

No Changes Made In Women's Rules For Dimout Drill

With a half-hour blackout scheduled for some time tonight, Margaret K. Sherman '43, WSGA president, has announced that there will be no definite student government regulations pertaining to it. If the blackout continues through 11 o'clock, coeds should return to dormitories as soon as it is over, she stated.

"Women will not have specific rules to follow as in former blackouts, because," according to Miss Sherman, "this is the time for persons to adapt themselves to blackout conditions without additional regulations."

When the warning is sounded, coeds in dormitories should go to assigned air raid shelters, and those who are out must go to the nearest shelter, Miss Sherman stressed.

Know War Aims Shibli Tells Coeds In Fireside Sessions

"To understand our objectives in this war, we must understand Fascism and Nazism," said Mr. Jabir Shibli, associate mathematics professor, as he addressed Atherton Hall coeds in the west court last evening.

As part of a Fireside Session program, the lecture was sponsored by PSCA. Following dinner in the dormitory, Mr. Shibli was introduced to regular and Summer session students by Mary K. Jess '45, southwest Atherton Hall social chairman.

"As I understand it," commented Mr. Shibli, "the guiding thought of the German race is that it is a superior race and because it is superior it must dominate." It is the doctrine of Germany to claim the people and soil wherever a German lives. Mr. Shibli stressed the fact that the philosophy of the Germans makes it impossible for us to live side by side in peace because the Germans believe the strong should subdue the weak while we believe in Christian ideals of brotherhood and equality.

Women are considered not fully human in Germany. They are given very little education because their duty is to bring children into the world so that Germany can expand.

"We are fighting to save our country and children from that type of life," said Mr. Shibli.

It is getting clearer and clearer to us that we must win this war by fighting, not by just building the greatest arsenal. The last war was a heroic war but this time we realize the reason for fighting, Mr. Shibli said in closing.

WRA To Sponsor All-College Co-Rec Hike To Mt. Nittany

TRAIL BLAZER—Margaret K. Ramaley '44, WRA vice-president, will lead a student hike to Mt. Nittany Saturday.

Pelly Downs Irwin In Tennis Match

Led by Margaret K. Ramaley '44, WRA vice-president, an All-College co-rec hike to the top of Mt. Nittany is being offered by WRA for all students Saturday, announced Grace L. Judge '44, hike chairman.

Hikers are to meet in front of White Hall at 2 p. m. and will approach the mountain from a cross-country trail, according to Miss Ramaley. "Wear old clothes and come prepared for a swell time," she emphasized.

Sponsored by WRA Intramural Board, sororities are responsible for making posters for dormitories and downtown stores to advertise the hike, Miss Judge pointed out.

Over 100 students are expected to join in the hike, said Miss Judge. If it is as successful as is anticipated more hikes will be scheduled, she added.

Semi-final tennis intramurals resulted in the first defeat of Theta's All-College champion, Jimmy Irwin '43 by Ath East's Sis Pelly '44 with a score of five to seven. Winners of the Kappa-Gamma Phi semi-final match will play Ath East's team before the end of the week, said Miss Judge.

Fifteen units, over thirty women, have signed up for archery intramurals which will start on Thursday, Miss Judge added.

A co-rec archery tournament will be held in front of White Hall at 2 p. m. Saturday, reminds Adele J. Levin '44, WRA activities chairman. Those interested should sign up at Student Union.

Greeks Decide On Ball Date

Nittany Lion Inn has been reserved for the annual Panhel Ball which will be given Friday, August 7, it was announced at Panhellenic Council meeting last evening. Council voted to make the dance informal.

Music for the dance, which is open to all sorority women, will be provided by the Nittany Lions, announced Betty Jane Haupt '43, social chairman.

The number of coeds who accepted bids to join sororities was stated incorrectly in yesterday's Daily Collegian. Seventy-seven women, rather than 112 as stated, accepted bids—one senior, four juniors, eleven sophomores, and sixty-one freshmen. The name of Martha Horn '45 was omitted from the Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge list.

Sororities have announced dates for formal pledging of coeds. Delta Gamma held pledging Monday evening, and Kappa Alpha Theta pledged last evening. Other pledgings include: today—Alpha Chi Omega, 5 p. m.; Alpha Omicron Pi, 5 p. m.; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 7 p. m.; Theta Phi Alpha, 6:30 p. m.; Zeta Tau Alpha, 6:30 p. m.

Tomorrow—Alpha Xi Delta, 7 p. m.; Sunday—Alpha Epsilon Phi, 4 p. m.; Gamma Phi Beta, 8 p. m.; Monday—Chi Omega, 6:45 p. m.; Kappa Delta, 8 p. m.; Phi Mu, 8:30 p. m. Sigma Delta Tau has not yet set a pledging date.

Miss Edith Anderson, Panhellenic advisor, will entertain Council representatives at a tea in honor of Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, assistant to the dean of women, who is leaving the College, at 123 S. Sparks street, at 4 p. m. Sunday. All Panhellenic Council representatives are invited to attend, according to Miss Keller.

The two week silent period now in effect will end at 8 a. m. Monday, August 3, Miss Keller announced. Other pledgings may occur after that date.

Panhel executive board will meet with Miss Stevenson to revise the constitution in the second floor lounge, Old Main, at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

HEC Guest To Lecture On 'Health For Victory'

Miss Joyce O'Neil, Westinghouse Company representative, Philadelphia, will speak on the company's "Health for Victory" program at the home economics general meeting in 110 Home Economics at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

The Westinghouse program, one of the first sponsored in industry in cooperation with the National Nutrition Movement, has adopted the war slogan, "Make America Stronger by Making Americans Stronger."

Students and townspeople are urged to attend this meeting, according to Miss Marion L. Carr, assistant instructor of home economics.

We, The Women Rush Hard, Then Rest A Semester

With pledge ribbons securely pinned and post-rushing gossip dwindling, coeds are wondering if first semester rushing should be continued.

Despite gloomy predictions, humid weather, and a limited number of rushees, it is generally agreed that the new system has proved itself. Most coeds like its quick efficiency.

However, no rushing program is sufficiently quick nor efficient to merit its functioning each semester—three times yearly for the duration. There simply are not enough women interested in joining sororities to necessitate three rushing periods.

Why not combine the best features of both systems—delayed and immediate—and schedule rushing in alternate semesters?

This would insure enough prospective Greeks to make it worthwhile. This would give coe-saturated sorority women a chance to recover. This would mean that rushing could be conducted with a minimum expenditure of time, money, and energy.

Why not?

It seems to us that fraternity and sorority Hell Weeks should be eliminated, along with floral corsages and extra gas.

We can't see how much character is built or any brotherly spirit and house loyalty fostered by requiring pledges to announce from the roof that all is well every half hour, as one fraternity did Sunday night.

It's about time that pledge training is raised from a high school to a college level.

Three Houses To Hold Progressive Dinner

Miss Zang's talk will be followed with an open question forum. Plans have been made for square dancing, other forms of entertainment, and refreshments.

Freshman committee members include: worship—Elizabeth J. Funkhouser, William Glenn, and Elizabeth Pike; publicity—Jeanette M. Ehlers; social—Harold Ferguson and Louise Ann Ritter.
