

Lion Baseballers Open Home Card; Split With Colgate

Penn State's baseball lads are looking to their first home game of the wartime Summer schedule Saturday after returning from a weekend visit at Hamilton, N. Y., where the Lion nine split with Colgate, losing 10-6 Friday and coming back to take Saturday's fray, 4-2.

Washington and Jefferson University will appear on the Blue and White card for the first time this season when the Presidents play on the New Beaver field diamond Saturday afternoon.

Warren "Whitey" Pyer, who hurled mostly in relief roles last season, held the Red Raiders to four hits as he went the full distance on the mound in the second contest. Penn State's record with Colgate this season shows two wins and a pair of losses.

Trailing 2-0 going into the fifth frame, the Bedenkmen pushed three runs across without a hit, then added another in the seventh. Pyer held the Raiders hitless after the fifth, and retired the last 14 men without letting them get to first base.

State's four hits were collected by Ed Tuleya, Bob Perugini, Dale Bower, and Whitey Thomas. Four sophomores broke into the lineup, including Bower, Don Sandercock, Bob Bennett, and Jack Weber.

Raider Nelmen Stop Lions, 6-3

Grabbing five of six singles matches and one doubles, Colgate University's varsity tennis team stopped a stubborn Lion squad by a 6-3 score on the former's courts Saturday.

Sophomore Jim Lawther, playing his first match as a member of the Lion varsity, topped Martin of Colgate, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, for the only Lion singles victory.

Continuing his fine display of tennis in the doubles, Lawther teamed with Dick Armbrust, another sophomore newcomer, to topple Colgate's Harkins and Tabor, 7-5, 6-3.

In singles, Cy Hull, State's number one man, was defeated by Kendall, 6-2, 7-5. Herb Kraybill, State's other veteran from last season, gave Babcock of Colgate a stiff battle at the number two position but fell short by 3-6, 6-4, 4-6 scores.

Armbrust dropped a close one to Frick of Colgate who lost the initial set to the Lion newcomer, 7-9, but rallied to carry the second and third, 6-4, 6-4. Hal Benjamin, another sophomore, lost to Harkins of Colgate, 1-6, 2-6, and Stan Spurgeon dropped his initial match to Waterhouse, 4-6, 2-6.

Spurgeon and Dan Moses teamed to down Colgate's Peyser and Parsons by 6-4, 10-8 scores. Hull and Kraybill were halted by Kendall and Martin, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, for Penn State's only doubles defeat.

Blackout Plans Reach Final Stage

pleted through the College switchboard during the dimout except actual emergency calls.
Civilian Defense Corp workers will be on duty all night at their posts. During the dimout skeleton crews will maintain the posts. When the total blackout is signaled, the Control Centers in Old Main and the Borough Hall will be in charge of all facilities in the community, and the rules of the Defense Council will be in operation.

Col. J. H. M. Andrews, trustee of the College, who is in charge of the Philadelphia District Control Center that operates over an area of five counties in the metropolitan area, recently inspected the College's setup in Old Main. Colonel Andrews told George W. Ebert, head of the committee on protection, that the College's Control Center is better than those he has seen anywhere.

The Civilian Defense Corp and the Control Center setup in State College were also complimented by Col. Ralph Mitchell, of the U. S. Army, who is state director of District Five.

3 Lop-Sided Games Mark Fraternity Play

The Canal Street Firehouse mushball squad, who dominated the Independent League for four years until defeated last week by the Electric Diner, will meet the league-leading Matils at 7 p. m. tonight. Matils are sporting a record of four wins against no setbacks, and a victory for the Firehouse lads will throw the two teams into a deadlock for first place.

Six Fraternity League teams waged battle last evening in three lop-sided games that saw Delta Upsilon trample Delta Chi, 11 to 4; Tau Kappa Epsilon walk over Kappa Delta Rho, 17 to 10; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon smother Alpha Chi Rho, 15 to 1.

Behind the 7 hit pitching of "Big" Mike Kerns, the DU squad worked methodically against Delta Chi, scoring in every inning against Bates, who was charged with the defeat.

KDR and TKE scored at least a run an inning during the seven frames of their game. KDR's defeat can be attributed to loose fielding, as they garnered 13 hits to only 14 for the victors.

It was a case of too much Cruikshank for the AXP boys as the SAE's star moundsman limited them to 7 well scattered hits. Nicoden, AXP slabman, wasn't so lucky, as the winners nicked him for 11 hits that developed into 15 runs.

Competition was limited to fraternity teams in Saturday's encounters. A sensational 3-hit pitching job by Fredman, Beta Sigma Rho pitcher, paved the way for his team's 7 to 3 victory over Phi Kappa Sigma. Another 3-hit pitching masterpiece was turned in by Lyons, on the mound for Delta Sigma Phi, as his team turned back Sigma Phi Alpha, 12 to 3.

Again, in the third Saturday game, it was the prowess of the pitcher that decided the victory. Bendetto chalked up a five hit job as his teammates from Alpha Phi Delta marked up a 9 to 5 victory over Phi Lambda Pi.

IM Mushball Standings

Due to numerous cancellations and postponements due to adverse weather conditions and rushing, fraternity standings and percentages are not as yet available. The Daily Collegian will carry all standings every night as soon as they are compiled.

RECRUIT — Hard hitting of Tony Criscola, recruit outfielder from Toledo, has won him a regular berth in the St. Louis Brownies lineup but his slugging was not enough to prevent the Brownies from being the only major league team to lose both ends in Sunday's double headers.

Frosh Baseball Call

A call for freshman baseball candidates has been issued by Leo Houck, freshman baseball coach. Candidates are requested to report to Beaver Field at 4 p. m. Though no definite schedule has as yet been arranged, Coach Houck stressed the need for freshman hurlers.

Dean's List Addition

Gunther Conn, mechanical engineer with a 2.7 average, was omitted in the Dean's list previously published.

Golfers Win 8th Match Of Season

Nittany Lion golfers again came through to keep the record of the '42 golf team unblemished except for one loss to Yale, as they defeated Colgate's Red Raiders Saturday to the tune of 5 1/2-3 1/2 on the Colgate course at Hamilton, N. Y.

The squad that beat Colgate is quite different from the one that played its way into the championships in the East during the Spring season. This is the eighth game since the linksmen went into action last April against West Virginia.

Led by Co-captain Bill "Ducky" Swan, Ed Fairchild, and a newcomer, Charlie McClay, who won their matches, the Lions took Colgate's measure. Jim McCormick, a sophomore and another newcomer, won a split to give Penn State the extra half-point.

Co-captain Dick Stephens lost his first match of the year when Bill Burke of Colgate defeated him, 3 and 2. Burke has been playing the Hamilton, N. Y. course since he was a kid, being a resident of that town.

Swan defeated Earl Hamilton, Colgate, 3 and 2. Colgate won best ball, 1 up, 20 holes. Ed Fairchild, PS, took over Bill Bogle, Colgate, 3 and 2; Charles Feurbach, Colgate, defeated Bill Smiley, PS, 5 and 4. Penn State won best ball, 1 up.

Charles McClay, PS, knocked off Bob Sweeney, Colgate, 1 up; Jim McCormick, PS, and Bill Ward, Colgate, split their match. Penn State won best ball, 3 and 1.

Co-captain Swan captured the honors in medals scores when he posted a par 69 for the Colgate course. Fairchild turned in a 71.

Coach Bob Rutherford's golfers made this the first victory on the Summer schedule. Five more games are lined up for the warm weather, all of them on a home and home basis. Lack of intercollegiate competition is due to the fact that not too many schools are having Summer semesters.
