Lanks' Talk Selected 1st Event On Program

Latin-America has been chosen the theme of a new series of lectures, movies, and special events designed by the Committee on Inter-American Cultural Relations to foster better relations with the Southern Continent.

Mr. Herbert C. Lanks and his wife will start the program Thursday, July 2 with a fashion show and exhibit of Latin-American costumes modeled by five coeds in Room 405 Old Main. Mr. Lanks will give an illustrated color sound lecture entitled "Our Neighbors Down the Road" in Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 that evening.

There will be an exhibit of water color paintings by Elliot O'Hara, July 6 to 18, in the Mineral Industries gallery.

Lecture, July 9 and 10, Miss Florence Hill, consultant on Latin-American affairs.

July 16, Miss MacCrimmon will present an exhibit on Chile.

July 20 to 27 Madam Labastille will show an exhibit on Latin-American music and related arts.

The big feature of the series will be a fiesta in true Latin-American manner. There will be booths, native costumes, displays, rumba and conga music, and free dance instruction.

July 29, the twentieth annual Superintendents' Conference will meet here. Dr. Bruman will supervise a round table discussion.

The series will conclude with a lecture by a Latin-American on August 6.

LA Student Council To Add 12 Members

Liberal Arts Student Council members will meet to elect 12 new members in 305 Old Main at 4 p. m. Monday. Four sophomores and eight juniors will be voted upon by Council members at that time from the 18 persons who have filed petitions to date.

Deadline for the applications has been extended to noon today by Council members, according to Donald W. Davis Jr. '43, Council president. Petitions are to be handed in at Student Union desk. Signatures of 25 classmates in the LA School are required for nomination.

Faculty Salaries Cut

full for the extra services given by the faculty and staff. A careful study of the best estimates now available of income and expense indicates that unless conditions change markedly, which they may do, the College, with economical operation, can go through the year to June 30, 1943, and pay those on a ten months' contract who are needed this summer at a monthly rate for July and August of 70 per cent of their monthly rate during the past year. A budget carrying this provision has just been submitted to the Board of Trustees and has been approved."

Dr. Hetzel, in his letter, expressed his admiration for the "promptness and wholeheartedness with which the College faculty and staff rose to the war emergency and of the devotion with which they have been carrying on."

Buses Limited

This means that no bus may leave a starting point unless at least 40 per cent capacity is guaranteed for the round trip from starting point to destination, back to starting point. However, if the one-way passengers make up at least 75 or 80 percent capacity, the bus may travel.

The road factor will prevent any buses leaving State College that cannot secure sufficient passengers to comply with the regulations.

In addition to the curtailment in bus and train service, transportation has been further hit by the tire and gasoline rationing in the East. This will further hinder the movement of the student body.
