

The Daily Collegian

OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 39—No. 16

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE: THREE CENTS

Salvage, Flag Committees Named; 14 Sororities Begin Rushing Today

Warnock Explains Blackout's Effects

A plan to aid the State College Salvage Committee in its rubber salvage program and the appointment of several student committees, one to decide the possibility of a College flag, highlighted last night's All-College Cabinet meeting.

Main step in the salvage program was made with the appointment of a committee of M. William Lundelius, Richard S. Kurtz, Pauline E. Keller, and Muriel S. Taylor, all seniors, to assist the town committee in its canvass of fraternities, sororities, rooming houses, and business establishments for rubber goods essential for national defense.

David J. McAleer, chairman, Woodrow E. Hoch, and Robert L. Mawhinney, all '43, were appointed to investigate the possibility of a specially-designed flag for the usually empty flag pole on front campus. Possibility for flag design and presentation at the All-College "Victory Weekend" will be presented by the committee next week.

Additional plans for the student carnival on August 1 were discussed and the indication that all proceeds would go to a national charity, such as Army-Navy Relief or the USO, instead of some local loan or scholarship fund was expressed.

Outstanding legislative action of the seventh meeting was the new by-law proposal presented by Mawhinney, head of the by-law committee. In order to become a by-law, any proposal must be read twice before a quorum of the Cabinet and passed by a two-thirds vote of those present. First action to come under this recommendation was the by-law concerning class officers who drop out during part of their term of office. Minor officers will be appointed by their respective class presidents for the duration of the term, but in case both the president and vice-president are absent.

(Continued on Page Four)

Late News Flashes

BASEBALL SCORES

National League
Philadelphia 5, Pittsburgh 1
St. Louis 4, New York 3
Cincinnati 5, Boston 0
American League
Detroit 7, New York 6

LONDON—British sources credited American planes with the sinking of one Italian cruiser, the damaging of two Italian battleships, and a destroyer, while terming Axis claims of sinking or damaging 38 Allied vessels in the convoy as entirely groundless. Although admitting some losses among the ships, the British said that most of the convoy got through to Tobruk and Malta.

WASHINGTON — The House Naval Affairs Committee has submitted a bill for the construction of 500 new warships for the Navy. Included in the bill are provisions for 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers. Super 60,000-ton battleships now building, will be turned into aircraft carriers. Secretary of the Navy Knox stated that a new Lexington will be constructed.

Forgotten Man's Day Falls On Weekend; Children Take Note

At last the forgotten man has his day.

Who is he? Oh, just the guy who foots the bills, and sends the checks, and "wears the pants" in the family. Known under various names such as "old man," "pater," and "pappy," this weekend it will be "Dear Dad." Sunday, June 21—Father's Day.

College students are in no position to pull the ancient trick of getting the "old boy" a gift—and then charging it to him. Being away from home does have its difficulties. Instead, the post office will be deluged with parcels containing ties, shirts, cigars, socks, and ties.

Father will receive "his" token of appreciation on Saturday or Sunday—on Monday, a little letter arrives in the mail—"Dear Pop, I know it's not the first yet, but could you . . ."

Promotions Made In Faculty Ranks

Promotions within the College faculty have been announced by the office of Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president.

Promotions in rank requiring the approval of the Board of Trustees were as follows:

School of Agriculture, effective July 1, from assistant professor to associate professor: R. W. Stone, bacteriology; H. H. Kaufman, poultry extension; C. O. Dossin, poultry husbandry extension; C. R. Gearhart, dairy husbandry extension; J. C. Nagette, dairy husbandry extension.

School of Chemistry and Physics: R. E. Marker, from associate professor to professor of organic chemistry, effective July 1 and the following from assistant professor to associate professors of physics, effective September 1, 1942, H. W. Knerr, H. K. Schilling, and D. H. Rank.

School of Education: effective September 1, H. E. Vannata, from assistant professor to associate professor of education in extension.

School of Engineering: effective September 1, J. S. Doolittle from assistant professor to associate professor of mechanical engineering.

School of Liberal Arts: effective, September 1, P. A. Shelley, from associate professor to professor of German and head of department; Kingsley Davis, from associate professor to professor of sociology; and G. L. Leffler, from associate professor to professor of economics.

(Continued on Page Two)

Collegian Board Meets

All members of the sophomore business board of The Daily Collegian must attend a compulsory meeting in Room 8, Carnegie Hall, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Leonard E. Bach, business manager, said that penalties will be inflicted for absences.

Panhellenic Rules "Dutch Treat" Basis

Fourteen sororities will initiate first semester rushing on campus when a week of informal contact begins at 8 o'clock this morning.

Panhellenic Council has stipulated that Greeks may associate with rushees from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. on a "Dutch treat" basis from this morning until Tuesday.

The code forbids dates for meals and movies. Association in dormitories and sorority houses is permitted, but rushing must be confined in State College.

Unlike last year, church and chapel dates will be allowed, and there is no limitation on the number of sorority women who may accompany rushees.

Although another silent period will be in effect after 6 p. m. Tuesday, June 23, two open houses are scheduled for Thursday, June 25, and Wednesday, July 1. Each open house will last from 4 to 5:30 p. m.

No personal invitations will be issued, but all freshmen and transfers are urged by Panhellenic Council to attend as many open houses as possible in order to become better acquainted with the women in each house.

Formal rushing will start at 8 a. m. on Monday, July 13, with two informal parties scheduled by each house between July 13 and 17.

Two formal coffee hours will be held by each house on Saturday, July 18. Rushing will terminate at 9 p. m. Saturday, July 18 and (Continued on Page Four)

'Lion Shrine Carving Will Take 5 or 6 Months'—Warneke

"Completion of the work on the Lion Shrine should take at least five or six months," stated Heinz Warneke yesterday as he viewed the huge stone from which he will carve the Lion. He was discussing plans immediately after his arrival in town with his stone cutter who will do the "roughing out" of the stone.

He said they would start work this morning by getting the stone set at the proper angle and the model moved to the site. Since he hasn't talked with Prof. J. Burn Helme, director of the division of fine arts, and George W. Ebert, head of the grounds and buildings department, he was not certain what remained to be done and could not release complete plans. The work will all be done in the open where students, faculty, and townspeople will be able to watch him as he works and see the daily progress on the shrine.

Ewell Only 3-Event Man On NCAA All-Star Team

Barney Ewell climbed to greater track heights yesterday despite the leg injury he received last Friday. He was the only athlete named to three places on the National Collegiate All-American Track and Field Team.

He was picked by the board headed by Tug Wilson, chairman of the NCAA track committee, in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump. Following NCAA procedure two other athletes were named to share honors in each event, but Ewell was the only one chosen in three.

Daniel A. DeMarino Signs With Navy; To Report Today

Daniel A. DeMarino, assistant dean of men and freshman boxing mentor, left for Philadelphia early this morning to take his second medical examination before officially becoming Ensign DeMarino.

DeMarino received his Naval department order to report to Annapolis immediately upon the completion of the second exam in order to take a month's training course before assuming duties as a physical education instructor to prospective Navy aviators.

Whether or not the position of assistant dean of men would remain open until DeMarino returns is still indefinite because of the unexpected arrival of the Navy department order.

Daniel DeMarino took up his duties in the dean's office last Fall, having previously graduated from Penn State in 1938, worked for his master's degree until 1940 and also served as a graduate instructor in physical education.

Ag Conference Opens Here Today

A two-day conference on wartime problems of Pennsylvania agriculture opens in 121 Sparks at 10 a. m. today.

County farm agents and state leaders in vocational agriculture will participate in a series of discussions, forums, and speeches under the leadership of Stephen W. Fletcher, dean of the College's School of Agriculture.

J. Clyde Marquis, representing the United States Department of Agriculture, will open the conference with an address on "The Wartime Job of Agriculture."

W. I. Meyers, head of the department of agricultural economics and farm management at Cornell University, will conclude the morning's program with a speech entitled, "Present Day Problems of Northeastern Farmers."

"The Price Picture," a speech by O. B. Jesness, chief of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota, will open the afternoon session in 109 Agriculture Building at 1:30. An open discussion is scheduled for the remainder of the afternoon.

Returning to 121 Sparks at 8 p. m. for the evening's program, the farm leaders will hear C. Hor-

(Continued from Page One)

Summer Sports Season To Be Spring Continuation

Penn State's Summer sports schedule will be considered an addition to the regular Spring season, it was announced after a meeting of the Senate Committee on Athletics yesterday.

Thus, players serving their third season in a sport will be eligible to continue. Where individual cases of eligibility and schedule difficulty come up, separate decisions will be made, Prof. Franklin L. Bentley, chairman of the committee, explained.

The Senate Athletic group includes Prof. Bentley, head of the department of animal husbandry, chairman; Dean Edward Steidle, School of Mineral Industries; Prof. Carroll D. Champlin, School of Education; Prof. Burke M. Herrman, department of history; and ex-officio, Dean Carl P. Schott, School of Physical Education and Athletics; and Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics.

Charlie Barnet, 'Saxophone King,' To Play Soph Hop

Charlie Barnet, known as the "King of the Saxophone," will bring his orchestra to the campus July 10 to furnish music for dancers at semi-formal Soph Hop, according to an announcement by Walter C. Price '45, chairman of the dance committee, last night.

Barnet will make a special trip for his first State College appearance, interrupting a four-week engagement at the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, where he opens July 6. Price stated that this is the only break in the band's resort city stand. The orchestra will receive $1,250 for their engagement here.

A great admirer of colored bands, particularly Duke Ellington and Count Basie, Barnet, sometimes called the millionaire playboy with a band, features a style of rhythm patterned after his Negro friends. He is one of the few white bandleaders who can play successful engagements in Negro sectors.

Interested in smart arrangements and fast tempos, Barnet has made many popular recordings including "Pompton Turnpike," "Cherokee," and "Southern Fried." He also played tenor sax on the famous waxings of "Blues In E-Flat," and "I Surrender Dear," made by a pick-up jazz artist group, including Ellington and Basie.

"Make Believe Ballroom," the band's theme, is an indication of their style which as one swing expert stated, is designed strictly for dancers. Featured with the band at present is Lina Horn, Negro songstress.

A special feature of this year's Hop will be the five sophomore coeds who will reign at the dance. Betty J. Lyman, sophomore queen, with her court of four, will occupy a special booth at the dance. Governor Arthur H. James has been invited to the dance and if he attends, Miss Lyman will be escorted by him in a special grand march.

School of Engineering Receives 10-Foot Ship Model For ESMDT Course

School of Engineering has received a 10-foot ship model of a 400-foot tanker from one of the large shipbuilders to use in ship construction and hull drafting, an ESMDT course, Royal M. Gerhardt associate professor of architectural engineering, announced last night.

This course is open to students, as well as commuters and residents of State College. Previous study in algebra, trigonometry and mechanical drawing are prerequisites for the course.

Those who enroll for the course must be available for work in a defense industry or for duty with the armed forces upon completion in December.

Tryouts For 'Little Foxes' Tonight And Tomorrow

Tryouts for the Players' second and last show of the Summer Semester, "The Little Foxes," will be held tonight and tomorrow night. Readings will be held, starting at 7:30 p. m. in 312 Old Main and 405 Old Main tomorrow night. All upperclassmen, freshmen, and inter-session students interested should sign up at Student Union sometime today.