

Lions Win First IC4-A Outdoor Crown As Ewell Cops 3rd Triple

Golf Medal Tourney Starts Summer IM's

Summer semester intramural activities will get under way next week with the qualifying round of the All-College golf tournament, according to an announcement last night by Eugen C. Bischoff, director of the intramural program.

Entries for this tournament as well as the fraternity and independent baseball and tennis tournaments will be due at Mr. Bischoff's office by Saturday noon. The qualifying round of the golf play will be concluded by June 13.

An individual golf champion will be crowned on the basis of the medal play which will be contested the week following the qualifying round.

Bakura, Glenn, Plesser Grab Other State Pointers As Pitt Gets Surprise Second

Scoring his third triple win, the first in IC4-A history, Barney Ewell led the Nittany Lion track team to its first Intercollegiate outdoor title in Triborough Stadium on Randall's Island, New York City, Saturday.

The win made Penn State the first school in the history of the Association to win both the outdoor and indoor crowns in the same year. The Nittany team garnered 25½ points.

Ewell, winding up his active college track and field career, stood out during the entire meet, bettered two meet records but his marks were held as unofficial because of a strong following wind. In the broad jump, his qualifying leap of 24 feet 6½ inches, held good against all comers so that he did not need to jump in the finals on Saturday.

Next high Lion pointer who helped to bring the Nittany total to its meet winning high was Captain Joe Bakura, who tied Ted Wonch, Michigan State, and Richmond Morcom, New Hampshire, for first in the pole vault at 12 feet 6 inches, and surprised the field with a third in the javelin.

Johnny Glenn, captain-elect, brought two and one-half points to the Lion score card with a tie for third in the high jump at 6 feet 1 inch with Jim Milne of Michigan State. The other Nittany pointer came through Barney Plesser's efforts in the 220-yard low hurdles to gain the fifth birth.

A surprise second team place for the Pitt spikemen was chiefly due to the efforts of Ewell's chief rivals of the cinders, Bullet Bill Carter and Hap Stickel. Stickel came through for the Panther with a second in the century and upheld his 220-yard low hurdle title to add nine points to the Pitt score. Carter, with a third in the 220 and a fourth in the 100 rated as the second high. Pitt marker.

Favorites in the meet held their own against a strong effort on the part of "dark horse" candidates for their berths. Les MacMitchell, carrying the bulk of the NYU scoring threat, showed the spectators his big "kick" in the stretch to beat out hard-fighting Don Burnham of Dartmouth.

His failure to finish in the money in the half mile faded all chance of the Purple's winning the meet. NYU, pre-meet favorites along with the Lions, could manage to eke out only a fifth in the meet with 17 points.

Al Blozis, big Georgetown weight man, was the second outstanding man in the meet, successfully defending his crowns in the shot put and discus. He set the only new record of the meet with a heave of 55 feet 4¾ inches in the shot in the qualifying trials.

A surprise in the meet came when Lynn Radcliffe, Syracuse distance man, came through for the Orange in fine style to beat out the entire field and come romping home first in the half-mile with a time of 1:53.9.

The big surprise, however, was the 440-yard run. A Georgetown sophomore, Hugh Short, making his first bid for major college honors, beat out a fast field headed by Al Diebolt, Colgate, the experts' favorite before the meet. The time of 47.2 seconds was two-

Two-tenths of a second short of the mark held jointly by Johnny Woodruff, Pitt, and Bill Carr, Penn.

Ewell, by far the outstanding athlete of the meet before 5,000 fans, recorded for the crowd that saw him the greatest feat of all in his sweeping his three favorite events. His unofficial times of 9.5 in the century and 20.5 in the 220 were faster by one-tenth and two-tenths of a second than the prevailing marks.

Without the 15 points he added to the Lions' total, they would hardly have been able to stay ahead of their Pittsburgh rivals who pushed them closely all the way, finishing up with 19½ points and a two-man New Hampshire team which made things hot for the favorites by picking up 19 points for third place in the meet.

Varsity Tennis Team To Open Against Colgate

Penn State's tennis team officially opens its Summer schedule July 18th on the Lion courts, the when it meets Colgate at Hamilton, second at Ithaca on August 1st. N. Y., on June 20. The next weekend will see the Lions in action against the Naval Reserves on the home courts. On July 11, the tennis team plays the faculty. This one should be good.
