

Lion Tennis, Golf Teams Add Two Colgate Contests

Four additional games in golf and tennis have been added to the Nittany Lions' Summer sports schedule, according to Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics. The change makes the second this week, since matches against Cornell were shifted to Victory Weekend three days ago.

Colgate, coming here for two baseball games, one on July 24 and the other on July 25, will also bring along its varsity tennis and golf squads. They will compete on both Friday and Saturday afternoon that weekend, making a triple sports card for each day.

The July 24, 25 tennis and golf matches against Colgate have been added to the schedule because the baseballers from Hamilton, N. Y., will have transportation room to spare when they travel here. It was thought Summer athletics could be given a boost if the netmen and golfers also accompanied the baseball team.

Originally, only one contest was scheduled against Colgate, a baseball game here July 25. Then another baseball game was added on the 24th, and Fleming's announcement last night revealed the New Yorkers would bring two more teams, making a total of six Colgate vs. Penn State events that weekend.

All three teams also will meet Saturday afternoon, August 1, crowding more activities into Penn State's already colorful Victory Weekend, which will feature a dance on July 31 with Benny Goodman playing. At the same time the Victory contests were shifted, home games formerly scheduled here July 18 were moved to Ithaca, N. Y.

Colgate will have plenty of competition with the Blue and White teams, since the Red Raiders' lacrosse team has carded an extra tilt against the Lion stickmen August 1.

Archery Tourney, Fun Night, Hikes Crowd Session Recreation

Shades of Robin Hood will be evident on Holmes Field Saturday afternoon when competition in the preliminary Columbia round archery tournament gets underway at 2 p. m.

Sponsored by the Summer session recreation division, under the direction of Miss Marie Haidt and Earl Edwards, the tourney will be climaxed by final round matches. In past years the Columbia preliminary was not sponsored, and just final shooting made up the matches.

Entrants are asked to bring their own equipment if they own any, but the College will be able to supply those who do not have their own sets.

Participants in a breakfast bike trip will leave 112 Miles street at 7 a. m. Sunday morning for the Ski Lodge. Those interested should sign up at Student Union before noon tomorrow, or contact recreation program directors.

Hikers will start from White Hall at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

40 Golfers Meet At Centre Hills

Twenty players will tee off on the Centre Hills Country Club golf course for Penn State tomorrow when the College linksmen meet the team of 20 men from the Country Club.

First six players for Penn State will be Co-captains Dick Stephens and Bill "Ducky" Swan, Ed Fairchild, Dick Hastings, Charlie McClay, and Jim McCormick. These varsity men will meet the six representing the Country Club officially, while the other 14 players on each side will follow.

Playing for the Lions on the pick-up squads will be Jack Durrence, Chuck Elder, Hank Keller, Bill Smiley, Stu Burns, Wally Kappel, Blair Miller, and Dick Nippes.

Tom Zumbro, Johnny O'Brien, Hal Federman, and John Wetherill are also on the starting list. When the two groups played two weeks ago, the College players handed the Country Club a shellacking, and prospects favor a repeat performance tomorrow.

Petition Campaign Now In Progress

"We therefore petition the honorable board of Trustees to reverse the decision of the College Examiner in refusing admission of American-born students because of their Japanese parentage."

Since Summer session students will be gone by the time the next semester begins, they have been requested by the committee not to sign the petitions. To insure absolute fairness, no student should sign more than once, according to John R. Adsit '45, another of the committee leaders.

Steel helmets, popularly called tin helmets, were adopted and worn by U. S. Marines for the first time on August 13, 1917.

Record 39-1 Victory Chalked Up By Diner

Redmount Forms Revised Leagues

Somebody forgot to holler "nuff" to the Electric Diner last night and before the last run had crossed the plate, 39 of the Diner boys had made the grand circle tour, first to second to third to home, for a new intramural softball record. The opposition, Irvin Hall, scored one run.

In another high scoring game Watts Hall brought their average in the won and lost column up to the .500 mark by defeating the Miller Club, 23-13.

The Electric Diner's 39 runs were scored on 38 hits. Star play was not limited to bomber's row, however, for pitcher Ray Sundbach held Irvin Hall to two scratchy hits.

Seniors Get Last Chance For La Vie Photographs

"After 4 p. m. today, no senior will be allowed to have his picture taken for La Vie," Martin H. Duff '43, editor of the Penn State yearbook, stated yesterday.

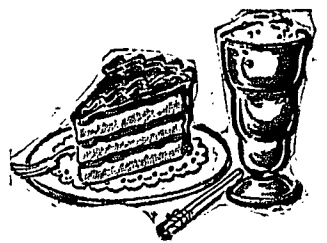

Seniors who have not obtained their proofs from the Photo Shop should do so immediately, while those who have not returned their selected proofs should do so at once, according to Duff.
