

Whole V-Weekend Program To Cost $4.40 Per Couple

Holiday To Be Least Expensive In Years

Penn State's biggest social weekend is destined to be also one of the most inexpensive, following an announcement by Leon Rabinowitz '43, general chairman, that the price for the whole Victory Weekend program will be only $4.40 per couple.

Admission to two big dances, two stage productions, and a Saturday afternoon field day will cost less than any weekend dance-show combination in recent years, according to Rabinowitz.

"Last Friday's Soph Hop and Players' Show, for example, cost a total of $4.95," the V-Weekend general chairman stated. "Cost of the 1941-42 Junior Prom and Spring Thespians' Show was $5.70.

"We've set the price as low as possible," Rabinowitz said, "to help the student as well as the war benefits. The executive committee wants to be sure that Victory Weekend is Penn State's biggest and best."

Benny Goodman and his orchestra will swing it out for the Friday night V-Weekend dance. Saturday's "dantz-a-poppin'," featuring four top campus bands, is being planned to make Broadway's Hellzapoppin' look like a small-time high school operetta, according to Rabinowitz.

The Thespian-Glee Club revue, to be presented both Friday and Saturday nights, will also be included on the single admission price. Saturday night will also see the presentation of The Daily Collegian expose, "News Collegian Couldn't Print."

Crowding the Saturday afternoon's V-Weekend field day program will be four varsity athletic contests, a military revue, presentation of the holiday's proceeds, and the traditional soph-frosh tug of war.

Adding still more to the color of the July 31-August 1 holiday will be the lawn display contest sponsored by IFC and the Froth-conducted election of "Victory Girl," typical coed of today.

Professors To Play At Fun Night Program

Penn State's professors will abandon their textbooks and play in a Fun Night program in Rec Hall from 8 to 11 o'clock this evening. Attendance is limited to faculty, their wives, and friends.

Sponsored by the School of Physical Education and Athletics, the Fun Night program will include square dancing, badminton, ping pong, bingo, volley ball, card games, table games, and additional active games.

Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education, emphasized that comfortable clothes should be worn.

'Best' Art Show Opens

A special exhibit of Centre County-owned art works opened yesterday in the air-cooled MI art gallery with over 75 pieces of art. Every century from the 13th to the 20th is represented in the show.

The wall at the opposite end of the long, well-lighted art gallery is especially outstanding, with works by Jacob Eickholtz, a 13th century Italian altar panel, a portrait by George Deforest Brush, and best of all a massive "Sacrifice of Isaac," attributed to Giuseppe Ribera of the 16th century Spanish school.

Probably the most unsatisfactory painting in the collection is "Seashore," a water color by Salvatore Pinto.

Outstanding in the collection, which is praised by members of the art department as the most outstanding exhibition ever presented on the campus, are the works of Henry Varnum Poor and

Thespians Issue Call For V-Weekend, Travelling Dancers

With the Thespians' Victory Weekend show three weeks away, concentrated rehearsals will get underway this week. One thing is necessary, however, before actual work can be started. Dance lines are not yet complete.

A call for candidates for choruses was issued last night by Kevert V. Mellott, dance director for the show. Candidates are asked to report to Schwab Auditorium at 7 p. m. Monday night.

Mellott stated that candidates need have had no tap experience. They will be used after the Victory Weekend show in mobile units which will be travelling, probably once or twice each week, to Army camps in this vicinity.

25 Enter Army Air Force Today

Twenty-five students will be formally sworn into the Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve beginning at 10 o'clock this morning when Lieut. H. S. Engart returns to the campus with the Harrisburg Aviation Cadet Examining Board.

The swearing in exercises will be held in 407 Old Main by members of Lieutenant Engart's staff.

According to Prof. Robert E. Galbraith, faculty Air Force advisor, Lieutenant Engart will remain on campus until 5 p. m. tomorrow to administer preliminary mental examinations to prospective candidates for enlistment.

The examinations, which require approximately three hours for completion, will be given at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. today, and 8:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. All the examinations will be given in 407 Old Main.

Enlistments are now open in the Air Force's Glider Pilot Training program to all men between the ages of 18 and 36 inclusive. Physical qualifications are approximately the same as those required for entrance into the regular Army. Glasses are no handicap if the person's vision can be corrected to 20-20 by their use.

All interested students who wish to ask any questions or obtain further information about the Air Force programs are requested to contact Lieutenant Engart in 407 Old Main or Professor Galbraith in 243 Sparks.

several contributions by WPA artists.

All students, faculty, and townspeople were urged to attend the air-conditioned galleries sometime soon during the hours of 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. by Prof. Harold E. Dickson of the fine arts department, who had charge of the hanging of the paintings.

Some of the paintings in the exhibit are painted as well as contributed by Centre County artists. These artists are Eleanor Willis and Lee Townsend, formerly of the fine arts department; Mrs. Edward D. Arderly and Mrs. J. J. Rubin, wives of faculty members; Mrs. Eugene H. Lederer, townswoman; and Elbert Davis, John Roy, and Carl W. Wild, resident artists.

Excellent works of Hobson Pittman, instructor in oils at the Summer session, are also shown in the display.

McAleer Names Cap, Gown Heads; U.S. To Aid Students In Needed Fields

Loans Handled By Education Office

Having received word from the government that the proposed student aid fund may be forthcoming soon, College authorities revealed yesterday that financial aid will be restricted to students in six specified fields.

Congress provided $5,000,000; a fund estimated to aid 10,000 students—men and women—in the needed technical and professional subjects. The assistance has been made possible because of the urgent need of persons trained in engineering, physics, chemistry, medicine (including veterinary), dentistry and pharmacy.

The United States Office of Education said the loans would be made to needy students registered in accelerated programs in degree-granting colleges and universities whose technical and professional education in these fields can be completed in two years.

Loans will be made, according to the Education Office, in amounts not exceeding tuition and fees plus $25 a month, and not exceeding $500 to any one student during any 12-month period. They will bear two and one-half per cent interest. Satisfactory scholarship is a requisite for financial aid.

Students obtaining loans must agree in writing: 1. to participate until otherwise directed by the chairman of the War Manpower Commission, in accelerated programs of study in any of the authorized fields; 2. to engage for the duration of the war in such employment or service as may be assigned by officers or agencies designated by the Commission chairman.

Accelerated college programs mean, of course, that students remain in school 12 months a year—no vacations.

Session Students Schedule Hampton Quartet, Fun Night

Highlighting this week's Summer session events are two programs, one a concert by the Hampton Institute vocal quartet in Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, and the other a Fun Night in Rec Hall at 7:30 p. m. Saturday. For Sunday the calendar lists a concert by the Blue Band on the center mall at 6:30 p. m.

Meanwhile, a comprehensive examination for graduate students in education and psychology will be given in 121 Sparks at 3 p. m. today. The exam is required of all students before beginning the second half of the work toward the master's degree.

"If I Had A Million," a motion picture for teachers, will be shown in Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. today.

An annual exhibit of textbooks and other educational supplies, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Educational Salesmen's Club, is scheduled in the Fromm Building, 116 E. College avenue, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. today through Thursday.

Other events this week include a talk, "Birds and Flowers In This Vicinity," by Prof. George J. Free, (Continued on Page Four)

Richards, Kline Appointed Chairmen

To clarify the muddle made by the premature interpretation of the Senate committee on public occasions concerning the '43 caps and gowns chairmen, David J. McAleer, senior class president, released the names of the seven seniors he has appointed to handle the commencement details.

William T. Richards and Pauline M. Kline, both out of College this Summer were appointed permanent chairmen and Thomas R. Ridge was chosen to serve as acting chairman over the special semester.

Other members of the committee appointed by McAleer are Louis J. Palazzi, William C. Maz-zocco, Glenn Ely, and Charles E. Gundlach.

Members of the caps and gowns committee are usually appointed each year to handle one commencement, their own in June, but this year it will be different, according to the senior class president, because of the August commencement.

Work on the committee carries with it a great deal of work as well as compensation, since its seven members are responsible for the ordering of caps and gowns to fit the members of the huge graduating classes, acceptance of funds for the uniforms unpacking and repacking of them, and the refund of money.

Usually the exacting job of packing alone requires that the students selected stay at the College for several days after the ceremonies, McAleer pointed out.

The appointment of Robert L. Mawhinney and Marjorie E. MacFarland as announced in Saturday's Collegian were incorrect, since they are only the student members on the Senate's committee on public occasions.

Campus '46 Elects Nelson Clique Chairman

"George Nelson was elected clique chairman of the Campus '46 party at a meeting last night," Robert Hicks '44, Campus '46 organizer, announced.

June Daniels was elected secretary-treasurer of the party, Hicks added. Immediately taking up his duties as clique chairman, Nelson announced that party by-laws would be drawn up at the next meeting.

CLEARs IT UP—David J. McAleer, senior class president, cleared up the caps and gowns mixup with his appointment of William T. Richards and Pauline M. Kline to the chairmanship of the group.

Blue Band To Give Concert Sunday

The second in the series of Sunday concerts to be sponsored by the music department throughout the Summer will be presented by the Blue Band in front of the Library at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

The first concert by the band, orchestra, and chorus school band was a decided success Sunday as approximately 500 persons gathered on the mall to listen, Dr. George S. Howard, director, stated yesterday.

In case of rain, the concert will be postponed until a later date.

The program for the Blue Band concert, which will be under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, will resemble the pop concerts now popular with city audiences.

It includes "National Emblem March" by Bagley; "Bravada" by Curzon; "Snow White Overture" by Churchill; "Stratoliner March" by Holmes; "Procession of Nobles" from "Mlada" by Rimsky-Korsakoff; "Salute to State March" by Swift. "Midnight in Paris" by Conrad; "Headlines" by Colby; "Teddy Bear's Picnic" by Braton; "Echoes of Freedom March" by Ostling; and "The Star Spangled Banner."

45 Students Start Drafting Course; Study For Work In Plane Industry

Classes in Airplane Drafting 002, an ESMDT course got underway this week with 45 seniors, 19 men and 26 women, enrolled, according to Arthur L. Tobias, associate professor of engineering drawing.

Students taking this course will meet eight hours a week for a period of 26 weeks and will be instructed in all phases of airplane drafting. Upon termination of the course they must be eligible to take positions in war industries or enter the armed forces.

Professor Tobias stated that the course will be given in cooperation with aircraft companies, who are in dire need of draftsmen.

These corporations will be asked to supply information for what the student should be taught so that he will be fit for a position in the industry upon finishing the course. The course will be very flexible and subject to any changes that will be necessary in order to conform to the specifications of the aircraft industry.

Seniors taking the course are Suzanne E. Price, Madeline A. Platt, James M. Robinson, Hark M. Casner, Emil F. Honegger, Frank H. Reighard, Richard G. Davis, Ralph K. Peter, Hazel E. Gassman, James M. Sheetz.
