleen M. Osgood '45, treasurer; Janet V. Holmes, senior senator; Dorothy M. Boring and Ruth M. Storer, junior senators; Patricia M. Diener, sophomore senator.

H. Anne Carruthers, town senator; Marjorie L. Sykes '43, Judicial chairman; Louise M. Fuoss '43, Collegian women's editor; and Marjorie R. Chambers '43 and Helen J. Chiappy '43, Co-Edition editors.

Cwens Will Serve As Dorm Guides

Members of Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, will greet freshman coeds arriving at McAllister Hall, Women's Building, and cooperative dormitories, Saturday and Sunday, Mary Grace Longenecker '45, Cwen president, announced last night.

Wearing grey and red jackets, Cwens will be stationed at dormitory entrances to aid freshmen in finding their rooms and to answer any questions. This has been one of the duties performed by the honorary for several years.

Rooms in Nittany Cooperative house are available for interested students. Applications should be made by phone.

WRA Coordinates Sports Program

"Hale Penn State" has been adopted as the slogan under which the Women's Recreation Association will function this Summer. The Association is organized to coordinate the many-sided sports program arranged for coeds.

Stressing the importance of physical fitness, the WRA Executive Board has planned a full Summer schedule with the innovation of numerous co-recreational activities, including tournaments, bicycle breakfast hikes, and play days.

Nine activities clubs are sponsored by the Association. Among them are archery, bridge, badminton, bowling, golf, outing, swimming, tennis, and dance. A coed may join only two sports clubs but may participate in activities sponsored by all. Officers are elected annually by club members.

WRA officers include Ann Drivas '43, president; Margaret K. Ramaley '44, vice-president; Pauline M. Crossman '43, secretary; Grace L. Judge '44, treasurer; Adele J. Levin '44, club activities chairman; Miss Judge, intramural manager; and F. Doris Stevenson, '44, publicity chairman.

Officers and club presidents compose the WRA Board which plans women's recreational activities during the year. Officers are nominated by a committee of board members and faculty supervisors, and are elected by coeds.

The Intramural Board, headed by WRA treasurer and composed of four class managers and representatives from each sorority and dormitory, plans intramural competition in archery, bridge, badminton, bowling, golf, swimming, and tennis.

Miss Levin announced last night that club presidents have completed a club meeting schedule. The Archery Club will meet at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow while the regular meeting night thereafter will be Tuesday at 6:30.

Others are bridge, 6:30 p. m. Wednesday; badminton, 6:30 p. m. Wednesday; bowling, 6:30 p. m. Wednesday; golf, 6:30 p. m. Thursday; outing, 6:30 p. m. Thursday; swimming, 7:30 p. m. Thursday; tennis, 7 p. m. Tuesday; and dance, 4 p. m. Monday.

Miss Helen J. Swenson, physical education instructor, has announced new plunge hours for White Hall pool. They are 7:30 to 9 p. m. Monday; 4 to 5 and 7:30 to 9 p. m. Tuesday; 7:30 to 9 p. m. Wednesday; 4 to 5 p. m. Thursday; 4 to 5 and 7:30 to 9 p. m. Friday; and 7:30 to 9 p. m. Saturday.

200 Representatives Attend Conference

The annual session of the Middle Atlantic Region Student Christian Movement Conference began May 31 and will continue until June 7 at Camp Kanesatake, Spruce Creek. M. Elizabeth Howe, '42 graduate, is this year's chairman. Theme of the conference, attended by over 200 representatives of Middle Atlantic colleges, is "What can Christian students do for social reconstruction?"

Other Penn State representatives are Miss Ione V. Sykes, Westminster Foundation associate director; Harriet G. Van Riper '44, and Claire L. Weaver '45.

Zang Urges Frosh To Join Activities With Moderation

Although activities to join and honoraries to work toward are numerous, Miss Ruth H. Zang, assistant to the dean of women, urges freshman coeds to "take it easy on activities at first. There will be opportunity to join organizations next semester. With crowded schedules, freshmen should not try to do too much."

Among the activities in which new coeds may participate are WRA activities clubs, PSCA Freshman Forum, freshman debate, campus politics, College choir, College symphony orchestra, Home Economics Club, and student publications. Dates for tryouts and meetings of these groups will be announced later.

Honorary organizations who base their membership on scholarship, activities, or special course qualifications open to freshman women include, Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary; Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, with members chosen in their freshman year, and Lakonides, women's physical education honorary.

By election or appointment freshman coeds may become members of Home Economics Council, WSGA Judicial Committee, Freshman Council, and other WSGA groups.

Each school of the college has organizations and clubs in which interested students may participate.
