

Golfers Meet Centre Hills CC

When the Lion golfers meet the linksmen from the Centre Hills Country Club tomorrow on the College links, golf for the masses will be instituted. No less than 20 players from each side will tee off at 1:30 p. m.

Six players from each side will be the official contestants, but 14 other men will follow the leaders off the starting point in close order.

Playing in the lead positions for Penn State will be Co-captains Dick Stephens and Bill "Ducky," Swan, Jim McCormick, Bill Smiley, Ed Fairchild, and Charlie McCly.

Lined up against these six will be Bill Bramble, Pete Stewart, Claude Decker, Bill Leitzel, Paul Mitten, and Jim Hanley.

The golf course will be closed Saturday from 1:30 to approximately 4:30 on the first nine, and from about 3:30 to 6:30 on the second nine.

Playing after the first three foursomes will be freshman and upperclass candidates for the golf team. From Centre Hill, Gene Pearce, Stan Smith, Chick Werner, Ed Brown, Wilmer Kenworthy, Charles Austin, Tom Zeigler, and some others will take on the Penn State boys.

The Country Club players are given an even chance to lick the Lion varsity, most of the men shooting in the 70's. They were out on the course for a practice session last night that lasted until dark.

Jay M. Gross '44, first assistant manager, issued a call for caddies for the matches Saturday. More information can be had at the caddy house.

Ewell Enters Army, Ends 4-Year Nittany Running, Jumping Career

Barney Ewell, flashy star of the Nittany cinders for four years, became one of Uncle Sam's "boys in brown" yesterday when he left Lancaster, Pa., his home town, with nine other Negroes for the New Cumberland induction center.

Ewell ended his career under the Lion banner two weeks ago when he pulled a muscle in the NCAA meet in Lincoln, Nebraska. He was to have competed in the National AAU meet in New York last weekend but because his leg injury was not completely healed, he was forced to withdraw from the meet.

During his four years of active competition here he won nine outdoor IC4-A titles as the first man to do so. Besides this his record as a Lion trackman shows wins over the greatest sprinters and broad jumpers in the country, including Hal Davis, California star, with whom he was to have run the "sprint of the century" in the National Collegiate. His leg injury in this meet dashed his chances for a last effort to show his speed against the Western ace.

Tekes Maul Gamma Sig Mushball Squad, 45 To 8

29 Hits, 12 Errors Aid In Landslide

It may have been a mushball game, but the score looks like the results of a Chicago Bear football game.

Tau Kappa Epsilon 45, Gamma Sigma Phi 8. By virtue of their "victory," the Tekes moved into a tie for first with Alpha Phi Delta in the closely contested Section 1 of the Fraternity League.

Twenty-nine hits, including seven round-trippers, paved the way for the Teke landslide. Twelve fielding errors on the part of the Gamma Sig defense enabled the winners to score at least 10 runs in no less than four of the six innings played.

Gray, although allowing 14 hits and 8 runs, was credited with the victory. Perloff was the losing pitcher.

Behind airtight pitching by Zook, and home runs by Hinkie, Jacobson, and Zook, Beta Theta Pi moved into second place in the Section 2 race by defeating Alpha Chi Rho, 12 to 7.

Zook allowed only six hits as he went the distance for the Betas, and was credited with his third straight victory. He also proved to be the big gun at the plate, collecting two singles and a homer.

Other games in the fraternity section found Sigma Alpha Epsilon dropping a closely fought game to the Beaver House. The Beavers moved from fourth place to a tie for third.

Kappa Delta Rho forfeited to Pi Lambda Phi in the only other fraternity game scheduled.

INDEPENDENT LEAGUE

The scramble for first place continued in the independent league last night. Matils moved into a tie with the Canal Street Firehouse squad, who were inactive, by an 11 to 5 victory over the fourth place Electric Diner squad.

A fourth inning rally of six runs paved the way for the Matil victory. Risinko was the winning pitcher. Surkalo had a defeat marked up against him.

Irvin Hall won the only other scheduled game by the overwhelming score of 22 to 0. Miller Club was the victim of the batting marathon.

Lion Courtmen Drill For Service Team Tilt

In its first home stand of the Summer semester, the Lion varsity tennis team will meet a service squad composed of members of the Naval Reserve Officers group stationed on campus, on the College courts at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

The Lions will be without the services of their number one man, Cy Hull, who will be out of town for the weekend. His spot will probably be taken over by Herb Kraybill, the only other experienced player on the squad from last season, although both Dick Armbrust and Jim Lawther, sophomore newcomers, have come along fast since their opener against Colgate, and may get the nod to start at that position.

An unusual feature of the match will be the presence of "Jimmy" Irwin '43 in the lineup for the ensigns. Miss Irwin is the women's All-College tennis champion, and holds a number of sectional women's tennis titles.

Lions Add Colgate Tilt To Schedule; Point For W & J

An additional baseball game against Colgate University will be played Friday, July 24, it was announced yesterday by Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, as the Lion nine prepared for Washington and Jefferson University's visit here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Colgate team is scheduled for a contest here July 25, so that the Friday match will mean a two-game engagement with the Red Raiders that weekend. Two games, one against Cornell here July 18, and another versus Lock Haven State Teachers' College here July 21, will be played before the two Colgate matches.

Penn State's lineup is expected to be about the same as that used in the first Summer season games at Colgate last weekend, with the possible exception of two positions.

At third base, Gene Sutherland or Don Sandercock will get the nod to start, and at first base, Bill Debler, recently recovered from an infected foot, may take over again or play in the outfield.

Whitey Pyer is expected to handle hurling chores with George McWilliams behind the plate. Dale Bower, sophomore, appears to have earned a second base position by good performances as an infielder and as a hitter. Jack Weber may stay at first base to get experience, shifting Debler to the outfield, and Whitey Thomas is a sure bet at short stop.

In the outfield Ed Tuleya and Bob Perugini will be probably stationed, with Johnny Bennett, sophomore, and Bob Vail and Jack Burford, both juniors, or one of the sophomore outfielders in the third outfield spot. Most of the fly-chasing posts and doubtful infield positions will be filled according to batting stance.

If Washington and Jefferson starts a right-handed pitcher, left-handed batters will dominate the Lion lineup. If the Presidents use a southpaw, right-handed players will face him.

Meanwhile, the schedule for Leo Houck's freshman baseball team, 40 players strong, remained a question as Penn State athletic officials looked around for suitable opponents for the yearling team.

Commenting on the situation, Houck said, "We will probably have a schedule of local baseball teams, such as those in the State College Church League, or teams from the Centre County League."

'Johnny' Fleming Second In Women's Golf Tourney

Janet "Johnny" Fleming '43 carded a blistering 83 to pull into second place, one stroke behind Mrs. J. C. Burrell, Pittsburgh, in the first round of the annual 36-hole tournament of the Women's Western Pennsylvania Golf Association.

Finishing early in the field of more than 70 women golfers, Miss Fleming led the entire pack until the whole field had been played, but Mrs. Burrell pulled a brilliant one under par 38 on the outgoing nine to put her in the lead.
