

Mortar Board Nominates 8 For 'Danny Draftee' Title

USO Will Receive Flower Proceeds

Eight BMO's, nominated by Mortar Board, national women's honor society, will vie for title of "Danny Draftee" at the Draftee Drag scheduled for the Armory, from 9 p. m. to midnight, Saturday, July 18, Pauline Crossman '43, president, announced. The selectee's name will be revealed at the Drag, it was decided.

Nominees include Seniors Charles H. Ridenour, Jerome H. Blakeslee, John M. Kerns, M. Williams Lundelius, David J. McAleer, John W. Hanley, Bernard A. Plessner, and Robert L. Mawhinney. Selectees will be chosen by voting at Student Union and the Corner Room at a later date.

George Washko's Campus Owls will sound off when the regiment gathers in a setting of walls bedecked with rookie sketches, according to Miss Crossman. Art students who will cooperate with Mortar Board in preparing the cartoons are Seniors Emily L. Funk, Ruth L. Kiesling, Mildred J. Schmidt, Phyllis N. Schludenberg; Juniors Marion C. Dougherty, Helen D. McKee, Marjorie E. Siebert, Shirley J. Tutley, Virginia K. Tross, and Lucille D. Weinstein.

To make a contribution to the United Service Organizations, members decided to sell flowers at the informal affair to which coeds will do the dragging.

Tickets for the maneuvers are on sale for $1.10, Miss Crossman announced. Mortar Board members and Senior Sponsors will conduct the selling.

Lila A. Whoolery will act as Drag major general and will issue orders to committee heads Patricia MacKinney, decorations; Louise M. Fuoss, publicity; Jacqueline S. Ballantyne, tickets; Margaret K. Sherman, invitations; and Marjorie L. Sykes, music.

Invitations will be sent to Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women; Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education; Mrs. Grace L. Hall, Mrs. Gail B. Pope, Mrs. Anne B. Searle, Miss Mary Eastep, Atherton Hall hostesses; Mrs. Neva M. Morris, Grange Dormitory hostess; Miss Nina M. Bentley, Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, Miss Ruth H. Zang, assistants to the dean of women; Miss Cordelia Beach, secretary to the dean of women; Miss Kathryn Pontzer, McAllister Hall hostess.

President and Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel, Prof. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones, Prof. and Mrs. Robert E. Dengler, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Arisman, Mrs. A. O. Morse, Mrs. William Phillips, and Miss Pearl Weston. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Haller, Prof. and Mrs. Henry Popp, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Davis, senior.

LEADS DRAGGERS — Pauline Crossman '43, Mortar Board president, will direct plans for the honor society's Draftee Drag, to be held in the Armory Saturday, July 18, when coeds will select the typical Penn State rookie, "Danny Draftee."

Angel's Retreat, Devil's Den Dorms Housed Patients

The College Health Service, which most Penn State students take for granted, has had a long and hard fight to get where it is today.

In 1914, when President Sparks established the Health Service, the Dispensary was located in the old English Composition Building near the tennis courts, now known as Beecher House. Dr. Ritenour came to Penn State in 1917 to head the service.

A frame isolation house, pieced together from Devil's Den and Angel's Retreat Dormitories, was used to quarantine communicable disease patients. With one nurse as an aid, Dr. Ritenour treated approximately 2,000 cases that year, while regular physical examination of students was conducted spasmodically.

In 1927 the Potato Growers of Pennsylvania donated the majority of the funds for the Infirmary, opposite Grange Dormitory. When the remodeling of Old Main was begun, the College physician pleaded for a new location of the Dispensary in the basement where it is now located.

From one nurse for 2,000 cases in 1917, the College Health Service has accumulated a staff of 6 physicians, 11 regular nurses, 3 clerks, 5 maintenance workers, and has treated 50,000 students with 640 being hospitalized.

In May, 1939, the first plan for free hospitalization was introduced to the Student Health Board. It was submitted to the Board of Trustees in June of the same year but was not approved. Sections of the plan, which called for the College to employ a staff surgeon and permitted staff physicians to answer calls from students in town, were eliminated, and it was approved by the Board on January 26, 1940. By this plan students do not have to pay the $2.50 a day for hospitalization formerly required. The health fee was raised from $5 to $10 yearly, but students are now permitted to stay at the Infirmary and still have the services of a town physician at approximately the same cost.

Infirmary cases have dropped since this new plan has gone into effect. Dr. Ritenour believes this is due to the fact that since the free hospitalization plan has gone into effect, students avail themselves of the health service where no direct cost is involved, and many ailments are discovered before complications involving hospitalization set in.

We, The Women Should Teachers Stand In Corners?

The traditional feature about the man who bites a dog has been paralleled by a situation which has arisen in women's dormitories this Summer.

Coeds in campus dorms have found it necessary to request Summer students to abide by dormitory regulations. The majority of these new students are teachers, accustomed to maintaining discipline in schoolrooms.

Reasons for the request, we feel, are plain. Everybody's cooperation is needed to have any semblance of "quiet hours" or to enforce closing hours.

One noisy "bull session" can keep a whole floor from studying. One person coming in late necessitates a student checker working overtime.

Freshman coeds, just out of high schools, have been particularly upset by the situation. Accustomed to looking to teachers for guidance, the frosh are amazed at the nightly disturbances caused by the Summer students. Screams of laughter, blaring vias, and noisy halls render both study and sleep impossible.

Student checkers feel that persons guilty of ignoring closing hour regulations do so because they are unfamiliar with the rules. To clarify the situation, WSGA representatives are meeting this week with Summer students.

Dormitory authorities claim that visiting students were informed that they would share dorms with College coeds. Perhaps they were unaware of the obligations which this would entail. Perhaps they have not realized the necessity for cooperation. Perhaps they feel that coeds are just trying to exert authority.

Regardless of the reason for the Summer students' thoughtlessness, we hope for an immediate change both in attitude and action.

Dames To Sponsor Picnic For Families

Summer Dames, wives of Summer graduate students, will hold a picnic in Recreation Hall from 5 to 7 o'clock tonight. Reservations may still be made with Mrs. Ralph Johnson, 2446. Women are invited by Mrs. Johnson to bring their families.

The organization will hold meetings each Wednesday, time and place of which will be announced in The Daily Collegian. Aim of the Summer Dames is to provide interest and entertainment for members. There is also a Winter Dames organization; both are national.

Journalism Honorary Entertains Sponsor

Mrs. Donald W. Davis, new sponsor of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary, was entertained at dinner last night by members of the society.

The dinner was planned to introduce Mrs. Davis to new pledges Lillian M. Brandt '43, Elaine Rosenbloom '43, Jane H. Murphy '44, F. Doris Stevenson '44, and Mary Janet Winter '44.

CLASSIFIED SECTION

LOST—One black and white fox terrier, answers to "Bo." Call 2181, Kappa Sigma. 3tch 7, 8, 9 M.

LOST—Large linked two-tone bracelet. Call 4359. Reward.

REWARD—For return of tan, gaudy alligator raincoat. Call 4626 or leave coat and name at Student Union. Harry Umlauf LOST—Tuesday noon, vicinity of Old Main, woman's gray and white fountain pen, name inscribed. Call Hastings, 881. Reward.

WRA Will Sponsor Second Co-Rec Day Of Semester

Council Announces IWA 'Prairie Prom'

With the name "Prairie Prom" symbolizing a dude ranch theme, final plans for IWA's All-College dance were completed when the Council met last night.

The affair, to be held in Recreation Hall from 9 p. m. to midnight Friday, August 15, will feature music by the Campuseers.

Dance committee, which will meet in Old Main's second floor lounge at 7 p. m. Monday, includes Seniors Joanne M. Palmer, Jeanne R. Shipman, Aleda Snow, Muriel S. Taylor, and Barbara E. Whitbred; Juniors Harriette Block and Marjorie A. Magargel; and Sophomores Dorothy L. Shoemaker and Carol A. Williams.

Forum Reveals 'Ideal Woman'

Freshman coeds found out what to do and not to do last night at the PSCA Freshman Forum meeting when Marjorie L. Sykes and Charles H. Ridenour, senior heads of men and women's judicial committees, spoke on the topic, "The Ideal Penn State Coed."

Mr. Ridenour said that most men still had good old fashioned ideas about coeds and wanted good sports, intelligent conversationalists, and sympathetic, understanding women. He stressed the fact that too much paint was "out" and neatness important.

Miss Sykes said that being physically and mentally fit and joining in activities were the things that counted most from the woman's point of view.

The meeting was opened with worship services conducted by the worship committee, and then Miss Sykes and Mr. Ridenour spoke. Their speeches were followed by questions from the coeds. Margaret L. Chapman '46 led the group in singing.

Nominations for freshman officers of the Forum were: president—Sarah J. Schmidt, Louise Ritter, Ruth Pielemeier; secretary—Peggy Lou Johnston, Marjorie A. Rude, Ferne K. Dillon, Elizabeth Funkhouser; treasurer—Jean R. Gilbert, Elizabeth P. Pike, Anna C. Harwick, and Mary Kathrine Hoppel.

Officers will be elected at the regular meeting of the Forum next Wednesday night.

Rides Wanted

RW (1-2) Bethlehem or vicinity. Leave Friday afternoon. Call Block, Women's Building, 2 West. PW (4)—Wilkes-Barre or vicinity. Leave Friday evening. Return Sunday p. m. Call Paul Mark, 2973. 2tpd 8, 9 Z.

Program To Include Fire, Square Dancing

Because of a demand for more Summer co-recreation, WRA is sponsoring a second Co-Rec Day Friday, July 17, Adele J. Levin '44, general chairman, has announced.

With badminton, volley ball, fist ball, archery, softball, croquet, and ping pong scheduled in front of White Hall at 6:30 p. m., a bonfire will be lit in Jordan Fertility Plots at 8:30 p. m. Hotdogs, cokes, and ice cream will be sold.

There will be community singing around the fire and square dancing is planned to be held on the parking lot across from Atherton Hall.

The first Co-Rec Day this Summer was held Saturday, June 20 in the afternoon. Miss Levin stated that it was such a success that WRA was urged to sponsor similar activities.

Intramural golf and tennis tournaments must be played off by Friday, according to Grace L. Judge '44, intramural manager. Tennis games scheduled for this week include Delta Gamma-Kappa Delta, Sigma Delta Tau-Ath Hall No. 1, AEPH No. 2-AOPi, Gamma Phi Beta-Ath Hall No. 2.

Golf teams that have not yet played include Kappa Delta-Delta Gamma, and Gamma Phi Beta-Kappa Alpha Theta.

Election of a new WRA Bowling Club secretary will be held at a meeting next Tuesday. Nominations made last night include A. Jane Bollinger '45, Annette M. Keefer '45, and Phyllis Parsons '45.

To Show Movies

Current films on the Near East, sponsored by the public meetings committee of the PSCA, will be shown on Old Main Terrace at 9:15 p. m. tomorrow.

SMART EVENING SLIPPERS

Styles for your individual taste!

Styles in silver or gold with high or low heels

2.95—3.95

See them in our windows!

fromm's

Opposite Campus

Shows at 1:30, 3:00, 7:00, 9:00

Cathann
A WARNER BROS. THEATRE

• TODAY - THURSDAY •

COME HELL or HIGH WATER

...the mail goes through!

WALLACE BEERY

Jackass MAIL

with MARJORIE MAIN
J. CARROL NAISH

—Added—
"Further Prophecies of Nostradamus"

BUY DEFENSE STAMPS

SUMMER STUDENTS—

You Can Buy

The Daily Collegian

For Three Cents At

GRAHAMS NITTANY NEWS STAND

THE SANDWICH SHOP

Get A Summer Subscription For $1.00 At Student Union Or At The Collegian Office