

Electric Diner Wins; Surkalo Allows 1 Hit

Netmen Double Score, 10-5, In Faculty Contests

Snapping back from a three-week layoff, Penn State's varsity tennis squad walloped a strong faculty team, 10-5, in a blistering four-hour contest on the College courts Sunday afternoon.

The teams played six extra matches in a special exhibition which was played Sunday instead of Saturday after a traditional "Soph Hop" rain had forced its postponement. The Lions took seven of the ten singles matches and three of the five doubles in scoring the win.

Cy Hull opened for the Lions at the number one spot by stopping his own coach, Ted Roethke, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4. Herb Kraybill of the Lions was defeated by Ray Dickison, former tennis captain for Colorado State and former conference titlist, by 6-3, 6-3 scores.

Dick Armbrust, playing at the number three position, was trounced by Ace Parker, former Lion star, 6-1, 6-3. Jim Lawther overpowered Harry Moshner of the faculty in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, and Stan Spurgeon downed Bruce Pegge, 6-0, 6-2, for the Lions' third singles victory.

Horace Smith, another Lion newcomer, defeated George Szasz, 6-3, 6-4, but I-Ying Li, Chinese graduate student, came from behind after a slow start to down Bill Lundelius of the Lions, 4-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Sophomore Bill Dickson trimmed John Aston, 6-1, 6-3, and Ted Maier won his match for the Lions by stopping Larry Voris, 6-2, 6-1. Lee Reinheimer took the final singles match for the varsity by winning over Jack Geist by 6-1, 6-4 scores.

The faculty came back strong in the doubles to take the first two matches. Coach Roethke and Ace Parker teamed to defeat Hull and Lundelius, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, and Li and Dickison outlasted Kraybill and Armbrust, 6-2, 10-8.

Lawther and Smith won the Lions' first doubles victory by stopping Pegge and Szasz, 6-4, 6-1. Spurgeon and Dickison followed suit by downing Aston and Freeman in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, and Maier and Reinheimer halted Voris and Geist in the windup, 6-4, 6-4.

You can always tell a person who brags too much—but it doesn't do any good!

Theta Chi Triumph Starts New League

Perhaps it's the T-bone steaks or maybe their blue plate special, but whatever their secret the Electric Diner remains the hottest team in the Independent softball league. Following up last Thursday's two-hit performance over Irvin Hall, the Diner boys coasted through to an easy 3-0 win over Fairmount Hall behind the one-hit pitching of Mike Surkalo last night.

Two other games, Jordan Hall's 16-5 triumph over Watts Hall and Theta Chi's 13-11 win over Phi Kappa Sigma provided the rest of the entertainment on last night's bill.

The fraternity tilt was the first in the new series under the revised league set-up. The winner of the new Section 1 will be recognized as the fraternity champion, according to Bob Redmount '44, and will contest the All-College championship with the Independent king pin in a miniature World Series sometime around August 8.

Surkalo, pitching for the Electric Diner, was touched for Fairmount's one and only hit early in the first inning, following which he retired 13 batters in a row. Sundback led the hitters with two safeties.

Houck Finds Pitcher For Freshman Nine

Coach Leo Houck has successfully converted a catcher into a pitcher for his freshman baseball squad and hopes to start the ball rolling for the nine with a game against a Church League team on Thursday evening.

Having found all of the hurler candidates unsuitable for the position, the Lion mentor has changed frosh Fred Shaw, a backstop, into a moundsman. Coach Houck says that Shaw, with a little practice, should play that position ably.

Plans for the game Thursday evening are still indefinite. However, if the game is scheduled, it will be a test to see how well the team can meet competition. More games will be placed on the calendar if the team fares well.

Lion Golfers Top Centre Hills

For the second time in two weeks the Lion golfers downed the Centre Hills Country Club team. Saturday's victory for the Lions on the Country Club course was not as impressive as the one two weeks ago on the College course, the score being 5½-3½.

Low man for Penn State, Dick Hastings posted a score of 76 to lead the team, but ironically enough, lost his match to Leitzell. Charlie MaClay lost his match to Hanley, while Bramble tied Jim McCormick.

Most of the Penn State men playing in the unofficial matches of the afternoon won, although the score in that direction was far from unanimous.

Some of the Penn State golfers were not in top form for Saturday's contest, since the night before was Soph Hop and the players had loosened up on the training side.

Next week will see the Lion golfers on the links at Ithaca where they will meet Cornell. This is the match that was switched so that the Nittany linksmen might play at home for Victory Weekend.

Co-captains Dick Stephens and Bill "Ducky" Swan took the honors in the first foursome as they downed Pete Stuart and Glover Glenn on the last hole to take best ball one up.

Leitzell, Centre Hills, posted the best medal score of the day, a one over par 73, when he defeated Hastings. Ed Fairchild defeated Claude Decker 3 and 2.

Hat Society Council
