

Frosh Enter Second Day Of PSCA Camp Orientation

Program Includes Discussion, Picnic

Panel discussions, council meetings, a treasure hunt, picnic, and worship service will round out the orientation program at women's Freshman Camp at Ralph Watts Lodge, Shingletown Gap, today and tomorrow, according to Margaret K. Ramaley '44, general chairman.

Council meetings will be held for two hours this morning with eight freshman and three upper-class women in each group. Health, dating, studying, sororities, and extra-curricular activities are among discussion topics.

Coed counselors include Dorothy J. Jennings '44, M. Virginia Krauss '44, Miss Ramaley, Phyllis R. Watkins '44, Mary E. Werts '44, A. Jane Bollinger '45, Patricia Diener '45, Grace Gray '45, and Miriam L. Zartman '45.

Representatives of women's campus organizations will hold a discussion on "Penn State Life" in the afternoon. Participants include Marjorie R. Chambers '43, Co-Editor; Ann Drivas '43, WRA; Louise M. Fuoss '43, Daily Collegian; Jean E. Hershberger '43, PSCA; Joanne M. Palmer '43, Players; Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA; and Joan E. Piollet '45, Alpha Lambda Delta.

A picnic supper will follow a treasure hunt to the mountain top, and freshmen will give stunts around a campfire.

The church's part in college life will be presented by Miss Ione V. Sikes, associate director of Westminster Foundation, at a meditation service tomorrow morning. Following this worship service, campers will return to the College.

Arriving at camp yesterday afternoon, PSCA members presented skits depicting phases of college life, and Miss Ruth H. Zang, assistant to the dean of women, greeted freshmen and spoke on "Adjustments in College."

This semester is the first time in the College's history that freshmen have attended camp prior to arrival on campus. The project was started to replace Freshman Week orientation which has been omitted because of the speeded up program.

Home Economics nutrition classes will exhibit 100 calorie portions of protein and fat foods in 209 Home Economics Building from 1 to 5 p. m. Tuesday. The exhibit is open to the public.

We, The Women Let's Watch Steps With Summer Code

We asked for a new rushing code suited to needs of the Summer semester and accelerated program. Now that we've got it, let's stick to it.

It's important to remember that Panhel regards this as a trial period for first-semester rushing.

It's important to realize that the success of this "stream-lined" rushing will be largely determined by the attention which sorority women pay to small code details.

A strict silent period, from now until Wednesday, June 17, will precede informal rushing for the good of bewildered freshmen and busy sorority women.

As before, "coke dates" will be on a dutch treat basis, but with no limit on the number of sorority coeds who accompany rushees. Panhel also gives permission for chapel and church dates but prohibits dinner and movie meetings.

We strongly urge the expansion of our slow-down program during the period of free association from Wednesday, June 17, to Tuesday, June 23.

Open houses will have no favors and a total of five dollars may be spent for the two, scheduled for Wednesday, June 25, and Wednesday, July 1. Panhel requests that itemized expense sheets be handed to Beatrice M. White '44, Panhellenic Rushing Chairman, by the next day.

Informal parties will be held during the week of July 13 to 17. Let's get it clear that expenditures for each party may not exceed five dollars and that invitations will be sent for one party at a time.

To climax the first first-semester rushing this campus has ever known, sorority women will hold formal coffee hours Saturday, July 18, and bidding results will be announced the next day.

Because Panhel has considered both rusher and rushee in preparing the code, we maintain that efforts made to comply with it exactly are the only possible ways to bring the trial schedule to a successful close.

Honorary To Use Armory For Dance

Changing their policy of former years, Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will give its annual dance, this year called Draftee Drag, in the Armory instead of White Hall, according to Lila A. Whoolery '43, dance chairman.

Scheduled as a novelty dance from 9 p. m. to midnight Saturday, July 18, coeds will ask dates to the affair. With a military background, the Campus Owls will play.

Proceeds of the dance will be used for scholarships to deserving coeds.
