

Frosh To Elect One Senator, Judicial Member For Summer

Sykes Announces Customs Hearing

WSGA Senate decided last night that freshman women will elect their own senators and WSGA Judicial Committee representatives. A member of each body will be chosen this Summer. An additional senator and judicial representative will be named in the Fall.

"This system will enable both Summer and Fall freshmen to participate in WSGA, and will increase democracy in coed government," said Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA president.

Under the old system, freshmen elected one senator, and the co-named sub-chairman of WSGA Freshman Council automatically became a member of Judicial. Another senator and judicial representative were named by Senate. The method of selecting a judicial member will continue this semester.

"Freshman women who wish to apply to Judicial for exemption from customs should report to the WSGA Room in White Hall at 8 p. m. next Wednesday," announced Marjorie L. Sykes '43, Judicial Committee chairman.

Exemptions will be granted to women over 21 years and to those who have served customs in other schools.

To permit freshman women to attend church receptions from 8 to 10 p. m. Friday, June 19, Senate granted 10 o'clock permissions. This is a half hour extension over regular weekend hours during the two week non-dating period.

Miss Sherman announced that Junior Service Board will continue to tabulate points for the point system established last year by WSGA.

Ninety-nine Big Sisters have been assigned to freshman coeds, stated H. Anne Carruthers '44, town senator, in charge of the program.

Senate recommended that members of WSGA Junior Service Board and Freshman Council cooperate with the national defense program by scheduling College-sponsored defense courses.

Three senate members were appointed by the president to interview deans of schools in which majority of coeds are enrolled to discuss WSGA and to secure suggestions.

Scheduled to interview Dean of the School of Liberal Arts is Miss Carruthers; Education, Dorothy K. Brunner '44, WSGA vice-president; and Physical Education, Janet V. Holmes '43, senior senator.

Tennis Opens Intramurals

First of the WRA intramurals scheduled for Summer semester is being played off this week as 12 teams have entered the intramural tennis tournament, according to Mignonette E. Frederick '43, WRA Tennis Club president.

Competing in the tournament are two teams each from AEPH and Ath East and one from AOPi, DG, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa, Kappa Delta, Sigma Delta Tau, Theta, and TPA.

Other intramural tournaments planned for the Summer semester include golf, June 22 to July 3, with a putting contest, handicap tournament, All-College tournament, and blind bogey in which the order of playing is drawn. Archery will be held from July 19 through July 31, and volley ball will be in August.

Mrs. E. C. Nichols, professional bridge player, attended the WRA Bridge Club meeting last evening. She will teach both beginners and players every other week, and regular club meetings will be held the alternate weeks at 6:30 p. m., Elizabeth J. McKinley '45, president, announced. Approximately 25 coeds attended last night's meeting. Election of officers will be held next week.

Plans for a cabin party to the WRA Cabin Saturday, June 20 are being made by the Bowling Club. Sponsored by the club, all coeds are invited, according to Martha J. Haverstick '43, president. Georgeanna M. Holt '45 is in charge of the overnight hike.

Matthes Elected House Secretary At First Meeting

Jeanne Matthes '43 was elected secretary of WSGA House of Representatives when sorority and dormitory delegates met for their first Summer semester meeting yesterday.

Members decided to eliminate any unnecessary meetings since values have changed during the accelerated program, according to Dorothy K. Brunner '44, WSGA vice-president and House speaker.

Miss Brunner explained to new Representatives that the House acted as a clearing house for ideas of the women represented, and plans formulated there would automatically go to WSGA Senate for approval.

Following a member's suggestion that the Summer theme be "Conservation," the House will continue to sponsor tin foil saving. It was announced that collections should be taken to the office of the Dean of Women.

Plans were started for a program to promote relations between town dorm, town, and campus dorm coeds. They will be invited to House and Senate meetings and special socials will be sponsored.

As an aid to Summer students, maps of available surrounding facilities for picnics, hikes, and swimming will be made, Miss Brunner announced.

We, The Women WSGA Increases Coed Democracy

We were pleased to see WSGA Senate ignore precedent at its meeting last night to fit the system of freshman elections to the accelerated program and, at the same time, increase democracy in women's student government.

Under the old system, freshmen elected one senator and Senate appointed the other one. Likewise, one WSGA Judicial Committee representative was elected—that is, the coed elected sub-chairman of WSGA Freshman Council automatically became a member; the second one was chosen by Senate.

According to last night's action (which will probably involve a constitutional amendment), both senators will be elected—one this Summer and one next Fall. The same system will be used in naming Judicial members.

This move seems a wise one because of its increased democracy and also because it will enable the Fall freshmen to have a share in WSGA.

The action brings another question to our attention: Senate members are elected for one year while Judicial members have always served for four. We question the fairness and advisability of this difference in office tenure.

Does it require more experience for Judicial Committee to enforce rules than it does for Senate to make them? Aren't we inclined just to take it for granted that members of Judicial bodies should have longer terms than legislators?

Would it not be fairer and more democratic to elect Judicial representatives for one year, enabling more women to participate in WSGA?
