

Borsa's No-Hitter Widens Canal St.'s IM League Lead

Art Borsa, terror of the Independent softball league for four years, chalked up another brilliant pitching feat last night when he turned back the Watts Hall ten without a hit, while his Canal St. Firehouse teammates pushed across nine runs, for a 9-1 victory.

Apparently it was pitcher's night all around the league for Walt Batz, Jordan Hall twirler, also succeeded in dominating his game by pitching three-hit ball with two circuit clouts sandwiched in between his turns on the mound. Jordan Hall collected 18 hits, every man in the line-up getting at least one, in running up their 14-2 score on the fifth place Irvin Hall squad.

In a Section 5 fraternity fray, Sigma Alpha Epsilon lifted themselves up among the section leaders by defeating Alpha Chi Rho, 6-5. Going into the final seventh inning, SAE held a slim one run lead, but a home run by Shimpf, Alpha Chi Rho, tied the score with half an inning remaining. In the last half, however, Barr and Parker tied two sharp doubles together to provide the SAE's winning margin.

Two changes in the softball schedule have been announced by the student manager, Bob Redmount '44. The Tau Kappa Epsilon-Delta Upsilon game has been changed to 7 p. m. tonight instead of 5 p. m. Friday and the Phi Delta Theta-Delta Upsilon tilt has been shoved back to next week.

The pitching performance turned in by Borsa was highlighted by 17 strikeouts. Borsa mixed them high and low, inside corner and out, in moulding his "Hall of Fame" game. Most of his deliveries were hopping fast balls that burned the batter's chin whiskers in the path of their "hop." The Watts Hall boys just stood there and took them. The few solidly hit balls were easily gobbled up by the Firehouse fielders.

Looking at today's games the outstanding attraction is the moved-up battle between DU and TKE. This game will show in action the remaining two teams in fraternity Section 1. The four team Section 1 looks to be a spirited fight between the winners of the first half crowns for the Interfraternity championship.

LA Council Will Sponsor Open Session; Math Courses Recommended

An open meeting will be held by the Liberal Arts Council next Wednesday so that any Liberal Arts student can be heard who has suggestions to make on problems directly related to the school, Donald W. Davis '43, LA Council president, announced last night.

"Should this first attempt to create interest on the students' part in student government and management, prove successful, additional meetings of the same type will be held later," Davis added.

Recommendations were made by the LA Council to Dean Stoddart, suggesting that advisors point out advantages of more mathematics courses to men students in the lower division of the school. These students, less apt to receive draft deferments than juniors or seniors, stand more of a chance to become officers if they can meet math requirements.

In 1936, Penn State's boxing team won the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association tournament for the second successive year.

In May, 1917, approximately 300 Penn State men from all classes volunteered for military service and were sent to advanced training camps.

'46 Baseballers Lose Promising Shortstop

Penn State's freshman baseball squad suffered a great loss this week when Charles Daubert left for West Point to enter the United States Military Academy there. Daubert was out for the shortstop perch and, according to Coach Leo Houck, would have played in that position on the team at the start of the season.

Meanwhile, Coach Houck was unable to schedule a game for tonight with a Church League team, but hopes to have one in the early part of next week. This game will determine whether more events will be scheduled for the novices.

The Lion coach has converted another catcher into a pitcher due to the lack of good hurlers for the nine. Jack Berlin has been changed to a moundsman although he was a candidate for the backstop position. He is the second yearling to be moved to this post, Fred Shaw having been shifted to a pitcher earlier this week.

Linksmen Meet Cornell Saturday

Shooting for another win to continue their streak, the Nittany golfers will take on Cornell at Ithaca this Saturday. Lineup for the match has not yet been released by Coach Bob Rutherford but it should be substantially the same as the previous ones this season.

This match with Cornell is one of two with the Red Raiders to be played on the Summer schedule on a home-and-home basis. The Cornell golfers will journey to Penn State for a meet Victory Weekend, as a result of a schedule switch.

Team leaders, as well as co-captains, Dick Stephens and Bill Swan, will probably play the first two-some. Ed Fairchild and Jim McCormick, with either Charlie McClay and Bill Smiley, or Dick Hastings, are prospective players in the other varsity positions.

Since the last meet with Centre Hills, no upsets have been reported in the weekly play-offs among the candidates. After this Saturday's meet, the linksmen still have two encounters, both of them on the College course.

Wrestling Practice

The wrestling team will meet for practice in Rec Hall at 4 p. m. today, according to an announcement by Co-Captains Sam Harry and Charlie Ridenour.

In 1936, before a crowd of 10,000 spectators, the Nittany Lions triumphed over the undefeated Lehigh gridders by a score of 26-0.

Lions Play 3 Baseball Games Here Next Week, Face Cornell Saturday

Three home games will be played next week by the Nittany Lion baseball team, including two against Colgate next weekend. Idle for nearly three weeks, the diamondmen will test their strength in a battle against Cornell on the Ithacan's field Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday the Blue and White will return to New Beaver field to meet the Lock Haven State Teachers' College nine, then play the Red Raiders Friday and Saturday. A return match against Lock Haven is carded for Thursday, July 30, on the teachers' territory, while a contest against Cornell will wind up the present schedule as the Big Red travels here for a Victory Weekend fray August 1.

Four or five hurlers will make the trip to Ithaca Friday afternoon. Whitey Pyer is the only experienced pitcher, but Ed Tuleya, almost completely recovered from a strained leg muscle, may be able to take the mound instead of playing in the outfield where he was stationed since the injury. However, Coach Joe Bedenk may save the senior southpaw for the crowded schedule next week.

Sophomores Ray Bolger and Mike Wardrop, and Harry Boyuka, a junior, are also listed on the mound staff, but Pyer is most likely to get the nod to start. Wardrop has a win over Washington and Jefferson to his credit.

Probable lineup consists of George McWilliams behind the plate, and Ray Bitting in the reserve role; Bill Debler or Jack Weber at first base; Dale Bower or Bill Sidler in the second base slot; Whitey Thomas at shortstop; toss-up between Don Sandercock or Gene Sutherland on third base; and Bob Perugini in the outfield. Where two players are lined up for infield posts, the reserves will be used in the outfield.

Bedenk will add several other players to the roster by tomorrow, according to Paul Phelps, manager. Bob DeCoudres is first assistant manager.

Observatory Open For Moon Gazers

For observation of the new moon the College Observatory will be open today, tomorrow, Monday, and Tuesday from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m., according to an announcement last night by Dr. Howard S. Coleman of the physical science department.

Dr. Coleman stated that all regular and Summer students, as well as faculty and townspeople, are welcome to visit the Observatory, located about 200 yards east of Buckout Laboratory on the Jordan Fertility Plots. Several instructors will be on hand to direct the observations.

Although only five men were entered in the intercollegiate boxing matches held at Syracuse in 1934, the Lions secured two individual championships for the third successive year.

Last Speech Hour Of Month Set Today

Concluding the July series of the Penn State Speech Hour on war facts will be the program presented tomorrow over radio station WMRF, Lewistown, at 2:30 p. m. on "World War I and World War II, Then and Now."

With Ralph X. Richardson, instructor in public speaking, in the chair, the four members of the panel will discuss the similarities of the present conflict with that which raged in the world a little more than 25 years ago.

Literary Expert Here

In connection with the new series of Latin-American programs, Dr. Florence Hall, noted expert on South American literature from the U. S. Office of Education, will be on the campus Thursday and Friday. Dr. Hall expects to meet with history, Spanish, and education classes and will also be available for individual conferences.
