

Between The Lions

With DON DAVIS

One Bright Spot

In most respects, athletics have been curtailed under the accelerated Summer semester program. We feel safe in saying, however, that one phase of Penn State's sports program has reached a new high in management and interest. We refer to the present intramural mushball campaign.

Several reasons for the success of the twilight games are evident. A fair and efficient system of playoffs was set up by those in charge of the league. The first part of the schedule was run off for the purpose of classifying the teams into sections which included teams of comparable strength, thus making the competition more interesting for all teams involved.

Of course the after-dinner Summer daylight has been a helpful factor. We also feel that the daily publishing of the team's standings has been a real factor in keeping alive the interest of the various teams. To finish off this program in fitting style, we suggest that the winning fraternity team meet the winning independent team. The victorious team in this battle could then invite the championship mushball squad from a nearby college, such as Bucknell, to travel to this campus for an inter-school intramural contest. Such a game, we feel, would draw considerable campus interest.

This is the sort of weather that makes people wish that the man who invented work had finished it.

Red Raiders To Clash With Lion
Baseball, Golf Teams Here Today

Both Nines Evenly Matched For Twin Bill

Two well-balanced baseball teams will clash at 4 o'clock this afternoon when the Red Raiders from Colgate visit the New Beaver field diamond to oppose the Penn State nine.

Four times this year the boys from Hamilton, N. Y., have stacked against the Lion nine, each team winning two contests. This weekend's twin-bill will mark the fifth and sixth times the Lions and Raiders have met.

No definite lineup can be given for the Nittany squad, for Coach Joe Bedenk shifts left-handed and right-handed hitters when he finds which hand the opposition hurler uses. Strongest prospect to start on the mound this afternoon is Whitey Pyer. Pyer pitched against the Red Raiders before, but Ed Tuleya, now playing in the Lion outfield, has had more experience pitching to the New York stagers.

Jack Weber or Bill Debler will be stationed at first base; Dale Bower or Bill Sidler at second; Whitey Thomas at shortstop; Don Sandercock or Gene Sutherland on third; and George McWilliams behind the plate. In the outfield, Bedenk may use Bob Perugini, Jack Burford, John Sylvester, Bob Bennett, Bob Vail, or Tuleya.

Now would be a swell time for folks to start returning the cups of sugar they've borrowed in the past few years.

Netmen Meet Colgate
Today In First Match
Of Weekend Twin Bill

Still in quest of their initial intercollegiate victory of the Summer season, Coach Ted Roethke's varsity netmen will take to the courts against a heavily favored Colgate tennis squad at 4 p. m. today.

The Lions were turned back by the same Colgate team in their season opener by a 6-3 count. Since then they have won only one match, and that was against a team composed of faculty members.

Tomorrow the Roethkemen will wind up their two-match series with the Red Raiders when they play a second match at 2 p. m. on the College courts.

The Lions have been seriously handicapped in intercollegiate play this season by the fact that only two of their starting six have had any previous varsity experience. Their prospects were dealt another heavy blow at the beginning of the season when they lost Ace Parker, number two star, who was declared ineligible because of a scholastic deficiency.

Several of the schools the Lions have met in competition this season have had a decided advantage over them by virtue of the fact that many of them have relaxed their athletic eligibility requirements for the Summer, and consequently have a greater field from which to draw for varsity material.

The Lion netters still have a good chance to upset the dopesters with a surprise win over the New York lads, if their sophomore newcomers can maintain the improved brand of tennis they have displayed since the beginning of the Summer season.

Cy Hull will start at the lead-off spot for the Blue and White, and Herb Kraybill will follow at the second position. Bill Lundelius, who came through with one of the two Lion victories at Cornell last Saturday, may start at either the third or fourth slots.

Jim Lawther, Dick Armbrust, Stan Spurgeon, and either Horace Smith or Ted Maier will probably see action at the other starting positions.

Football Physical Exam

Allan I. Moses, football manager, stressed again last night that all varsity football players and candidates for the freshman grid squad should report to Dr. Alfred H. Griess, team physician, in the dispensary, sometime before July 31 for their Summer physical. Dr. Griess will be out of town after August 1 and the exam is required so that the candidates may participate in the first scheduled practice August 3.

Linksmen To Defend Undefeated Record

Aiming for another win to bring their winning streak to five matches, the Lion golfers will tackle the Colgate linksmen on the College course at 2 p. m. today.

Coach Rutherford's golfers have not dropped a match this Summer, and have won all of their matches on the regular Spring schedule also. Last time the Penn State men met the Red Raiders, Colgate went down to defeat, 5 1/2-3 1/2.

Lineup for today's meet will include Co captains Dick Stephens and Bill Swan, and probably Dick Hastings, Ed Fairchild, Chuck Maclay and Jim McCormick.

On the course today, Stephens will be gunning for Burns, the only man to defeat him this season. Stephens has been turning in record scores, and posted the medal score in several of the team meets.

Burns defeated Stephens on the Colgate course where Burns has been playing for years. Whether the home course has anything to do with it will be shown on the links this afternoon.

The Lion golfers will meet the team from Colgate again tomorrow on the College course. The extra meet was included because all of the teams coming from Colgate travelled together, and the games were scheduled both Friday and Saturday.

Tekes Clinch Tie
For First Place
In Softball Race

Playing superior ball both at bat and in the field, Tau Kappa Epsilon assured themselves of nothing worse than a tie for the fraternity intramural softball championship last night, when they registered their second win in Section 1 by outplaying a lethargic Phi Sigma Kappa ten, 7-2. Gray, the winning pitcher, allowed only six hits.

Canal St. Firehouse continued their drive for the Independent title, with Art Borsa twirling a four-hitter for a very tight win over Matils, 5-4. Highlight of the game came when Williams, Firehouse center fielder, came over from his center field post to catch a drive deflected over the head of the right fielder for a game saving out.

In Section 5 Alpha Chi Rho had an easy time with the league-leading Kappa Delta Rhos, piling up an overwhelming 12-run lead before the KDRs were able to tally, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon overcame Sigma Phi Alpha, 16-9, though outthit 17 to 12.

Other scores were Electric Diner over Watts Hall, 12-8, Gamma Sigma Phi romping over Beaver House, 6-5, and a 6 to 5 win for Delta Sigma Phi over Alpha Sigma Phi.
